To Modernize Pumping Station At Upper Falls At Cost Of $185,000

Aldermen Vote To Appropriate Sum at Meeting Held Last Monday Night

At the meeting of the Newton Aldermen on Monday night an appropriation of $185,000 was made for remodeling and re-equipping the pumping station of the Newton Water Department at Needham street, Newton Upper Falls. The only alderman to vote against the appropriation was Alderman Temperley. He said he has been interested in the water supply question for over 25 years and during that time the city has spent about $2,000,000 on the system. He quoted Mayor Weeks as having said in the inaugural address that Newton, in the past, had used a "penny wise and pound foolish" method regarding its water system. Mr. Temperley argued that not until during a recess called at the meeting of the Board on Monday night were the Aldermen acquainted with any of the details of the improvements at the pumping station which call for the expenditure of $185,000. He said that few of the Aldermen knew anything about the details other than what they had heard tonight at the meeting as a committee of the whole. He told of his knowledge of Newton Boards of Aldermen for the past 35 years and asserted that former Boards, comprised of experienced business men would not pass any large appropriation without proper knowledge of details, and it was the practice to give each alderman on those Boards printed or typewritten copies of matters involving large appropriations. Temperley said he had asked Water Commissioner Ellis three months ago for information regarding the pumping station work and received no details. He had also inquired of a member of the special committee on Water Supply for details, and received no enlightenment. He said that a Board of Directors in any large corporation would not act without adequate information, and the Aldermen should not appropriate large sums of money taken from taxpayers without more knowledge of what they are voting for. He remarked "never to my knowledge has a big amount like this been expended with so little information."

will give the city an up-to-date pumping station capable of delivering 8,000,000 gallons of water daily, and that by installing this system, the city in 20 years will have saved the cost. Alderman Ball, chairman of the committee on water supply said that by installing electrically operated pumps and purchasing current from the Edison Company, much money might be saved at the present, but by installing its own pumps and turbines to generate electricity, the city will save $5000 a year eventually, and these savings will be more after the 15th year. Ball said during the 10 years he has been a member of the special committee on water supply, this committee has leaned over backwards and invited any member of the Boards of Aldermen to sit in at any time and offer suggestions. He commented that while Temperley has the right to obtain information, he had not asked any from him. Ball said he would defy any member of the Aldermen to take a copy of the details of the proposed improvements at the pumping station and read it intelligently as it takes brains to do so. Alderman Ball stated that the Newton Water Department is today furnishing more and better water than ever before. The proposed equipment will provide additional water supply; it will provide 8,000,000 gallons daily and make it unnecessary to purchase so much water from the Metropolitan water system. Ball explained that it costs $110 per million gallons for water so purchased and it is estimated that it will cost the city only $30 for each million gallons it will get from its own supply. He said that the bids for the equipment have been received without prejudice and he contended that if the special committee on water supply had not been appointed in 1926, so bad had the condition of the Newton water supply become, that this city would not now be using its own water supply and the citizens would be up in arms. Alderman Temperley resented Alderman Gallagher's remark that he is an obstructionist. He said he merely wants to get proper information on a matter involving so large an appropriation. Alderman Bowen, who holds an important engineering position with the Telephone Company, said that while he is not a member of the special committee on water, he knows that Water Commissioner Ellis and George Sampson of Newton, consulting engineer on water supply engaged by the City of Newton, had made an exhaustive study on this matter and in his belief the methods they pursued and the results they arrived at are correct. Bowen said that in his opinion the city will save not $5000 yearly, but more than $8000 by installing the proposed equipment, rather than rely on electric current purchased from the Edison Company. With Temperley the only alderman voting in the negative, the Board voted to appropriate the $185,000.

Rev. P. J. Waters, Ph.D. Appointed To South Boston

Native of Newton Centre Has Distinguished Career

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Waters of Newton Centre have been the recipients during the past week of numerous congratulations, owing to the fact that one of their sons, the Reverend Patrick J. Waters Ph.D., has been assigned to the pastorate of St. Eulalia's Church in the City Point section of Boston.

Dr. Waters was born in Newton Centre and educated in the Newton Schools. After graduating from Newton High School, he entered Boston College, and upon completing his College Course, went to St. John's Seminary, Brighton, to study for the priesthood. After a five years' course in philosophy and theology Father Waters was ordained and continued his education at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C., from which institution he was graduated with degree of Doctor of Philosophy. During his stay in Washington, he was Secretary to the late Bishop Shahan, then rector of the University. Returning from Washington he was assigned by his Eminence Cardinal O'Connell to St. John's Seminary, Brighton, as Professor of Philosophy, and later Professor of Theology, which positions he has held for twenty-one years. Aside from his teaching at the Seminary, Father Waters spent nine years as an instructor of Philosophy at Emmanuel College, The Fenway, Boston.

He has frequently been heard during the WNAC Catholic Truth Radio Period during the past few years. Dr. Waters is the Diocesan Censor of Literature, is the Spiritual Director of the Common Cause Society of Boston, the Director and Instructor of the Catholic Truth Guild, an Organization of young Greater Boston men appointed for open air discussions, and Secretary of St. John's Seminary, Brighton. They are both in excellent health, and reside at 84 Clinton place where Father Waters and his six brothers and two sisters were born.

CHRISTAFARO LOW BIDDER ON WATER MAIN

Bids for the laying of the large water main along Boylston street at Upper Falls and Newton Highlands were opened Wednesday morning by Water Commissioner Ellis. D. Christafaro of Boston was low bidder at $32,230; other bidders were in order—John Williams, L. P. Frederico, John McDonald Construction Company. Less than $1500 separated the two lower bids. No award has been made as yet.

PET DOG FOILS THIEVES

A French poodle owned by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Packard of Homestead street, Waban, prevented a robbery at that house on Wednesday morning at 3 when his barking awakened Mr. Packard. They jumped into the car which was speeded away. A screen door at the rear of the house had been jimmied when the dog started his burlar alarm.

Protests Gravel Pit Nuisance at Lower Falls

Alderman Gallagher Urges That City Seize Pit

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to renew for another year the permit of the Woodland Sand & Gravel Company to operate the pit at Washington street, Newton Lower Falls, near Beacon street. On a voice vote, the only voices heard to vote against this renewal were those of Aldermen Gallagher and Holden. Alderman Holden told his colleagues that by voting to allow continued operation of this pit they are not erasing a scar which is one of several defacing this city.

Alderman Gallagher said, "I don't know who owns this pit; whether the bank which held a mortgage on it, or someone else. But, one of the latest things we ever did was to allow the digging of this huge hole, and to continue to allow it to be excavated more." He stated that the operators of this pit had agreed to fill one end of it to a width of 10 feet last year and are to be given a renewal of their permit with a promise to fill much less this year. He said they are just dumping an occasional load in the alleged refilling process. He argued that even if they keep their agreement and fill in a 10 foot strip of the gigantic hole each year, it will take from 50 to 65 years to fill this eyesore, even if they were not allowed to dig any more material there. He said it is high time the city should seize the pit, stop any more excavating there, and have it filled as rapidly as possible. He said the city collects no refuse material which can be dumped at this pit and he cited the conditions at the North street dump in Newtonville as a horrible example. This dump, on the site of an abandoned gravel pit, is not alone an eyesore but a health menace.

Alderman Gordon defended the action of the Aldermen in renewing the permit by saying that to refuse to allow continued operation of the pit would lessen the probability of any filling of it. He said the owners of the pit have promised to plant pine trees along its borders at the North street dump in Newtonville as a horrible example. This dump, on the site of an abandoned gravel pit, is not alone an eyesore but a health menace.

Mayor Weeks Calls Halt on Zoning Change

Aldermen Were to Change Residence to Business Zone

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the Claims & Rules Committee recommended that the Zoning Ordinance be changed so that a lot of land at 925 Chestnut street would be changed from single residence to business zone. This lot abuts a gasoline filling station which will have considerable of its area on Boylston street taken because of the construction of the Worcester turnpike. The owners of the filling station desire to obtain the Chestnut St. lot, on which is located a single residence, so that they can transfer the filling station to this lot. The owner of the lot wants the zoning changed so the sale can be made. As the change would bring business onto Chestnut street, north of Boylston street, owners of adjacent residences have protested. It has been the policy of this city not to make zoning changes for individual lots. With the coming of the Worcester turnpike a number of attempts have been made to change residence zones along Boylston street to business zones.

It was announced at the meeting on Monday night that Mayor Weeks did not approve of this proposed change in zoning until he will have a conference with the full Board on this matter. It was therefore referred back to the Claims & Rules Committee for further investigation.

Gasoline Tank Permit Granted At Oak Hill

Aldermen Give Permit To Gravel Co. Over Protests

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night granted a permit to the Highland Sand & Gravel Company to install a 1000 gallon gasoline tank at the end of Wiswall road at Oak Hill, and to erect a pump there. The majority of the Licenses Committee had reported adversely against granting this permit; the members so voting including Aldermen Farrell, Holden, Smith, Sproat and Temperley. The Aldermen who voted in the minority were Hawkins and Hill. At the meeting on Monday night Alderman Hawkins stated that the gravel company needs the tank to provide gasoline for its equipment at the pit. Alderman Jamieson amplified Hawkins' explanation by arguing that a gasoline tank at the pit in Oak Hill is as much a part of the gravel company's equipment as its steam shovels. He said the gravel company uses 200 gallons of gasoline each day for the steam shovels and other equipment at the pit. Now it is necessary for a tank wagon to come to the pit each day, whereas, according to Jamieson a wagon will have to come only twice in two weeks and will enable the gravel company to buy gasoline much cheaper. The Ward 7 alderman said that some of the Board believe that if the tank and pump are allowed at the pit, gasoline will be sold for the big trucks which go to the place, but this would be something for the State authorities to take up. Jamieson stated that there was no opposition to the petition when it was given a hearing at the previous meeting of the Aldermen.

Alderman Temperley took exception to this last remark of Jamieson's. He said that at the preceding meeting he had raised objections; had questioned Mr. Wilbur, owner of the gravel company, and had ascertained from the City Solicitor that if a permit for a tank is granted, it will become a permanent privilege for this commercial adjunct in a single residence zone. He called attention to the contention of former Attorney General Herbert Parker who had asserted to the Aldermen at the preceding meeting, when that attorney appeared for a petition seeking for the extension of a non-conforming use, whereby a small filling station in a residence zone would be evolved into a large filling station, that such a permit must be granted, and the petition was merely presented as a matter of courtesy. Temperley said that he is an alderman from Ward 5, in which Oak Hill is located, and he reminded the Aldermen of the many complaints Oak Hill residents have made regarding the nuisance they claim the gravel pit and resultant heavy trucking has caused. He stated that at a previous meeting the Aldermen had practically placed the gravel company on probation as a result of these protests by limiting the renewal of its permit to operate to 6 months, and yet it is proposed to create future trouble for Oak Hill residents by allowing a permanent gasoline tank and pump installation. Mr. Temperley suggested that inasmuch as the gravel company has managed to get along for several years without such a tank, now that the work is well completed, and can manage well by having a portable tank wagon on the property, which will not entail a permanent installation.

Alderman Holden said that he had been influenced to vote against a permit for the tank because of an argument by Alderman Sproat in the committee conference; Sproat having argued that inasmuch as the Claims & Rules Committee had only granted a 6 month renewal for the operation of the pit, the Licenses Committee should not recommend a permanent permit there. Alderman Grebenstein suggested that Mr. Wilbur be consulted to ascertain if he will agree to remove the tank and pump when he ceases to operate the pit. Alderman Jamieson answered for Mr. Wilbur by saying that the petitioner had expressed such an agreement. He also offered the argument that to grant the permit will end the need of a truck going with gasoline to the pit each day, and will thus relieve the truck traffic nuisance at Oak Hill (by one truck a day). Alderman Ball suggested that the City Solicitor be consulted to learn if such a condition can be imposed. Alderman Smith asked that the matter be referred back to the Licenses Committee for further consideration. This was agreed upon.

When the Board reconvened after the recess the Licenses Committee had reversed its decision on this matter. Alderman Smith had changed his mind; so had Alderman Sproat, whose argument had influenced Alderman Holden to vote against the petition. The members of the committee who continued to oppose the permit were Farrell, Holden and Temperley. Alderman Temperley said he was influenced in still voting against the permit because City Solicitor Bartlett had told the Aldermen during the recess that any promise of the petitioner to remove the tank when work at the gravel pit will stop, carries no weight and has no legal import. Notwithstanding this ruling, only Aldermen Farrell, Holden and Temperley voted against the granting of the permit, and the tank and pump will be installed at Oak Hill.

Newton's Tax Rate $25. Welcome Reduction Despite Lower Total Valuation

Mayor Weeks' Policy of Economy in City Administration Redounds to Benefit of City's Taxpayers

Mayor Sinclair Weeks of Newton today announced the greatest tax reduction the city has had in nearly a dozen years, when he made public the new 1932 rate of $25.00 per thousand, as determined by the Board of Assessors. The rate is $1.60 less than last year's figure of $26.60, making it the lowest for any municipality in the state. Newton's reduction in taxes was accomplished despite the fact that property valuations have been reduced through revaluations and abatements of the Board of Assessors more than two and one-half million dollars. This has been offset by practically the same increase from new buildings, leaving the net property valuations about the same as a year ago.

Economy and efficiency in government of the city's affairs is credited with making the extraordinary reduction possible. In making the announcement, Mayor Weeks lauded the members of the Board of Aldermen and executives of the various city departments for their continuous co-operative efforts in keeping down expenses. This is the second year that Mayor Weeks has announced a reduction in Newton taxes. They were cut sixty cents in 1931 and this year's pruning knife lopped off more than double that amount. The present figure brings them down below the city tax level of 1922 when the rate was $25.40.

Reduction in valuation on personal property was announced at $644,550; reduction in real estate valuations, $1,867,600, making a total reduction in valuations of $2,512,150 from last year's figure. New construction however, listed and valued by the Assessors during the present year, the Mayor announced, makes the city's net valuation approximately equal to that reported in 1931. The total real and personal property valuation of the city for 1932 is announced as $165,238,700, which, based on total polls, gives Newton a per capita valuation of $2,493.

The Newton tax record under Mayor Weeks is considered all the more praiseworthy because of the fact that expenditures in the city's public welfare department are running 100 per cent over 1930 and Soldiers' Relief payments are nearly 300 per cent greater than they were two years ago. Moreover, there has been a 23 per cent reduction in the city's receipts from state income tax, 40 per cent reduction in receipts from corporation taxes, and 22 per cent in motor excise taxes.

"Tax relief for property owners at the present time is absolutely necessary," declared Mayor Weeks in announcing the rate. "Our city is in splendid financial condition, and all departments are maintaining the necessary public services in an efficient and up-to-date manner. We are, however, like every other community carrying an extra burden caused by the unemployment of many of our citizens, and to offset this extraordinary expense, we will continue to practice the strictest economy. The continuation of department heads, and the insistence on economy displayed by the Newton Board of Aldermen, is responsible for the record which is reflected in this year's tax rate."

While all of this is most gratifying, it is not by any means enough," Mayor Weeks said. "Cost of government everywhere must come down. It will continue to cost less in Newton, and I am certain that economy and careful planning will bring about another tax reduction next year, and the years to come, until the cost has reached the level that tax payers can afford to pay without extending themselves."

"During the past two years, Newton has been carrying on a two million dollar building program, handling its own relief problems, and maintaining an extensive system of water supply and street improvements on a budget reduced from $4,849,000 to $4,535,000. It has cut its tax rate from $27.20 to the present figure of $25, has collected 97 per cent of its current taxes, and has reduced the cost of loans by borrowing money only when needed, and at rates now as low as 1.36 per cent."

"Its system of saving on the little items, which has been referred to as 'woodpecking,' is responsible for much of the city's happy situation. Savings are being made in the purchase of both services and supplies, printing and equipment costs were cut down, elaborate reports of department heads were edited and boiled down before being sent to the printer, and their number cut to absolute requirements. Requisitions for office supplies were held to actual needs, fuel purchases of city and schools were consolidated to obtain more advantageous prices, and all along the line Newton's money is being spent as if it were the money of a business corporation organized for profit."

PARROT GOES A. W. O. L.

The call of the wild continues to lure West Newton bird pets. Several weeks ago a score of canaries escaped from their quarters at a house on Randlett Park. Most of them were captured again. On Monday a parrot took leave of his home at the residence of Mrs. Emma Travelli, 173 Chestnut street. Monday night the bird was located high up in a tree near Temple street, but he refused to yield to blandishments of members of Mrs. Travelli's household and remained on the tree until Tuesday when an employee of the bird's owner succeeded in luring the bird to the ground, whence he was taken back to his home.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON WINS FIRST GAME IN INTER-CITY SERIES

Although outbid by a two-to-one margin Newton captured the first game of the inter-city series with Waltham last Monday night at Claffin Field with a 3 to 1 victory in a six-inning game which was halted by darkness. The game was played before one of the largest gatherings of twilight baseball fans in local sport history, with about an equal number from each of the two cities. The enthusiasm and excitement which any contest between Newton and Waltham sports teams evoked was paramount, and the inter-city series may well become a permanent feature in the future.

Each team was a composite team of players chosen from the teams represented in the city league in the two cities. The second game in the series will be played tonight at Bicycle Park, Waltham, where the Watch City nine will be the hosts. In case a third game is necessary the scene and date of the affair will be decided later.

In Monday night's game Charlie Gallagher of Our Lady High fame was the outstanding performer, with a home run and a single which accounted for two of the Newton runs. The other came as the result of a pass and error. No one was out the time of Gallagher's circuit clout as he was the first batter in the second inning. In the fourth inning his single and a long fly by Sam McLeary which went for a double was good for the final tally. These three hits were all that Newton could collect off the three Waltham City twirlers who took the mound.

Waltham put Newton on edge at the start of the game by scoring its sole tally in the first inning after two were out. In practically every inning the visitors threatened, and Jim (Porky) Murphy, another of Our Lady High stars of the past schoolboy season, and Cliff Choquette, Newton High sophomore star, had to bear down to pull out of every hole. The Waltham batters connected for six hits, with Pat Ryan leading the way with two hits in two times at bat.

Davey Nolan and Stumpf, who started at shortstop and centerfield for Waltham, were retired in the first, bringing Jimmy Hanney, Waltham Town Team star first sacker, at bat. Murphy went to work on the Watch City star, but Hanney started the excitement with a scorching line single to right centre. He promptly stole second with Charlie Gumbert, third baseman, at bat. Gumbert hit to Warren Huston, Newton shortstop, who pegged perfectly to first, where Bob Collins juggled the throw. Gumbert was safe and Hanney raced all the way home on the play to chalk up the first tally. The episode seemed to upset Murphy and he walked Pat Ryan and Town Walsh to fill the bases. In the face of this serious threat Murphy fanned, Frankie Collins to end the frame.

Benny Martowski, Waltham High captain the past season, got by the first inning without difficulty, as did Murphy in the second inning with the exception of Nolan's single after two were out. Charlie Gallagher was the first batter for Newton in this inning, and, picking out a straight fast ball, he connected on the nose for his home run to right centre. The ball rolled all the way down the cinder track, allowing Gallagher plenty of time to complete the circuit and knot the score.

In the third inning Murphy walked Gumbert, and Ryan's single put runners on second and third, but the Newton twirler worked out of the tough spot. Newton took a one-run lead in its half, with Johnny Mullen drawing a walk from Martowski and stealing second. While two runners were being tossed out at first Mullen reached third and scored when Nolan threw wild to first. As Waltham failed to knot the count again Martowski became the losing pitcher.

Murphy controlled the situation in the first of the fourth, although a single and a pass put two runners on base. In the last half of the frame Newton counted the final run of the game as Laddy Ryan took over the pitching duties. Gallagher, the first batter to face Ryan, laced a hot-shot at Third Baseman Gumbert which the latter could not handle, and the hit went for a single. After Collins had been retired McCleary sent a long fly to left which Pat Ryan misjudged, and the ball fell safe for a second out, and Gallagher dented the rubber. Laddy Ryan then checked Newton for the night. In the fifth he fanned two and made the third batter roll out.

Cliff Choquette went to the mound at the opening of the fifth. Gumbert drew a walk and Pat Ryan connected for his second single and the Waltham fans were anticipating a rally. Choquette settled down, however, and fanned the next three batters in a row. In the sixth Teddy Beck, who relieved Stumpf in centerfield, singled, but, with two down, the usually reliable Gumbert rolled out to first to end the game.

Manager Donahue of the Newton team is ready for tonight's game at Bicycle Park, Waltham. Hokanson and Sullivan will probably be the starting battery for Newton, with Murphy, Moran and Choquette ready for relief work. "Nipper" Maher will umpire behind the plate with John "Gyp" Lawless on bases.

Miss Rice Loses

Miss Virginia Rice, former Newton Centre girl, lost her second round match in the women's singles tennis tournament at Easthampton, N. Y., on Tuesday and was eliminated from the tournament. She won her first round match on Monday defeating Anne Page of Philadelphia, 7-5, 6-4. She met Josephine Cruikshank on Tuesday and after a long first set battle lost to the California player, 8-6, 6-1.

TWO-LEAGUE RACE IS STILL CLOSE— TWO TEAMS TIED

The race in the Newton twilight league continues to be as close as any amateur baseball fan could desire with the Silver Lake A. C. and the Newton Cubs deadlocked in first place. The Highlands A. A. is right on the heels of the leaders but a half game behind while the Newton Y. M. C. A. team is also still in the running in fourth place, only a full game behind the leaders.

In the second division Auburndale and West Newton seem like the most likely teams to figure in the play-off for second division honors. Auburndale displaced the West Newton Town Team the past week and held undisputed possession of sixth place. Two important games to be played next week which will practically decide the first three positions in the race or result in deadlocks for preliminary honors are those between the Y. M. C. A. and the Highlands at the Y. M. C. A. next Wednesday and the Cubs and Silver Lake at Cabot Park on Friday.

Games next week are:

Monday
Highlands vs Nonantum B. C. at Highlands.
Silver Lake vs West Newton at Cabot Town Team vs Upper Falls at Victory.

Tuesday
West Newton vs Auburndale at West Newton.
Nonantum B. C. vs Cubs at Victory.
Y. M. C. A. vs Upper Falls at Y. M. C. A.

Wednesday
Cubs vs Lower Falls at Cabot (Re-play of protested game)
Upper Falls vs Town Team at Upper Falls.

Thursday
Town Team vs Y. M. C. A. at Victory.
Auburndale vs Lower Falls at Auburndale.

Friday
Lower Falls vs Highlands at Lower Falls.
Cubs vs Silver Lake at Cabot.
Town Team vs West Newton at Victory.

Martin Defends Title

Donald Martin of West Newton is defending his title in the senior tennis singles Southern New Hampshire tournament at the Cynnet Boat and Tennis Club at Manchester this week. Yesterday Martin reached the semi-finals along with Jack Nelson of Manchester and the Fuller brothers, Herbert and Edward, of Salem. Arthur Noble of Newton Centre was eliminated in his quarter-final match with Herbert Fuller. Malcolm Clarke, another local youth also participated in the tourney. In the doubles Martin, paired with Lawrence Freeburn of Winchester, won first and second round matches as did Arthur Noble who is playing with Paul Guibord of Melrose, Greater Boston High School champion. Malcolm Clarke and Pattison won in the first round but lost to Noble and Guibord in the second round.

Hunter Loses In Semi-Finals

Bobby Hunter of Albemarle reached the semi-finals of the State Junior golf tourney last week before he was eliminated by Dick Ruggles of Stony Brook, the ultimate champion. Hunter entered the semi-final round by defeating Fred Baker of Thorny Lea, 6 and 5 before meeting Ruggles in the afternoon. Ruggles opened up at a fast clip to win the first three holes and although Hunter rallied intermittently to gain a hole or two Ruggles opened up again at the 12th to win three straight holes and end the match at the 14th with 5 and 4. On Saturday Ruggles met Edward Peterson of Oakley and won by the comfortable margin of 6 and 4.

EAST BAY LODGE

East Bay Lodge is located in that part of the Town of Barnstable on the south side of Cape Cod, called Osterville, the home of the artist and the delight of all who love the beauties of Old Cape Cod. In this beautiful spot with its gorgeous flowers, wooded grounds, and its confusion of land and creeks, is it any wonder that guests return again to the Lodge? Mr. Charles Brown, the proprietor, is a congenial host, a typical example of the true hospitable New Englander.

East Bay Lodge has one of the best clay tennis courts on Cape Cod, also croquet, and pool. There is an excellent eighteen-hole golf course but a short distance from the Lodge. There are no better or more attractive waters for sailing or fishing than those of Vineyard Sound, and East Bay is perfectly safe for children to row or sail. In addition to these amusements the Lodge offers every comfort and convenience topped with the best of efficient service and an excellent cuisine.

From the Hindu

"Thug" is a Hindu word originally applied to a member of an organization of religious assassins bound to secret murder in the service of the Hindu goddess of destruction, Kali, and suppressed by the British about 1835.

TONING HIM UP

The druggist had left his counter in charge of a youthful assistant. This young man being of a highly ingenious turn of mind it was not without some inward trepidation that the druggist learned upon his return that the assistant had been confronted in the interval with the case of a man, who had failed to get the better of an argument with a steam roller.

"What on earth did you do?" gasped the druggist.

"Gave him nerve tonic," was the reply.

"Nerve tonic? Why that, in the name of goodness?"

"Run down and depressed," was the reply.

Just Like Him

They were on a farmhouse holiday, and after the first night Smith rose early and in a very bad temper.

"I've had practically no sleep," he complained to his wife. "Those beastly roosters have been crowing out there in the barn since dawn. Heaven knows why!"

"Well, darling," murmured his wife, sweetly, "once when you got up early, you crowed about it for at least a week."

Tire Talk

Bobby and Mary had been playing in the yard with their little friends. Suddenly they stopped playing and slowly and quietly came into the house. Mother watched them with interest for awhile and as they did not return to their play asked why they had left.

"Aw," said Bobby, "they talk just like the men do when they change an automobile tire."

The Reminder

Judge—My man, you are a habitual offender, and I find it my duty to send you up for a third term.

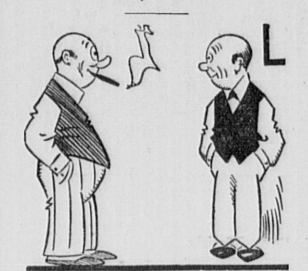

Prisoner—A third term, Your Honor? Haven't you ever heard of the Washington precedent?—Pathfinder Magazine.

Modern Youth

Honey—That boy you were riding with has trouble with his vision.

Ruth—Yeah, he sees parking spots before his eyes.

OH, JOY!

"What is your idea of the simple life?"

"Being allowed to sit around in my shirt sleeves; my boy, especially in the summer."

A Heavy One

It was approaching midnight and the young man still hovered around the door. The stillness was suddenly shattered by a loud crash upstairs.

"Gracious, dear," said the timid swain, "what could that be?"

"Oh," replied the miss, "that's just papa dropping a hint."

He Knows

"My husband is merely a manufacturer of waste baskets," sighed the woman with aspirations. "It seems such a prosy occupation."

"On the contrary, there is really much poetry in waste baskets," replied the unappreciated poet.

Victim of the Times

Mrs. A.—I suppose you are going to spend the summer at the resort, as usual.

Mrs. B.—No. It's no fun spending the summer there if that's all one has to spend.

Intangible Influences

"Are you afraid of ghosts?"

"Not the kind discussed in psychic research," answered Senator Sorghum. "But I must admit these intangible boys, known as ghost writers, sometimes scare me a little."

NOT EVEN SARDINES

"Did your husband bring home any fish?"

"No. I understand William had had luck on this trip. He got into a game of cards and lost the money he took with him to buy fish."

Proof Enough

Visitor (to angler at riverside)—Is this a good place for fish?

Angler—Yes, I never see any of them leave it.—London Tit-Bits.

Never Makes a Mistake

"You say he's very sure of him self?"

"Is he? Why, he always does crosswords with a pen!"

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

During the discussion at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night regarding the appropriation of $185,000 for improvements at the pumping station, one member of the Special Committee on Water Supply asserted that this committee has always leaned backwards in acquainting the other members of the Aldermen with its activities. This assertion struck the writer as funny. Because, we distinctly remembered that at the first regular meeting of the Aldermen on January 18th of this year (not counting the inaugural meeting on January 1st, at which little regular business was transacted), the Special Committee on Water Supply urged the Board, and with success, to make a large appropriation for the purchase of a large area of land at Needham. This land, running parallel to the Charles River was for addition to the existing water reservation lands, and its purpose to increase and protect Newton's water supply. This recommendation of the Water Supply Committee had to obtain the approval of the Public Works Committee and the Finance Committee before it could be presented to the Board. It was rushed through at the meeting at which it was presented, despite the fact that most of the members of the Board had no prior knowledge of the details concerning the purchase of this land. We believe the purchase of this land is a good investment and are not criticizing it. However, the writer was a member of the Public Works Committee of the Aldermen for the two years preceding January 1, 1932. He had absolutely no knowledge of the contemplated purchase of the land acquired. At one meeting in 1931 the Chairman of the Special Committee on Water Supply had mentioned that it was contemplated to acquire additional land, but no more details were given. As a result of this land purchase, members of the Public Works Committee demanded that they have more knowledge, before the last minute, of matters involving the water supply; matters which have to receive the approval of the Public Works Committee before they can be favorably acted upon. Of the three members then comprising the special committee on water, none was a member of the Public Works Committee. The outcome was that two members of the Public Works Committee, Aldermen Murray and Chase were added to the Special Committee on Water Supply, which had been comprised of Aldermen Ball, Gallagher and Jamieson.

Residents of Newton Upper Falls and Newton Highlands have, so far, received little satisfaction from their protests about the absence of street lights along Boylston street. Since the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company started operating cars over this street more than 30 years ago, the lighting of the highway was done by this company. The lights were woefully inadequate, but they prevented the street from being in complete darkness. Since the company abandoned the use of the electric cars, prior to the starting of work in converting the highway into the new Worcester turnpike, the street has been without lights. Alderman Temperley conferred with Street Commissioner Stuart on this matter, but was told that the city cannot install lights until the work on the turnpike construction will have been finished. This would mean that residents of Upper Falls and Newton Highlands using the street, would have to endure dangerous conditions for about a year. Mr. Temperley is endeavoring to have temporary lights placed along the street. Persons who use the street at night, especially pedestrians, contend that adequate police protection should be provided while the street is unlighted.

With $185,000 to be spent on improvements at the pumping station of the Water Department, and a sum estimated at more than 75,000 to be expended for new water mains, including the big one along the Worcester turnpike, it is improbable that rates on Newton water will be decreased this year.

During the discussion at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night on the matter of appropriating $185,000 for improvements at the pumping station of the Water Department, Alderman Gallagher said that he and his fellow members on the Committee on Water Supply had "worked like dogs." This old adage originated in Europe, where dogs really work, and work hard. "Working like a dog" and "leading a dog's life," don't mean much to people in this country where the ordinary canine just loaf and lives a life of ease. The only work the average dog in the United States performs is when he gets busy after fleas. The writer has on many nights, in past years, hiked through fields in the country with Alderman Gallagher listening to hounds as they chased some fox. But, that wasn't work for those dogs. It was sport.

Correct Again

The schoolmaster was interesting his class of boys in Red Indians. "What do we call the leader of the tribes, Smith?" he asked. "Chiefs, sir." "Quite correct. And what do we call the Red Indian woman, Jones?" was the next question. Jones hesitated, then said, "Well . . . mischiefs, sir."—London Sporting and Dramatic News.

Airplane Idea in 1640

The airplane and submarine were thought of in the middle of the Seventeenth century. This was declared by J. E. Rees, principal of the University of South Wales. He referred to a book written about 1640 by Lord Herbert Raglan. The title is "A Century of Invention," and the volume contains 100 suggestions, among them being ideas for airplanes and submarines.

Humble Coney Referred to Twice in Scriptures

Psalms 104:18 tells us that—"The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats; and the rocks for the conies," for the coney has no strong digging claws as has the rabbit, nor has it the powerful hindquarters of the hare. In fact it is classed amongst the most defenseless creatures of the wild, and as such it is referred to in the thirtieth chapter of the Book of Proverbs:

"There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wise. The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer. The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make their houses in the rocks. The locusts have no king yet they forth all of them by hands. The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in king's palaces."

The wisdom of the coney is shown in the choice it makes of a place for its home, which is usually among a heap, or a lot of fixed and loose rocks among which it hides and about which it moves very elusively when disturbed, as travelers who try to catch one of them soon find out.—Montreal Herald.

Ear Coloring an Index of Health in Children

Experts in child welfare research advise parents to look at their children's ears for an indication of the general state of their health. The ears, it is revealed, indicate the condition of the child's blood about as well as any known scientific test.

Here's the secret, as stated in non-scientific terms by Nell B. Nichols of the Woman's Home Companion: "When the ears are pink, the child has a goodly amount of hemoglobin in his blood. If they are pale and colorless, action is in order. The doctor's opinion must be sought and meals planned with the child's health in mind. This means that the meals will contain an abundance of green leafy vegetables, egg yolk, red meats, the dark meat of poultry and liver. Milk has been considered low in iron, and unfairly so for the comparatively small amount that it has in a pure form which is readily used by the body."

Loaves Given Away

Many customs, centuries old, survive in European countries. One of these is the practice at Kyritz, Germany, of distributing hot rolls on the anniversary of the capture of a notorious robber. The bandit terrorized the countryside at one period of the Middle Ages. He and his men would accost any traveler who appeared worth robbing, and at times descend upon towns to carry off booty and hostages. Then they would take to the hills, where their knowledge enabled them to defy pursuers. After slipping away many times he was finally run down and captured. In celebration of the event the

CONSIDERATE

He came down to breakfast and met an inquiring wife.
"Henry," she said meaningly, "didn't I hear the clock in the hall strike two o'clock just as you came home last night?"
"You did, my dear," he calmly replied.
"Then—" she commenced.
"One moment, my dear," he interrupted. "Just as I returned last night the clock was about to strike eleven, but I stopped it so that it should not awake you."

TOUGH TIMES

"Well, old man, how are things?"
"Bad, with skirts lower this year a fellow has a hard time getting a square meal."

Reprieved!

Brown—I've just come from my dentist's.
Jones—Is that anything to laugh about?
Brown—Yes—he wasn't in and won't be for two days.—Boston Transcript.

In Never-Never Land

It may be an old one, but Dr. Thomas B. Kelleher of Denver tells us of a weary youngster's retort to a nagging mother.

"Where," demanded the mother, "would you be if it weren't for me?"
"I don't know," wailed the child, "but I wish you were there."—Collier's Weekly.

Always Exceptions

"Some of the demonstrations following your speech were not entirely favorable."
"I was painfully aware of that fact," answered Senator Sorghum.
"However, you still have friends."
"Yes. Fortunately, you can't displease everybody."

Including Night Clubs

Mother—Now, do you know where bad little girls go to?
Dorothy—Oh, yes—they go about everywhere.

CAUSE OF SOURNESS

Frog—What's the matter with Bugs, that he looks so sour?
Mosquito—He got too hungry last night to be particular and he bit an old maid who was at a lawn party.

Helpful

"Where have you been?"
"To a convention of chiefs of police."
"And what did the chiefs say about all these murders and holdups?"
"They had some good ideas about traffic regulation!"

Same Old Story

Miss Moody Wins Paramount Movie Star Contest

Estelle Moody, daughter of Mrs. Ada Lyon of School street, Watertown, on Monday evening was judged to be the best adapted to take the part of the "Panther Woman," and will represent the Paramount Theatre of Newton in the New England section of the national contest now being conducted by the Public theatres of the country. Miss Moody is 19 years of age, a graduate of the Watertown High School, Class of '30, and has been a student at the Fisher Manhattan School of Boston and of the Boston School of Practical Arts.

ESTELLE MOODY

The other girls who took part in the contest were Effie Mullet of Watertown, Billie Olcott of Newtonville, Betty Chapin of Newton Centre, Marjorie Jones of Waban, Janet Toohill of Newton, Eleanor Lovegren of Belmont, Peggy Mansfield of Newton Centre, and Carmela Tedeski of Newton. There was also a judging of the entrants of the Needham district, the award for which went to Mayola Wall of Needham.

The judges were Mr. Louis A. Bachrach of Newton, Maurice Masters of Boston and Mr. A. A. St. Pierre, a well known artist of the theatrical profession. The decision was made on the adaptability of the contestant to take the part of the title role in H. G. Wells' story, "The Island of Lost Souls," which will be filmed this fall. The local contest was conducted by Manager Snyder of the Paramount Theatre.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. John Bradford Hunter of 111 Kirkstall road, Newtonville, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Friday, July 29th, at a buffet supper at their home. Only the immediate relatives were present, which included Mr. and Mrs. Lester B. Hunter and children, John and Robert Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy F. Hunter, Dr. and Mrs. Harold A. Chamberlin and children, Dorothy and Harold Chamberlin, Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Maintain and their daughter, Jean Maintain, and Mrs. Hunter's sister, Mrs. Walter P. Marsh, and daughter, Miss Estelle G. Marsh. This included Mr. and Mrs. Hunter's sons, daughters and 6 grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Guy F. Hunter's month-old son, Guy, Jr., was represented by a handsome bouquet of roses, which they presented to Mrs. Hunter.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hunter's parents celebrated their 50th anniversaries—Mrs. Hunter being the only one of five children to celebrate her golden wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter are extremely fortunate in having all their children and grandchildren living near them. A unanimous vote was cast that a similar reunion be held in celebration of their 75th anniversary.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"Sing, sing,
Sing when you're weary and sing when you're blue,
Sing, sing,
That's what you taught all the white folks to do."

Visitors to the Children's Museum of Boston are reading the above verse in a recently installed exhibit of the Old South with a deeper realization that the lesson is good to learn. The case contains darkey dolls in the midst of gay pictures, and miniature cotton bales carry an atmosphere of the sunny Southland. There are the vegetable sellers in bright prints balancing heavily laden baskets on their heads and carrying others on their arms, the gray-haired spectacled mammy in crisp white cuffs, neckerchief and apron cradling the little white baby in her arms, the cotton picker in the field carrying the huge bundle of cotton on her head, the "midnight visitor" wearing a ragged, crownless straw hat with a big white rooster tucked under his arm and a bag slung over his back through which some suspicious looking feathers are showing.

The motion picture lecture for the week of August 8 through August 13 is called "Anchors Aweigh" in which interesting close-ups of our Navy are shown.

The last Field Trip of the season will be taken Wednesday, August 10, to Turtle Pond, Stony Brook reservation for the study of trees, flowers, ferns and mosses. Miss Madalene B. Sawyer of the Museum staff will broadcast the third and last talk in the series on Wild Flowers next Thursday, August 11, at 6:30 over WNAC Big Brother Hour.

Live Without Water

Desert animals, such as the type of jackrabbit common in the Southwest, are accustomed to deriving their necessary water supply from such desert plants as they consume and some of them never actually drink water.

Survival of Paganism in English Rural Life

Rural England remains pagan at heart, L. F. Ramsey asserts, in the London Saturday Review.

Even the worship of the old heathen gods continues in the reverence shown to certain trees. You may notice, for instance, elders growing in most inconvenient places, in front of a window or out of a wall, yet in Sussex I have been gravely told that to cut down elder would bring suffering and disaster. Now, elder was sacred to Pan: Pan-pipes were made of its wood.

Tamarisk grows along our southern coast, but you never see a villager gathering tamarisk. No villager would allow it to be brought into the house. You never see tamarisk hedges properly pruned unless they grow in the gardens of people from another county. Tamarisk was a holy tree when Osiris was worshiped in Egypt. It was the tree that overshadowed his sepulcher and the chest containing his body was said to have been found by Isis lodged in its branches when it was driven ashore by the waves. And as a holy tree the tamarisk is regarded by Sussex natives who have never heard of Osiris.

Chinese Have Faith in Koh-Zen, God of Crops

Weather vicissitudes, insect pests and other tribulations of farmers, as well as some kindlier farm fortunes, are in the hands of Koh-Zen, the Chinese god of crops, says the Farm Journal.

In order to properly look after the crops, Koh-Zen has three heads with seven eyes and six hands.

In the upper two hands he holds the red sun and the green moon; in the second pair are the "wind-charm," made of the seven stars of the Great Bear, and the "rainbell," and with these he governs and distributes wind and rain to farmers.

The lower hands grip two swords, with which he stands off any dangers and devils that threaten the crops.

Even though so well equipped personally, he still needs four sub-gods with swords and spears to do a really good job of crop making for his devotees.

Cannon Not Meant for Use

It seems unlikely that the famous Tsar cannon in the Kremlin, known as the Tsar Pushko, was intended to be merely a show piece, but the fact remains that it has never been fired, and never could be fired, for the excellent reason that the muzzle is smaller caliber than the breech, and also because the special cannon balls made for it are much too large for the bore. In the early days of its being, it had a certain military usefulness in frightening away, by its mere appearance, the Tartar tribes who periodically invaded Moscow. From the very beginning, however, it was valued as a work of art rather than an instrument of war. Its sculptural decorations are among the most beautiful examples of this epoch.

Eucalyptus Valuable

The eucalyptus tree, source of valuable oil used in the treatment of colds and other respiratory diseases, is a giant tree when found in its native habitat. The trees are 100 feet in height, but sometimes tower to four times this size. The trees are native of Australia, but have been introduced in many parts of the world. There are 140 known varieties and the usefulness of the tree not only includes its medicinal oil yield, but also its lumber, which is widely used in Australia. The tree has been found valuable for planting in swampy places to aid in drainage and improving the general healthfulness of the area in which the trees are planted.

Outrivals Hen

If a hen ever laid an egg equal in size to about one-third of its own body, such a feat would be recorded as a world's record. Yet such a feat, by way of comparison, would no more than equal that of a queer variety of snail, which is found in northern Brazil. There is nothing slow about this giant Brazilian snail, for its eggs equal in size one-third of its own body and are about as large as a pigeon's egg. It lays four or five of these eggs at one time. Snail "clutches" usually hatch out within three weeks. Those of the edible variety grow to market size within a year.

Identified

Telephoning from New York to Paris, a gentleman consumed an hour and ten minutes and paid a charge of $1.237.50. I can imagine part of the conversation.

New Yorker—I'll bet you don't know who this is.
Parisian—Well, I don't know your name, but I believe I can describe you.
New Yorker—Let's hear you.
Parisian—You are some one who is more than a little barmy.—Exchange.

Polo Old Pastime

Polo was known in Persia in very ancient days. In fact there is a story to the effect that when Alexander the Great was still a young man the shah of Persia sent him a ball and polo stick as a hint that he should concern himself with nothing more serious than the game. Alexander replied that the polo ball, in his case, represented the earth, and the stick himself, and future events justified this.—Kansas City Times.

NEW WATER PUMPING EQUIPMENT

The following information was given by Water Commissioner Ellis regarding the improvements and new equipment to be made and installed at the pumping station of the Water Department at Newton Upper Falls.

The appropriation of $185,000 for the Reconstruction and Re-equipping of the Pumping Station on Needham street, as granted at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Monday evening, August 1st, is the culmination of many studies covering a period of ten years or more.

The present pump equipment consists of two units, one of which has seen 58 years of operation, while the second unit has been in almost continuous service for a period of 28 years. Each of these units is limited in capacity to 5,000,000 gallons per day, which amount is only the average daily consumption of the City of Newton, so that at present any quantity required above the average must be purchased from the Metropolitan System.

The two boilers at present in use are 40 years old, and would have to be rebuilt in the immediate future.

The reliability of equipment as old as that now in use in a main pumping station is questionable, and the efficiencies obtainable are not comparable with those which can be obtained from modern plants.

The plans of the Water Department call for the complete remodeling of the Pumping Station building, removal of the first floor and the adaptation of the basement to accommodate an installation of three steam turbine driven pumping and generating units, the construction of an addition to contain a chemical treatment room, changes in the entrance, lowering of the present engine room roof, the installation of two modern boilers, and a general reconditioning of the whole building.

On the completion of the work planned, the Water Department will, besides pumping an increased quantity of water, generate itself the electrical energy required to operate the well and flooding plant pumps in the Waterworks Reservation.

It is confidently expected that high efficiencies will be attained by the new equipment and material savings should result from the expenditure of this money.

Houston's Indian "Father"

John Jolly was the English name of the Cherokee chief who was the adopted father of General Houston. His native name was Ahluidegi, which means "He who throws away the drum." His early life was spent in Tennessee, and it was there that Houston spent three years, acquiring a lifelong friendship for his adopted people.

TURNING LIABILITIES INTO ASSETS

Under present conditions every opportunity to turn liabilities into assets should be given every consideration, particularly in regard to municipal finances. The ability to pay taxes is an asset, the inability to pay taxes is a liability. In a recent issue we published a suggestion from a Graphic reader pertaining to the plan of paying taxes by advance installments. Such a plan has worked out to advantage in various places and although it is possible a similar plan might not be attractive to some taxpayers in Newton it is also possible that many would derive considerable benefit from it. Under such a plan there would be considerable detail necessary in the handling of the installment accounts, considerable investigation as to the cost of such a plan, the determination of the proper amount of interest the city should pay on advance payments and countless other details which would be part of the plan. Whether or not such a plan is suited to the handling of Newton taxes could be readily ascertained from a close study of the question by city officials.

THE COST OF GOVERNMENT

During past years governmental costs have increased at a rather startling rate and the public is now awakened to the fact that something must be done to curtail such expenditures. Newton is in excellent financial condition as the lowering of the tax rate indicates. A drop of nearly 10 per cent in two years has been accomplished despite what might well be termed adverse conditions. It is our opinion that the same goal can be reached in state and national finances through diligent effort and persistency of purpose. With a majority of the burden being carried by the small property owner, tenant and wage earner, a tax-conscious public will insist on such a program. A speedy return to the pay-as-you-go policy and the honest effort to reduce the expenditure of public moneys by the state can accomplish the result achieved by the city of Newton.

THE NEW TAX RATE

For the second successive year the tax rate in Newton has been reduced. The reduction of $1.60 this year to a flat rate of $25 is considerably more than that of a year ago and gives Newton a rate that few, if any, cities in the Commonwealth will experience this year. Strict economy in municipal expenditures and careful attention to business by Mayor Weeks has carried Newton to the front in this respect, offering additional proof that government in itself to be successfully operated should be conducted on business principles. We congratulate Mayor Weeks and the city of Newton on its financial condition.

A Bloc Against the U. S. A. Poor Old Capitalism. Mussolini Does Not Ask.

Karl H. Von Wiegand cables from Berlin about the "Anti-American Bloc" just perfected in Europe. Germany has joined and it includes France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Poland, Yugoslavia, and Rumania. Mr. Von Wiegand says "British Foreign Secretary Simon and Premier Herriot, of France, have planned to isolate the United States if Washington refuses to cancel war debts."

Boycotting is easy, sometimes unprofitable. Eight merchants might unite to boycott their best customer and not be happy when the customer stops buying.

Canada, according to the New York Times, agrees to drop one-quarter of its coal importations from the United States if Britain in return will buy Canadian lumber.

At this moment the United States buys from Canada more than is bought by the whole British Empire. Ten lines in a new tariff bill and the United States would buy from Canada nothing. Boycotts are dangerous. This one may be good for our country.

Success has been too easy in the United States. Difficulties might do us good.

The "United Farmers of Canada," through their Saskatchewan president, demand "an end of the capitalist system." The farmers say: "Competitive production for profit, under private control, is in its dying hours."

It might be well to watch Russia for a while before deciding. The frogs got rid of the dull log, their ruler, and acquired for king a long-legged bird that devoured them. They wished they had not complained.

Capitalism is not perfect, but it has been a fairly good-natured old ruler. It certainly has increased wages, bath tubs, automobiles, radios and vacuum cleaners.

H. C. Bywater, British naval expert, says Italy is building warships in secret, cruisers and destroyers "of phenomenal speed." The same Mr. Bywater criticized United States' 10,000-ton cruisers. He also "accused" this country of experimenting with the largest, most deadly torpedo in the world, electrically impelled, with high explosive power, to be launched against ships by entirely new methods.

Let us hope that accusation is sound, and that we are trying to do something to defend the country.

It is not likely that Mussolini is building ships "secretly." He has always said to the rest of Europe: "You attend to your business, and I'll attend to Italy's business," and, unlike ourselves, asks no one's permission to build ships or anything else.

War does not pay, that has been proved. Having your neighbors in trouble also does not pay. Japan, with her Chinese war worries and her financial troubles at home, disturbs important interests by selling copper at 4.55 a pound, reducing copper prices everywhere in Europe. Even South Africa will find it hard to compete with such price cutting.

The way to rule the air, earth's new ocean, is to have airships. France and Britain know it. The British have built the biggest land and water fighting airship in existence. The French are testing their "Stratosphere Plane," planned to fly from New York to Paris in ten hours. The plane will travel eleven miles up, where the "thin" atmosphere offers little resistance.

Its engine, thanks to superchargers, will have vastly increased power at 20,000 feet up, and in the stratosphere, 60,000 feet above the earth, will develop 20,000 revolutions a minute. A pilot will work in a cabin hermetically sealed, with an automatic oxygen supply system.

The French Air Ministry "has generously provided funds for the construction of this plane." We don't do that here, we are too poor, and besides we haven't any Air Ministry.

With us the airplane is merely "an accessory," under the management of the army and navy. That is as intelligent as though our surface warships were under divided management of sailing captains and canal boatmen.

In the news nothing is more interesting than the five thousand women in Morocco, bowing down before a small silver slipper, supposed to possess miraculous power to help childless women.

First cattle were sacrificed to mollify a demigod supposed to keep the children from coming. Then the women bowed before the silver slipper, a thousand Moorish men looking on.

Not long ago, in a Christian church in Spain, you might have seen childless mothers on their hands and knees, licking the dust off the floor, from the entrance to the altar, praying for a child.

They, at least, addressed their supplications to the Ruler of the Universe, not a magic slipper. If you offered the Moroccan women a good obstetrician instead of a slipper, you would be called a shameless unbeliever.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night, Alderman Hall, chairman of the Finance Committee, in referring to the reduced tax rate for this year, stated that there will be no increases in valuations of properties. For the information of those who may prematurely exult in this pleasant impression, we regret to have to disperse the news that there will be a considerable number of Newton taxpayers who will learn when they receive their tax bills that increases have been made on the valuations of real estate they own. The writer knows whereof he speaks because he received information some time ago that he is one of the favored persons who is scheduled to pay more taxes because of increased valuation of property.

In view of existing conditions, when most persons incomes have sadly decreased with opportunities to sell real estate as rare as hen's teeth, and when banks are very, very reluctant to loan money on mortgages, taxpayers who will have to part with more cash because the valuations on their properties may have been increased, will not enthrone over a lower tax-rate. For, in the final analysis, it is not what the tax-rate is, but how much one has to pay, that counts. The valuation of personal property in Newton has been reduced $644,850 this year; the valuation of real estate has been reduced $1,876,600. While this is nice for those who are benefited, the impression that there have been no increases in valuations should not be allowed to go unrefuted. Because the sad awakening on the part of those adversely affected would be sadder, if deferred.

The Assessors of Newton are zealous in the performance of their duties. Each year, for some years past, they have studied valuations in different parts of the city, and readjusted them. Last year they concentrated on West Newton hill, Newton Centre, and Precinct 1 of Ward 1. This year their attention was centered on Ward 7 and Precinct 2 of Ward 1. Valuations on some houses was reduced; so was the valuation on some land. Among the valuations increased were those on parcels of land which are supposed to have been undervalued in recent years. Sections of the city which are less exclusive for residential purposes than of yore have been reduced in valuation by the assessors. Sections which formerly were undeveloped, but which have evolved into attractive home neighborhoods, have been increased in valuation. The assessors can't be accused of playing favorites. Among those listed to dig down deeper on taxes are city officials and quite influential citizens.

The Assessors have made appreciable reductions on business properties. Vacancies and lowered rents influenced these changes. Among the business properties which were materially reduced in valuation this year are those of the R. C. Taylor Estate at Newton Corner. The owners of these properties, which include most of the buildings about Nonantum square at Newton Corner, demanded a large abatement last year, and were refused. Since these buildings were built between 35 and 40 years ago, rentals in many of the stores they contain were largely increased. The existing depression has resulted in a number of vacant stores in these properties. The Taylor estate, as a result of the refusal of the Assessors to grant a rebate on last year's taxes, has taken an appeal to the State Board of Appeal on Taxes. They have been represented by William F. Garcelon and Arthur W. Blakemore of Newton, as attorneys.

The work on Washington St. is well ahead of schedule. The fourth concrete lane was completed to the bridge at West Newton several days ago. The last lane, the bituminous concrete on the south side of the street is completed to Newtonville square. As was expected, the hard, smooth surface of the street is taken advantage of by that type of autoist who likes to step on the gas without regard for the safety of pedestrians or other autoists. Much speeding is already in evidence on the street. The police should take action to curb this menace before it grows.

The last few Boards of Aldermen in this city have been so unanimous in their actions on about every matter which came before them, that some of their members regarded (and regard) any alderman who differed from the majority as an obstructionist, a trouble maker, an undesirable citizen or something of that kind. In the present Board Alderman Temperley irritates some of his colleagues by losing their equanimity when he persists in thinking and acting independently. It would be for this city's benefit if it had more aldermen who possessed sufficient moral courage to vote NO more frequently than does the majority of the Board.

Not so long ago a huge public work was performed in this city under the direction of a certain department of the Commonwealth. In the progress of this work one contractor had to blast out rock on a ledge encountered in a street. The blasting of the rock seriously damaged the ceilings and walls of a nearby house owned by persons in humble circumstances. Complaints were made to the contractor and State officials supervising the work. Only the bare cost of repairing the damage was asked. Representatives of the Commonwealth inspected the house and verified the claims as to damage. The contractor, although bonded in an insurance company for such responsibility, has paid no attention to the just, and comparatively small claim for damage to the property. The State officials concerned nonchalantly say "we can do nothing about it." And the family whose home was seriously damaged must pay the bill, or resort to litigation which would perhaps cost more than the cost of the repairs. Is it fair to the public to have such conditions exist?

Rotarians Hear Talk on Coming Solar Eclipse

Professor Robert H. Baker of the University of Illinois gave a graphic and interesting talk on "The Coming Eclipse" at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. Prof. Baker is a graduate of Amherst and now a professor of astronomy is at present on the staff of the summer school at Harvard University. He was introduced by James Melcher.

Prof. Baker commented upon the accuracy of astronomical predictions and to the fact that there was on record but one instance where an eclipse was not predicted. This took place in the 25th century before the Christian era in China. The coming eclipse will take place, Prof. Baker assured his audience, but whether it can be seen or not depends upon the clearness of the day. It is fairly easy to make long range predictions of this nature when one understands the methods employed and there are now in existence maps of eclipses which will take place during the 22nd century.

These predictions are based upon the well known motions of the earth, sun and moon. The earth and sun making a complete cycle once each year and the moon making its cycle once each month the place where the latter crosses between the earth and sun can be figured. It is only when the moon crosses the paths of the moon and sun when the three planets come into line that an eclipse takes place. Usually the moon crosses between the two larger spheres. The matter of calculation of just where the shadow falls is not difficult and where this year the path of total eclipse crosses New England, next year it may occur in some other part of the world.

In the coming eclipse the moon's shadow will first strike the earth near the North pole and the path of totality will be about 100 miles in width. Passing diagonally across the Hudson Bay region and Canada the centre of the path comes approximately through Lancaster, North Conway and Portsmouth, N. H. and off into the Atlantic ocean where the shadow narrows and finally disappears. The shadow will travel at the rate of about 2000 miles per hour and from the moment until the eclipse begins until the moon's shadow has crossed the sun it will be a matter of about two hours. However, the length of time of the total eclipse at any one point along the central path will be about 100 seconds, little more than a minute and a half. Persons on the edge of the path of totality will witness but a momentary total eclipse while those along the central path will witness it for the maximum length of time.

During the period of totality the stars will come out if the sky is clear and the corona can be observed. In the New Hampshire region the eclipse will begin about 2:30, reach a maximum about 3:30 and be over about 4:30 in the afternoon.

Outside of the principal track there will be but a partial eclipse and there will be no opportunity to witness the corona or the red prominences which make up the halo around the sun. Newton will probably have about a 99% totality but there will be no sign of the corona. Some phase of the eclipse will be seen throughout the American continent.

Astronomers are beginning to set up scientific apparatus, cameras and the like to observe the corona which will be of main interest. Whether there is any practical value to the study of the eclipse is uncertain but the problems which astronomers are chiefly concerned include the corona, and the region and stars about the sun. The latter bear upon Einstein's theory of relativity and whether or not the sun causes a repulsion of the stars. As a spectacle it will be most impressive and unusual.

It will be the last opportunity for most of those of the present generation to witness a total eclipse unless one travels considerably.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 7.

The Golden Text is: "By one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit" (1 Corinthians 12:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all; the earth is full of thy riches. . . . Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created; and thou renewest the face of the earth" (Psalm 104:24,30).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God. . . . Spirit, God, has created all in and of Himself. Spirit never created matter. There is nothing in Spirit out of which matter could be made, for as the Bible declares, without the Logos, the Aeon or Word of God, 'was not anything made that was made.' Spirit is the only substance, the invisible and indivisible infinite God" (p. 334).

Rev. W. C. Fairfield, D. D., Will Preach At Union Services

Will Speak at Newtonville Central Church

The Sunday Union Services which are being held jointly by the Congregational and Methodist Churches of Newtonville will be conducted in August in the Central Church on Walnut street. A group of ministers within the church and one visiting clergyman make up the list of preachers. Miss Lillian West will be at the organ in next Sunday's service and Mrs. Nina Mae Forde, soprano, of the Central Church quartet, will be the soloist.

Opening this series of summer meetings the preacher is Rev. Wynn Cowan Fairfield, D.D., Associate Secretary in the Foreign Department of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and recently of Taiiku, North China. His subject is "The Way to Peace."

REV. WYNN C. FAIRFIELD

Dr. Fairfield, who was born in Taber, Iowa, is a graduate of Oberlin College, class of 1907, which institution conferred upon him the degree of D.D. in 1926. He has served under the A. B. C. F. M. in China since 1910.

He served as a missionary in an interior station in China, 1910-1929, first in church work and then for ten years in educational work. Since 1929 when health conditions required the family to return to America, he has served as an officer of the American Board, in correspondence with China and Japan.

In addition to eight previous visits to Japan en route to and from China, he spent two months in Japan in the winter of 1930-31 as consultant to the Fact-Finding Commission of the Laymen's Foreign Missions Inquiry, so that he has a first hand acquaintance with conditions in Japan as well as in China. A two months' visit to China in connection with this trip followed by a hurried trip through Manchuria and Korea served to freshen contacts with leaders and situations in China.

Since college days, Dr. Fairfield has been in close touch with Dr. H. H. Kung, recently Minister of Industries and a member of the "Soong Dynasty," a brother-in-law of Chiang Kai-shek. This has given opportunities for seeing some of China's problems through the eyes of a statesman intimately concerned in efforts for their solution and frequently "on the inside" in diplomatic matters.

He is deeply sympathetic with the problems faced by Japan in attempting to bring her national life to modern standards and nearer to western standards of living as well as with China in her efforts to change her age-old culture for one adequate to ensure national prosperity in the twentieth century. He believes that such things as are now happening in the Far East can be understood only in the light of centuries of history and the actual present social and economic conditions, and that the most practical hope of a permanent solution lies in the mutual fellowship and understanding which an extension of thoroughgoing Christian experience will bring to both countries.

The hour of the service is 10:30 A. M.

LIFE'S LITTLE JESTS

REALLY SIMPLE

A look of recognition came over the diner's face as the newcomer entered the restaurant.
"Pardon me, sir," he said. "I think we met here a fortnight ago."
The newcomer shook his head.
"Sorry," he replied politely enough, "but I do not know you."
"Maybe not—but I recognized your umbrella."
"That's impossible, sir," went on the newcomer. "A fortnight ago I hadn't an umbrella."
"No, but I had," came the other's retort.

POLITICAL WISDOM

Friend—You seem to talk quite freely for publication, without actually saying anything.
Politician—That's the art of it. A man should always avoid letting his views get mixed into his interviews.

Ready for Service

Little Boy—How many kinds of milk are there?
Father—Why, there are condensed milk, evaporated milk, sweet milk, and sour milk. Why do you ask?
Boy—I'm going to draw a cow, and I want to know how many spigots to put on.

Proof in His Success

The local reporter was interviewing a prosperous soap manufacturer.
"It is a well-known fact," he said, "that you made your fortune out of soap, Mr. Lather. Now, to what do you attribute your success?"
"To clean living, my friend—to clean living," was the reply.—Pearson's.

Always Rising

"So that distinguished looking gentleman in the tall hat is your leading citizen, eh? Has he received many degrees from the colleges?"
"Has he? Why he has received so many degrees we call him the 'Human Thermometer.'"

House-Broken

We congratulated a lady on her silver wedding anniversary for living 25 years with the same man.
"But he is not the same man he was when I first got hold of him," she replied.—The Presbyterian Magazine.

DIES IN SERIES

"My office boy has a bargain-counter grandmother."
"What do you mean by that?"
"She always dies on the days that they have double-headers at the baseball grounds."

System

Friend—Your stenographer is a good worker, eh? By the way, how do you pick out your stenographers?
Manager—I find out which of the applicants the clerks in the office favor, and then I hire one of the others.—Boston Transcript.

Ohmigosh!

"Miss Youngleigh must be much older than she pretends to be."
"How is that?"
"I asked her if she had read Aesop's Fables, and she said, 'Yes, as soon as they appeared.'"

Practical Application

Ambitious Husband—I'm not satisfied, dear; I want to reach the top of the ladder!
Alert Wife—Well, why not start with cleaning the windows?

Unanimous

"My son is going to Paris to finish his musical studies."
"A government grant?"
"No, public subscription of the neighbors."—Gutierrez, Madrid.

And in His Bare Feet

Lady—Your father thinks a lot of you, doesn't he?
Bobbie—Yeh, he gets up in the middle of the night to take the darned kid for a walk.

Peacock Throne Marvel of Oriental Magnificence

The marble and gold palace of Delhi, in India, mecca of many tourist parties, lost its wonderful "Peacock Throne" many years ago, but the legend of its grandeur survives and is accepted as indicative of the splendor of the rajahs, much of which survives to dazzle the visitor from foreign lands.

The peacock throne was so called from its having the figures of two peacocks of solid gold standing behind it, their tails expanded, and the whole so inlaid with sapphires, rubies, emeralds, pearls and other precious stones of appropriate colors as to represent life.

The throne itself was six feet long and four feet wide; it stood on six massive feet which, with the body, were of solid gold inlaid with rubies, emeralds and diamonds. It was surmounted by a canopy of gold supported by 12 pillars all richly embellished with costly gems, and a fringe of pearls ornamented the borders. Between the two peacocks stood the figure of a parrot, said to have been carved out of a single emerald.

The throne was taken away by Nadir Shah to Persia as loot and was last heard of in Teheran, where presumably most of it was melted down. Its estimated value was six and one-half million pounds sterling, that is $24,050,000.

Cave-Picture Galleries

Unique in Art History

In the heart of the Indian jungle lies a narrow gorge containing the caves of Ajanta, cave-picture galleries unique in the history of art. They are adorned with paintings which are in no wise inferior to the frescoes in the tombs of the kings of Egypt.

European art work seems the creation of yesterday when compared with the productions of Asia. Besides the frescoes at Ajanta, for example, the age of the so-called "old masters" of Europe fades into insignificance, as the latest Ajanta paintings were completed hundreds of years before the Fourteenth century Flemish and Italian artists commenced to paint.

The frescoes may be divided into narrative scenes, portraiture and decoration, and the illustrations of incidents in the life of Buddha perforce take pride of place. The birth of Gautama, his "Great Renunciation" when he abandoned family and wealth, his enlightenment after resisting the powers of darkness—all these episodes may be traced in the paintings and sculpture at Ajanta. The portraits include representations of Buddhas and Bodhisattvas—Buddhas of the future—in addition to figures of the Brahmanic deities.

The court life of the period also is depicted.

Whales Largest of Mammals

An 80-foot diplodocus would have 48 feet of tail, 20 of neck and only 12 of body length. These creatures were vegetarians, and with their relatively tiny heads—no bigger than horses' heads—they must have had to eat continuously during all their waking hours to get enough fuel for their huge bodies.

Yet these ancient monsters were not the largest animals that ever lived. The biggest animals are living today—the whales. Though not so long as some of the dinosaurs, they are more solidly built, and therefore considerably heavier than any dinosaur probably ever was. And being warm-blooded, flesh-eating animals, they are without doubt more efficient animals than the great dinosaurs were.

Typewriter Old Idea

The first typewriter of which there is record was patented in England as early as 1714. Over a century later, in 1829, the first American typewriter, called a topographer, was patented by W. A. Burt. In 1833 a typewriter was produced in France, having a separate key lever for each letter. In 1844 and in 1846 typewriting machines were invented in England which, like many of the other early machines, were designed primarily for use of the blind, and so produced embossed characters. Between 1840 and 1860 Sir Charles Wheatstone invented several typewriters, which are now in the South Kensington museum.

Marmalade and a Queen

Writing from Nice, France, that she particularly enjoys our "Historic Snorts," Olga Kauffman questions the supposed English origin of marmalade. "Mary queen of Scots brought over from France the preserves she loved so well," says this correspondent. "Mary loved it to such an extent that every time she was ill she would call for it—until it became known as 'Marie eat marmalade' by her French court, and through the years it has degenerated into 'marmalade.'"—Pathfinder Magazine.

Protected by Nature

The eggs of the killdeer present a good example of protective coloration. They are so mottled as to be scarcely discernible in their crude nest which is nothing more than a slight depression in the ground among a few pebbles, bits of wood and shells. The colorings and markings of the young birds are equally protective and the young of this species are especially adept at hiding in slight depressions in the earth where they blend perfectly with the background.

Aldermen Vote To Appropriate Large Sums

Grant Another Junk License at Nonantum

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was attended by all the members except Alderman Hart. Alderman Howlett, who has been absent from meetings for some time because of sickness, was present, and received a warm welcome from his associates. The meeting was called to order at 8:10 by President Collins. A recess was declared at 8:45 and the Aldermen retired to a committee room to hold a conference with Water Commissioner Ellis and George A. Sampson of Newton, of Weston & Sampson who have been for some years employed as consulting engineers on Newton's water supply. This conference lasted until 10:05. Then committee meetings were held and the open meeting was not started in its second stage until 10:40. It lasted until 11:42. The time spent by the Board in open session was one hour and thirty-seven minutes; the time spent in secret session was one hour and fifty-five minutes. Thus the Newton Board of Aldermen continue to exemplify its idea of representative government, which is quite different from the New England town meeting form of government, where public affairs are discussed in the open.

The first matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition of James H. Sawyer for a permit to use the building on Rumford avenue, West Newton, near the corner of Lexington street as a garage repair shop. Mr. Sawyer asked that this permit be granted. He said he has conferred with the owners of the Peterson estate, one of the abutting properties, and they do not object. He has been unable to get in touch with the other abuttor. No one appeared to favor or oppose the petition of Earle Johnson for a gasoline tank pump inside his garage building at 1151 Walnut street, Newton Highlands.

Other hearings announced were on petitions for the construction of drains and sewers in Cotton street, Lancaster and Sunset roads, Ward 7; and for drains in private land off Winchester street, Newton Highlands; Waltham street and Upham street, West Newton. H. S. Kerstein of 31 Lancaster road, Newton, urged the construction of a sewer in that street and told a doleful tale. He said a clay subsoil in that locality causes cesspools to be useless. He told of having had a large cesspool dug on his property which filled up four days after having been drained; of the liquid from the cesspool backing into the basement of his house; of a stench worse than one would find in slums; of swarms of flies which may carry disease germs even to other neighborhoods. Mr. Kerstein's plea was effective because later in the meeting the Aldermen suspended the rules so that appropriations could be made to provide for the construction of sewers in these three streets.

At the request of the Licenses Committee the Board voted to grant a hearing on September 12 to Carmela Vincenzo of 230 Adams street, Newton, who petitions for a gasoline filling station at 1105 Washington street, corner of Cross street, West Newton. Leave to withdraw, at the request of the petitioner, was given the Newton Fire Company in its petition for a 500-gallon gasoline tank at the rear of the Charlton Building, 237 Washington street, Newton.

Appropriations made by the Aldermen included:
Accounting Department, pension of Michael Dunphy, $366.39; Registrars of Voters, Clerical Assistance, $200; Appropriation, Health Department, Prevention and Care of Disease, from Tax Levy (F.), $7000; Appropriations, from Tax Levy, Public Welfare Department (F.), Poor Out of City Infirmary, $25,000, Care of Sick Poor, $2000; Appropriations, from Tax Levy (F.), City Clerk Department, Soldiers' Relief, $12,000, School Department, Vocational High School equipment, $5000; Appropriation of $400,000 from the Excess and Deficiency Account to the Tax Levy (F.); Appropriations, Treasury Department, from Tax Levy (F.), Interest on Funded Debt, $4875, Office Expense, $1300, Foreclosure on Tax Titles, $2250; Appropriation, from Water Revenue, for Water Department, Interest on Funded Debt (F.), $1345.23; Appropriation, from Water Revenue, for Water Department, for remodeling and reequipping Needham street Pumping Station (F.), $185,000; Appropriation, from Water Bonds Issue, for extension of mains (dead ends) in several locations within the city (F.), $40,000.

Abbie M. Wedger Celebrates Her 100th Birthday

Greeted Relatives and Friends At Newtonville

On Wednesday afternoon, August 10th, Mrs. Abbie M. Wedger of Newtonville celebrated her 100th birthday at the Fuller private hospital, 399 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville. One hundred and twenty-five relatives and friends were present including Gen. Alfred F. Foote, Commissioner of Public Safety of Massachusetts. A letter from President Hoover was received congratulating Mrs. Wedger on attaining her 100th birthday. Other congratulatory letters were received from Gov. Gardner of Maine, and the Attorney General of that State. Quantities of flowers were sent Mrs. Wedger, including bouquets of 100 American Beauty roses.

She was born at Limington, Me., in 1832, the tenth child and only daughter of John Adams Libby and Abigail (Sawyer) Libby. She is the last one of her immediate family, having outlived her nine brothers, all of their wives and all of their children but one. She was a pupil at Gorham Seminary but when about seventeen years of age moved to Needham, Mass.

In 1856 she married the late Benj. M. Wedger for many years Pyrotechnist for the City of Boston. She has two children living, Walter Libby Wedger formerly chemist of the Massachusetts State Police, and assistant to Gen. Alfred F. Foote, and Mrs. Ella W. Mawson of Newton Upper Falls. She has four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. For over fifty years she owned a cottage at Fortunes Rocks near Hildeford Pool, Me. Her father, who was a triplet, was born on the Portland road at Scarborough, Me., and his brother, Capt. Moses Libby of that town, lived to within a few days of one hundred years. Her mother lived to the age of ninety-one years. Her mind is still keen and active and her loving disposition endears her to all who visit her. Like all old people she rejoices in relating anecdotes in her life and distinctly remembers the many inventions that have been brought to the front since her girlhood days. A truly wonderful woman who has lived a wonderful life.

TURNPIKE SIGNAL WILL COST $2000

To enable traffic to cross the Worcester turnpike at Newton Highlands where Woodward and Elliot streets join the big highway and traffic travels between the Highlands and Upper Falls, the State will install automatic traffic signals. Chief Randlett of the Fire Department has asked Mayor Weeks to request an appropriation of $2000 for auxiliary controls which can operate the signals from the quarters of Truck 2 whenever this apparatus must cross the turnpike in answer to an alarm. Otherwise, precious time would be lost if the signals were set against the apparatus when an alarm came in.

Rotary Club Hears Talk on Making of Books

Fred G. Melcher of New York Gives Interesting Talk

The regular meeting of the Rotary Club was held on Monday as usual at the Woodland Golf Club. The guest speaker, Mr. Frederick G. Melcher, was introduced by his brother, James Melcher, a member of Newton Rotary. Mr. Frederick Melcher is the editor of the Publishers Weekly, the American book trade journal, which is published in New York. He is a graduate of the Newton High School, and among his classmates were Edwin O. Childs and Irving C. Paul. Mr. Melcher spoke on the "Business of Making Books."

Despite the popular conception that radio and other forms of amusement would compete with books for the favor of the American public, the use of books has constantly grown in the past decade. Books hold the greatest magic yet offered as the reader has the power to select that which he wishes and does not have to take what is offered. On the radio, the stage, the screen there is no such selection.

In another two decades the 500th anniversary of the publishing of books will be observed and the industry has still a great future ahead. It is a different industry than that of general merchandise. It is perhaps one of the most socialistic of any in the fact that the government has huge collections as also has every state and county, and sixty percent of the towns have libraries. It is one of the most important industries in the country.

In the United States the per capita cost to every United States resident for support of the libraries is ten cents per year, of which but one cent is the return to the author.

The new attitude of the public schools towards books and education has brought a remarkable change. It is no longer the first, second and third reader which supplies the child with his reading knowledge. From almost the very beginning the practice now is allowing the child to follow his own taste to a great extent in reading. It tends towards individuality, the present aim. Books belong to youth. No longer do we have high school and college students forced to include a list of the former much read tales and classics in their reading but instead they now choose for themselves those books which they would like to own. Where formerly books were just something which must be digested they now mean something personally.

Referring to the price of books, Mr. Melcher stated that it is the only kind of merchandise that can be rented at the low price of 2 to 4 cents per day. A second edition of any book can be offered to the public at a lower price because of two factors—a smaller royalty to the author and the elimination of the cost of making the book plates which have already been made for the first edition. The cost of any book is not affected materially by the fact that it is bound in cloth or paper, which difference is about 8 cents. Book costs are entirely dependent upon the number that can be sold.

Copyright authorship does not raise the price of books, the speaker stated, and the United States is one of four countries who are backward in this protection. Justice to the author should be granted.

Boston has shown the way in the making and designing of finer books. The low consumption of books in the United States is due probably to the large amount of patronage given to the many libraries. On the American continent there are over six-fifty million literates which offer a large potential public, and in the coming years it will be proven that the book industry is only beginning. It is a permanent field with a wonderful future.

At the business session which was held prior to Mr. Melcher's talk, Irving O. Palmer was elected an honorary member of the Newton Rotary Club. The motion was made by past president Frank L. Richardson who paid tribute to the recently retired principal of the Newton High School for his work in education and as a member of Newton Rotary for the past several years.

WANTED LARGE PIGEONRY

The business of raising pigeons seems to be on the increase in this city, particularly at West Newton. Joseph Martarano of 400 Cherry St. asked for a permit to keep 400 pigeons. The Health Department granted him a permit to keep 100. Objections have been raised against some pigeon lofts in the city, but none of Martarano's neighbors objected. The objections against pigeons made by some residents are based on the annoyance caused by the incessant cooing of the birds and the undesired stucco work they donate on nearby residences.

CITY EMPLOYEES NOT TO SERVE AS ELECTION OFFICERS

Mayor Weeks has decided that no regularly employed city employee will serve as an election officer at the polls this year. In place of the city employees who have been precinct officers in past years, unemployed men will be appointed. The list of appointees as election officers will be submitted to the Board of Aldermen at a special meeting to be held next Monday night.

Gas. Co. Office Sold; New Block To Be Erected

Real Estate Transactions In City on Increase

Final papers have gone to record this past week whereby the property owned by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and located at 308 Washington street has been conveyed by them to Gerard V. D'Amore and Grover Grady of Boston, for improvement. The property comprises a brick two story building at present entirely occupied by the Gas Company, together with 8,500 square feet of land, the total value of the property being $50,000. The present building will be torn down immediately and replaced with a new modern two story building covering the entire area. John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., were the brokers in the transaction, and in conjunction with the sale of the property have negotiated a lease with the Gas Company for a term of years for the entire second floor and part of the first floor of this new building which will be built to order for them as an office building and show room. Two stores will be available for tenancy.

With the demolition of the old building will go one of the old landmarks in Newton corner. The present Gas Company building was the original location of the Newton Savings Bank, and many years ago was removed from the center of the square to its present location and remodelled for the Gas Company.

KENNEDY ESTATE SOLD

William J. Kennedy has sold his estate, one of the show places in the Newtons, consisting of a cement house with red tiled roof, built along Italian lines, at 321 Commonwealth street, Chestnut Hill, to William Daglas. The house contains ten rooms, three baths, and two-car attached garage. The grounds are beautifully landscaped including a walled formal garden and wide terrace along the frontage. There are 27,167 square feet of land, which is taxed for $11,000, and the buildings are taxed for $28,000, making a total assessment of $39,000. Mr. and Mrs. Daglas will occupy in the fall, upon their return from Europe. Mr. Kennedy has moved to his new home in the Longwood Section of Brookline, which he purchased through Henry W. Savage, Inc., who was the broker in the above transaction.

The office of Henry W. Savage, Inc., with the cooperation of Alvord Bros., has sold for Charles D. Train, Trustee, his new Colonial home at 47 Nathan road, Newton Centre. This unusually attractive small estate consists of an architecturally perfect "Brick-end" dwelling containing nine rooms and three baths with garage attached and about 9,000 square feet of nicely landscaped level land, having a total value of $22,000. ## $74,000 Contract Is Awarded For Pumping Station

Commissioner Says Bid Awarded on Efficiency Basis

The contract for supplying and installing the steam turbine pumping and generating equipment at the water department pumping station at Newton Upper Falls has been awarded to the Turbine Equipment Company of New England, with offices at 80 Federal street, Boston. Water Commissioner Ellis states that "the contract was awarded from the standpoint of operating cost, as well as original investment, and the award was made to the firm which will supply equipment that will furnish the greatest advantage to the city."

The bids were as follows: Starkweather Engineering Company, $68,500; time to install 20 weeks; Worthington Pump Co., $70,800; time to install 40 weeks; Turbine Equipment Company, $71,775; time to install 32 weeks; Ingersoll Rand Company, $77,275; time to install 20 weeks; Warren Steam Pump Co., $77,704; time to install 32 weeks; Ailis Chalmers Co., $94,750; time to install 46 weeks.

The contract was awarded to the third lowest bidder on an alternative bid at $74,068. The other bidders also submitted alternative bids.

BOOTLEGGERS GETS SIX MONTHS

Joseph Frankina of Waltham, alias John Arcolina of Newton Centre was sentenced to 6 months in jail by Judge Bacon in the Newton court yesterday. Several months ago the Newton police discovered a 1000 gallon still in the house at 61 Brookline street, Oak Hill. The still and other apparatus found in the house for the purpose of making alcohol was estimated to be valued at about $20,000. The house had been leased not so long before the raid by a man who gave his name as John Arcolina. Frankina told the judge that he was not Arcolina, but he was a friend of the alleged latter person and had obtained permission from him to store some of his belongings at the Brookline street house.

The police produced as evidence a framed photograph of Frankina and his wife which they found at the house on the night of the raid. Also received bids in Frankina's name. John T. Burns, Jr. a real estate man, testified that he had leased the Oak Hill house to Frankina and the latter requested that his name be recorded as Arcolina. Mr. Burns' testimony was sufficient to convince Judge Bacon that Frankina and Arcolina were one and the same person. So he sentenced Joseph to 6 months in the house and fined him $300 for keeping and exposing liquor for sale. Frankina appealed.

BURGLARIES AT WEST NEWTON

Two stores at West Newton were entered by burglars on Tuesday. At the Spic and Span Cleaners, 1377 Washington street, a suit of clothes and $13.50 in cash was stolen. From the Astill Shoe Store at 115 Elm street, a pair of shoes was stolen. The thief left a well worn pair of shoes in exchange. The police think the same man made both breaks; evidently some person who was badly in need of new attire. Entrance in both places were effected by forcing windows.

NEWTON TAKES SECOND GAME TO END SERIES

Newton captured the second game of the inter-city series with Waltham last Friday night ending the series with the locals the decisive winners. The game was played at Bicycle Park, Waltham, and the Newton team walked home with an 8 to 1 victory.

Three Newton pitchers, Jimmy Murphy, Jimmy Moran and George Hokanson divided the mound duties. Murphy twirled for four innings and dispelled a couple of Watch City threats. Moran pitched the fifth inning and escaped trouble through the medium of a snappy double play. In the sixth the Waltham batters saved a shutout by easing over a single tally while Hokanson was pitching.

Newton stepped right out against Laddy Ryan to score in the first frame and in the third blasted away with a rally which netted four runs to put the game on ice. Martowski took up the burden in the fourth and his mates' loose fielding resulted in another Garden City run and in the sixth two more tallies gave the winners their eight-run total.

Johnny Mullen opened the game with a single by second base and moved along on a sacrifice. An out and singles by Ed Gallagher and Slavin brought home the first marker. Ryan settled down a little to retire the Newton boys in order in the second and the first two men in the third before the big blow-up came. Ed Gallagher tripled, Slavin singled, Huston doubled and two errors by shortstop Dave Nolan and another single by McCleary produced the four runs.

The Newton run in the fourth was the result of an error at second by Frank Collins while in the sixth Moran and Mullen popped Texan leaguers for hits and Bill Gerry's double brought them home with the final markers.

Waltham threats were numerous with Johnny Natoli singling in the second and reaching the keystone safe where he was stranded. In the third where he was stranded. In the third where he was stranded. In the third where he was stranded.

In the last of the sixth Gumbert laced out a single and moved along on a passed ball to be in position to score when Natoli connected for his second safety into centerfield.

And now for Watertown.

TO PLAY SERIES OF TWO GAMES WITH WATERTOWN

The All-Star team of the Newton Twilight league which recently won an inter-city series with Waltham will meet Watertown in a similar series next week. A meeting of the Newton Twilight league was held Wednesday night at the Newton Centre Play-ground at which the coming series was planned.

The first game between the two all-star aggregations will be played Monday night, August 15th, at Watertown on Victory Field and the second game will be played next week Friday night at Claffen Field, Newtonville.

The league also voted to award members of the team finishing in first place in the Newton league games silver baseballs and to the team winning the city championship in the play-off series, gold baseballs.

MODEL BOAT RACES HELD AT CRYSTAL LAKE

A series of model boat races are being held at Crystal Lake. On Tuesday last there were a number of entries in the race which was won by Rico Colletti of the Hawthorn street playground with Pearl Jonah of Horace Mann second. Edward McCarthy of the Williams school, third, Billy Lamb of Horace Mann fourth and Mario D'Innocenzo of Thompsonville fifth. The judges were John L. Lane, Howard Mahoney and Herbert Allen.

On July 29th races were held for 17" and 20" models. The former race was won by Arthur Chamberlain of Horace Mann with Francis White of the same school second and Jerome Powell, Waban, third. In the 20" model race Harry Sanford of Auburndale was the victor over John Timmons of Stearns and William Foote of Lower Falls.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The Executive Committee of the American Legion Auxiliary, Newton Unit No. 48, will meet at Elks Hall, Centre street, Newton on Wednesday evening, August 17th, at seven-thirty o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Newton Unit No. 48, will be held at Elks Hall, Centre street, Newton, on Wednesday evening, August 17th, at eight o'clock.

When Gain Is Loss

What shall it profit, if you have acquired books and have lost the art of reading; acquired influence and lost the joy of usefulness; acquired power and lost the pleasure of service. He that thus gains his life loses it in the gaining. This is an enigma. Ponder it.—Lyman Abbott.

Hearts of Fishes

All fishes have hearts, but in the lowest forms, the heart is reduced to a simple pulsating tube. The heart of a fish is located in the front part of the body, directly behind the neck. It is not necessarily located on the left side, as in mammals, but may be in the middle of the body or on either side.

NEWTON TWO LEAGUE RACE NEARING END

The end of the race of the Newton Twilight League is close at hand with but seven games remaining on the schedule for next week. Interest in the race has been high among local sport followers of the ten teams that make up the league, four of which are still battling for the three play-off positions. The play-off series will see the second and third place teams meeting to decide which will meet the first place holders in a city championship series will take place shortly after the end of the season. It is expected that the dates of these series will be announced next week.

First place will be settled tonight when Silver Lake and the Cubs meet at Cabot Park. The Silver Lake team at present occupies first place with a margin of half a game over the Cubs. Should Silver Lake win it will retain first place as tonight's game is the wind-up for the Cubs. Should the Cubs win tonight Silver Lake must then defeat Lower Falls next Tuesday in order to climb back into a tie for the top with the Cubs. The Highlands A. A., with four games to play, can also tie for first by taking all of its games while the Cubs defeat Silver Lake. Should Silver Lake win from the Cubs the former can make sure of its first place honors by also winning from Lower Falls next Tuesday.

The fourth place Y. M. C. A. team is definitely out of the race for first place but can get into the play-off series by winning both its games. As one of these games is with the Highlands next Wednesday that game should be one of the important contests of the week. Tonight Highlands will meet Lower Falls and next week in addition to its game with the "Y," it also faces the Nonantum Boys Club and Auburndale.

In the second division Auburndale and West Newton continue as favorites for the play-off in the lower half of the league.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM
The month of July was a busy season this year for the Children's Museum of Boston, nearly 2,000 more individuals were served through some form of its many activities than during the corresponding period of last year. This increase brings the total of those who participated in the worthwhile opportunities offered by this museum to 6,307 for the month.

Adding to this number the visitors who came to see the natural history and ethnological exhibits brings the total attendance figures for July to 15,885. The Children's Museum of Boston has, and is using in the most progressive way, a representation of those materials needed for the broader field of popular education.

These materials from world-wide sources include exhibits of natural history and of peoples in many lands not to be seen elsewhere in Greater Boston, and some not in New England. The collections and exhibits include: Minerals and semi-precious stones; fossils; sea life including shells and fishes; insects, reptiles, birds, and mammals; habitat groups of sea life, birds, and mammals. Ethnological material from North Africa, Belgium, England, Ireland, Scotland, Canary Islands, Central America, China, Egypt, the Eskimos, Germany, France, Greece, Holland, India, Italy, Japan, Korea, Mexico, Pacific Islands, Palestine, Russia, Scandinavia, South America, Spain, Switzerland, Turkey, and the West Indies. American Indian material and American history material. Dolls and furnished doll houses, shoes, fans, pottery, and boats.

A recent survey of progress and conditions of museums shows that the years 1929 and 1930 were years of active growth among museums. Museum work was accorded greater recognition and gained signally in value and effectiveness. During the biennial 52 public museums were founded.

The motion picture talk for the week beginning Sunday, August 14, will be entitled "Reporting the World." All the outstanding events that have happened since 1905 are depicted in the film which gives a good opportunity for memory tests since the names of the people pictured are not given.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL FOR COLORED PEOPLE
Startin glast Monday the Mt. Zion and Myrtle Baptist churches of West Newton are conducting a daily vacation Bible school. The school is under the direction of Rev. O. S. P. Thompson of Auburndale who has just completed a very successful school of a similar nature in Springfield. There were 45 enrolled on the opening day. Mrs. Ethel Gale and Mrs. George Washington are assisting Principal Thompson.

Program will consist of Negro spirituals, standard church hymns, Bible stories, hymn stories, snappy songs, motion songs, prayers spoken and chanted, devotional responses, slogans for classes and school, memory drills, declamations, mottoes, scripture quotations, salutes and pledges, etc. Featuring religious fealty, church loyalty, good citizenship, temperance, law observance, community welfare, humane interest, race enterprise etc. Held this week at Mt. Zion church will be held next week in Myrtle.

THOSE ANTHEMS

Deacon Hemphill had just come home from a convention of his church in a large city. His wife was busily playing him with questions.

"I guess you heard a lot of swell singin' in the big church?" his wife asked him.

"Yep! but they sang mostly a lot of them anthems," the deacon replied.

"What's anthems?"

"Well, I don't know jist 'actly how to explain that to you, but it's like this: Suppose I was to say to you, 'The cows are in the pasture' That wouldn't be an anthem. But supposin' I said, 'The cows, the cows, the spotted cows, the brindle cows, the mooley cows, are in the pasture, pasture, pasture.' That would be an anthem."—Capper's Weekly.

Getting It Right

Two American negro soldiers were discussing musical instruments.

"Yas," said one, "Tse gwine to get me a eucalptis."

"A what?" queried the other.

"A eucalptis—dat's a musical instrument, fool."

"Go on, nigger! You can't kid me —dat's one of the books of the Bible."

Reformation

"Crimson Gulch has completely reformed," said the traveling salesman.

"Yes," answered Cactus Joe.

"How did it happen?"

"I give the credit mostly to motion pictures. The boys got to thinkin' it was kind of undignified to be constantly mistook for original Wild West screen stars."—Washington Star.

The Remedy

"Well, how do you like my new suit?" a man asked his friend as they seated themselves at their usual table for lunch.

"Not bad," replied the other. "Only there's a wrinkle in the waistcoat. You ought to get rid of that."

"So there is! Waiter! Where's the menu?"—Der Lustige Sachse.

Why It Happened

Motorist—What! The highway open all the way to Junction Center?

Highway Patrol—Yep, had to open it, so's we could get the detour fixed!

—New Haven Register.

IMPROVING

"I understand De Post is doing much better than formerly in the poetry line."

"Why, he told me he hadn't written a line for six months."

"Yes, he told me the same thing."

Naughty Bee

Four-year-old Billy Eugene came in to the house holding his arm and crying.

"Why, Billy, what's the trouble?" I asked him. "Big boys don't cry!"

"But, mother," he answered, "there was a bumble bee sleeping in the oats; I woke him up and then he bit me!"—Chicago Tribune.

They Do Try to Save

Husband—I see that out of every hundred persons fined for traveling without a ticket, 85 are women.

Wife—There! That shows that women are more economical than men.

—Stray Stories.

Natural Thought

Billups—Sponges, I read here, are one of the lowest forms of animal life.

Quillups—That's what all of us who have been victimized think.

Most of Them Are

Teacher—Anonymous means without a name. Now give me a sentence using the word.

Pupil—Our new baby is anonymous.

CAN'T MISTAKE HIM

"Do you favor compelling married men to wear thumb rings to distinguish them from single men?"

"It's not at all necessary. No husband who's been properly trained can ever be mistaken for a single man."

Theatrical Rovers in China Well Patronized

Like an American circus, perhaps the most interesting thing about a traveling Chinese theatrical troupe is the erection of the "big top" in which the performances are held. Although not as big as "the Greatest Show on Earth," the oriental structure is unique in that it is constructed entirely of bamboo, fiber matting, and native wood. One "head canvasman" claimed that not one nail was used in erecting the temporary playhouse. The framework was entirely of wood, bound together with thin strips of bamboo bark, peeled off and dried. The enormous skeleton was then covered with fiber matting. The "tent" was over 60 feet high, and had a large seating capacity.

The performances given by the itinerant players are a source of great amusement to the many Chinese patrons who flock to the main entrance. The scenery is practically all, the spectator being called upon to supply in his imagination the lack of stage equipment. Costly costumes and pantomime are the principal stock in trade of the Chinese stage favorites. The excruciating "music" of the native orchestra is indispensable in making the play a hit, and the lines of the various characters are punctuated by ferocious clanging of gongs or by the weird outburst of flutes and stringed instruments.—Pathfinder Magazine.

American Engineers at Work on Big Projects

To read the names of the places where American engineers have been or are carrying on great projects is like reading at random through the index of a modern atlas.

The ancient city of Lublin, Poland, was in the Middle Ages a flourishing, wealthy municipality seeking to keep abreast of its times. In order to supply its people with needed conveniences, contracts were entered into with its master-men calling for the laying of water pipes.

These ancient pipes were made of logs and the water was forced through them by the use of a force wheel. On an ancient parchment, written in Latin in 1506, there is a contract between the city authorities and one Jan Burmistrz, calling for the construction of the pipes and their laying. Such methods were used. American engineers discovered when putting into operation the first modern waterworks. Some of the pipes were uncovered, ancient tunnels were cut across.

Some of these tunnels were once used as secret means of escape during the numerous wars and rebellions. Even treasure was unearthed.

Digging in the streets of Athens to install sanitary systems, funeral urns were found of the year 300 B. C. Also a very old sarcophagus was noted.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL

ment of tuberculosis. He had previously filled important positions in the Commonwealth's activity in the care of tuberculosis. The personnel of the hospital totals 138, including 5 resident physicians, 36 nurses, orderlies, mechanics, engineers, employees of the culinary force, the laundry and the other occupations necessary in such a large establishment. The average weekly cost per patient for the first several months of the hospital's activity has been $23.35, which is about the average for this type of institution. Of this amount, the city or town from which the patient comes must pay $12.25; the county pays the balance. The Commonwealth reimburses each city or town to the extent of $5 weekly per patient. If a patient can pay, he or she is supposed to reimburse the city or town.
 No patient is admitted without having received the approval of the Board of Health of the home town or city.
 The hospital is filled to capacity and the waiting list is usually about 100.
 Patients are admitted in order of seniority of application. The average duration of stay of patients in tuberculosis hospitals in Massachusetts is one year.

The percentage of cases cured among patients who come to the hospital in far advanced stages of the disease is 15%; among patients who come to the hospital in the early stages of the disease 35% are cured.
 Unfortunately many persons do not come to the hospital until the disease has deep inroads. To lessen this condition the hospital endeavors to co-operate by examining free of charge any person in the county sent by a physician or a Board of Health. The hospital also endeavors to have all members of patients' families who have had contacts come for examination.

 In this way many incipient cases of tuberculosis are checked. A clinic for eleven towns at the western end of the county has been established at Ayer. Once each month a doctor from the hospital goes to this clinic, and it is probable that these visits will be more frequent in the future.
 Excellent, nourishing food is supplied the patients. Menus, appetizing and diversified, adapted to the treatment of the patients are provided at an economical cost. Food supplies, bought at wholesale, are carefully stored and distributed only on requisition from the storerooms. Perishable foods are kept in cold rooms refrigerated by a modern cooling system. The kitchen is equipped with modern devices to assure sanitary and efficient preparation of food. A large dining room, seating 65, is where patients eat whose condition permits them to walk around without undue exertion. Other patients either eat in smaller dining rooms near their wards, or are served from trays in their beds. Trays carried to bed patients are transported in electrically heated little wagons. Special menus are prepared for patients requiring different diets. Unless especially ordered, no food is given patients between meals. This is in accordance with the treatment of tuberculosis. The old theory, that patients with this disease should be fed frequently, has been abandoned for some years.

The recreation building at the hospital contains a library and auditorium. It is hoped that means will become available to show moving pictures at intervals to the patients in the auditorium, which is provided with a projection room. Each Sunday a Catholic service is held in the auditorium at 8 o'clock, and a Protestant service at 10. In the basement of the recreation building individual instruction is given in light, pleasant occupational work in line with mental therapy.

The mechanical equipment at the hospital includes the latest type oil burning boilers which are large enough to provide heat for additional wings to the hospital in future years.
 Steam from these boilers generates much of the electricity used in the colder months. A large fire pump is located in the engine room. The hospital is provided with surgical, dental, X-ray, fluoroscope and dark rooms, where the most modern methods for the treatment of tuberculosis can be carried out. Surgery is playing a growing part in the treatment of the disease, and while the number of cases so treated is comparatively small, the results are encouraging.

The hospital is one of the most expensive activities of Middlesex County, but any humane citizen who will visit it and observe the great work it is doing in relieving those suffering from the dread disease of pulmonary tuberculosis, will agree that the taxes used for the erection and maintenance of this hospital are well spent.

Police News

Shortly after midnight Sunday an automobile driven, allegedly, by James M. Carter of 83 Mount Auburn street,
 Watertown, crashed at Nonantum Square, Newton, into a taxi-cab which was parked there. The cab was occupied by Michael Curtin, its owner.
 Carter was arrested by Serg. Mahoney, Patrolmen Goddard, Taffe and Whalen, charged with drunken driving and operating without a license. Two others in the car were arrested charged with drunkenness. The three were arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and their cases continued until August 17.

Eugene Marcell of 55 Rutherford avenue, Boston was arrested Sunday at Newton Centre by Patrolmen Cumings and Lupien charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried on August 15.

At 2 o'clock Tuesday morning Pa-troldmen Smith and Phillips stopped two youths who were walking on Commonwealth avenue near Hammond street, Chestnut Hill. They questioned and searched the pair who claimed to reside in this city, and then allowed them to depart. About 7 o'clock the policemen again observed the two. This time one of them was carrying a couple of coffee rolls, which they admitted they had stolen from the doorway of a chain grocery store at 560 Commonwealth avenue. They gave their names and addresses as Ben Malanouski, 19, of Providence and Joseph Ferri, 19, of Providence. They stated they had hiked to Boston looking for work, and not finding any had hit the road again. They slept part of the night in a clump of bushes along the avenue and took the rolls to appease their hunger. They were arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday.
 Judge Bacon placed their cases on file and ordered them to leave the city.

Ellsworth Evans of Robinhood road, Auburndale was sentenced to serve 3 months in jail by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Wednesday for failure to support his child. He had been on probation.

Daniel Leone, 19, of Clinton street,
 Newton was in the Newton court on Friday charged with stealing vegetables from the farm of Camello Grin-eri at Farwell street, Newtonville.
 Leone was given a suspended sentence of 15 days in jail. Three other boys charged with the same offence were found not guilty.

Charles Rogers of Denver, Colorado was fined $100 in the Newton court yesterday for driving while under the influence of liquor. Louis Franchi of Framingham was fined $5 for speeding and Devens Hamblen of Gloucester street, Boston was fined $10 on a similar charge.

Peter Reardon and William O'Brien, both of Somerville, were in the Newton court yesterday charged with peddling vegetables in this city without a license. They told Judge Bacon that they are victims of the depression and could not raise the license fee, which is $5. The judge placed their cases on file.

A drunk who went modern created much excitement at West Newton Square Wednesday night. Emulating the ladies and gentlemen who like to appear clad only in their pelts, on the allegation that so non-attired they absorb ultra-violet rays and benefit physically, this bibulous individual appeared on the roof of Robinson's Block "au naturel." Unlike the ordinary nudists, who endeavor to absorb sunshine, he was out to absorb moonshine externally, after having absorbed it internally. Patrolmen Walker and Stevens climbed onto the roof to arrest the nocturnal nudist and he led them a chase that was not merry for the pursuers before they captured him. In the Newton court yesterday he was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

AUTO RUNS WILD

A car owned by Charles Onthank of 85 Waban Hill road, North coasted down the steep grade on this street on Wednesday and crashed into the steps at the residence of Claudius Tice, 57 Waban Hill road, North. The car had been parked in front of the Onthank home and apparently the brakes became released.

IT CAN BE DONE

With the people of Massachusetts paying a total tax bill of close to half a billion dollars it is not surprising that the public is being awakened to the fact that something must be done to lighten the burden. A share of this burden is carried by each and every one in some form or another at an average per capita cost of more than one hundred dollars per year for every man, woman and child in the Commonwealth.

Conditions cannot be remedied by imposing increasing taxes on such industries and individuals as have been able to weather the pressure of reduced earning power. Neither can they be remedied by increasing the public debt, nor by wasteful extravagance in public expenditures for one purpose or another. The sole method of relief lies in a common sense program of cost reduction wherever such reduction can be made on an economically sound and just basis. Such a program involves every type of governmental expense—public works, welfare aid, education, salaries, and many other expenses. It cannot be tackled haphazardly and a certain amount sliced here and another amount there. It can be done, with justice to all, we believe, by a determined and sincere effort on the part of the legislators.

RIDING ON THE CONCRETE

With the resurfacing of Washington street practically finished we sincerely congratulate the city upon the rapid completion of a modern highway on one of the city's main arteries. The criticisms we formerly made regarding the delay of this work are almost forgotten in the pleasure we get from riding on the concrete in the course of our daily occupation. We trust that those motorists who for the past several years have avoided using Washington street and have formed a habit of taking some other route will soon become acquainted again with Newton Corner, Newtonville and West Newton business sections. The resurfacing of Washington street should do a great deal to encourage Newton residents to shop in these sections.

A SOURCE OF DANGER

While on the subject of Washington street there is one matter which we would call to the attention of the proper authorities. Prior to the resurfacing of the street, eastbound traffic was forced to travel along what is now the centre of the street because of the presence of the old car tracks. On the new street this same traffic passes much closer to the intersection of the side streets. Plate-girder bridges make extremely blind corners at a number of these intersections and, as many drivers apparently do not observe, either in part or in full, the "stop" signs, and thus an exceedingly dangerous condition results. This danger could readily be reduced by painting broad white "Stop" lines on the street surface at the intersections where the view is obstructed by these bridges.

Abacadabra

Sir Henry Irving had the worst scrawl on record. It is related that he once wrote out a note asking the box-office manager at the Lyceum to give his friend, the bearer, two seats. When it was presented the box-office manager shook his head. "Sorry," he said, "but we don't make up prescriptions here."—New York Morning Telegraph.

Best Things Are Nearest

The best things are nearest; breath in your nostrils, light in your eyes, flowers at your feet, duties at your hand, the path of God just before you. Then do not grasp at the stars, but do life's plain, common work as it comes, certain that daily duties and daily bread are the sweetest things of life.—R. L. Stevenson.

Fox Hounds Lost in Sand

During a fox hunt in Lley, Wales, hounds ran a fox into the sandhills. Three valuable dogs dug so deep into the sand that they were covered and were lost for three days. After many hours huntsmen and farmers succeeded in tunnelling nearly 100 feet into the sandhills, finding two of the hounds alive.

History Repeated

In building a war memorial on Montfaucon, in the Argonne, the workers discovered the foundations of an old castle built in 1070. This fortress was destroyed and reconstructed in the Eleventh, Thirteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth centuries. It was also the scene of an American attack on an enemy position in 1918.

First Corkscrews

The corkscrew was invented after cork stoppers were made in the days of the Eighteenth century. These first ones were fashioned of metal with a ring at the top, though later the ring became a bar. Its inventor is still a matter for research, since he remains a person shrouded in mystery.

Beavers Keep at Work

So long as a colony of beavers have any use for a dam they have built they keep on adding to and strengthening the structure. Dams that have appeared to be complete when they were 20 feet long and a foot or two high have eventually grown to a length of several hundred feet and a height of six or seven feet or more.

Know Any Older?

One of the oldest schoolhouses in America stands at Round Pond, near Bristol, Maine. It is one hundred and five years old. The preface place near Yarmouth, Mass., has a barn on it that was built before the boy George Washington started chopping cherry trees. It is constructed of timber from local woodlands.

Icy Isolation

In icy and isolated Russkoye Ustye, Siberia, the only food is fish and tea, and the only domestic animal which can live in its intensive cold is the dog. Few of the citizens have ever tasted beef, milk or vegetables, or have ever seen a horse, cow or cat.—Collier's Magazine.

Foolish Worry

Worry has always killed more men than work. And the pity of it is that this toll is so utterly useless. Try meeting your problems as you do your notes, when time for settlement is at hand. Worry is merely interest on trouble before it falls due.—Grit.

First New York Theater

The first permanent theater built on Manhattan island was the John Street playhouse, which was built in 1767, and it remained until 1799, practically the only theater in New York city.

Getting Us Tangled

This Week

by ARTHUR BRISBANE

About the Roosevelts.
Money? Plenty of It.
Women Have Courage.
Some Russian Shooting.

Some Americans lack political information. The widow of Theodore Roosevelt received three hundred letters congratulating her on the nomination of her "husband" when Governor Roosevelt was nominated. Thousands of voters think Governor Roosevelt is Theodore Roosevelt's son or brother. The fact is that they are distant cousins, both dating back to a certain Roosevelt of six or seven generations back.

While Governor Roosevelt is a very distant cousin of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, his wife, who was Eleanor Roosevelt, daughter of the late President Roosevelt's brother Eliot, is a close relation of Theodore Roosevelt, being a first cousin of Alice Roosevelt Longworth and the other children of Theodore Roosevelt.

Science goes on steadily, no matter what happens to stocks, taxes, elections, etc. Thirty-six years ago, Roentgen discovered his "X-rays" and physicians used them to look through the flesh into human and animal bodies. Sunday supplements printed interesting, hazy pictures showing skeletons of rats inside the rats and skeletons of ladies and gentlemen inside the living bodies.

To make a dim X-ray picture of a human hand required twenty minutes. Now in New York's Cornell Medical Centre X-ray snapshots will be taken at the rate of 120 per second, or 151,200 times as fast as the early pictures.

Lord Desborough, an Englishman supposed to know something about money and political economy, suggests as a remedy for our troubles "Bimetallism with a world ratio of 20 to 1 for silver."

He says there never has been enough gold in the world to carry on its business and "If all the monetary gold in the world were collected, it would pay about one-third of the British national debt."

Speaking of national debts, it may interest you, considering plans in Germany, France and Britain not to pay the United States debt, to learn that Australia owes her motherland five hundred million pounds, and a half billion dollars, and so far that debt has not been cancelled.

Thick-necked men, and the conceited kind with thin necks, used to say, "Women must not vote, because they lack the courage of us men."

They vote now and every day prove that they have more courage than "us men."

You realize it when you read about Miss Earhart crossing the Atlantic alone, or the two lady pilots, Mrs. Maclellan of Centerville, Miss, and Mrs. Thaden of Baltimore, going up to beat the women's non-stop flying mark of 120 hours.

Americans have been assured that Russia has no respect for women, their rights, or the sacred marriage tie, but certain young Russian hoodlums have not found it so. Following mistreatment of a young girl, four of them have been shot, eight sent to jail for long terms. And no protests or weeping could save them.

Former King Manuel, kicked out of Portugal by subjects tired of monarchy, goes back to be buried there, carried on a ship with the Portuguese flag at half mast. No country objects to the presence of a dead ruler.

When Napoleon's body was brought from St. Helena, to be buried under the gilt dome of Les Invalides on the edge of the Seine, enthusiasm was so great you might have thought he was a Frenchman, instead of an Italian, from Corsica. It was said, "If he had returned to life, he would have slept in the Tuilleries that night."

Washington wanted to sell $550,000,000 long term Treasury notes, some paying two and a half, some three and a half per cent. One issue was subscribed for twelve times. The Government could have had five thousand, five hundred and six millions instead of six hundred and fifty millions, almost ten times what it needed.

This shows that there is money in the country.

Our banks, more heavily loaded with cash than ever before, don't know where to use their surplus money.

But that doesn't mean anything for prosperity. There is much water in the Great Lakes. But if it stayed there, it would do no good. The sun raises part of it, scatters it in rain. That helps crops.

The rest of it goes over Niagara Falls and produces power. That helps public ownership in Canada, and private ownership on the American side.

If the water stayed in the Lakes, refusing to be lifted by the sun's rays for rain and refusing to go over Niagara Falls for power, it wouldn't be useful.

That's the condition of our vast cash resources, now, when money does not circulate.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

A reader of the GRAPHIC sent us a letter this week referring to some of our items regarding Newton in the days of yore. Among other things, he wrote: "I think you would have enjoyed the change from the old-fashioned days if you had seen the other afternoon a young lady smoking (but not nonchalantly) a Chesterfield, in above all places, the encyclopaedia room of the Public Library at Newton."

State officials and officials of the Boston & Albany Railroad have been co-operating with Major Harold Daniels in the latter's effort to lessen the smoke nuisance caused by locomotives which pass through this city during the late night hours, and occasionally by one of the fast express locomotives afternoons.

In the death of Edward N. Soullis, Newton Corner loses one of its most familiar citizens. For 50 years "Ed" Soullis was favorably known to a large portion of the residents of this section of the city, and during his long service as Chaplain of Newton Lodge of Elks, the circle of his friendship widened to all parts of Newton. His funeral service, held yesterday afternoon at Elks Home, Newton, was largely attended. It was conducted by the officers of Newton Lodge and the eulogy was delivered by Hon. Edwin O. Childs. Mr. Childs extolled the fine qualities of "Ed" Soullis; labelled him a real man and a true friend, referred to the pride he took in his occupation, where he was an artisan and not a mere worker; and praised the high quality of citizenship and devotion to Elksdom which had been manifested by the deceased. The large attendance evidenced the esteem in which Mr. Soullis was held.

Two Forms of Tragedy

We are apt to make too much of the tragedy of death and think so little of the enduring tragedy of some men's lives that we see more to lament for in a life cut off in the midst of usefulness and love than in one that miserably survives all love and usefulness and goes about the world the phantom of itself, without hope or joy or any consolation.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Horse's Hair Turned White

When an airplane landed in a field near Wrexham, England, it frightened a race horse so badly that its black mane turned completely white and there are streaks of gray in its tail. As the machine approached the ground the animal suddenly jumped in fright from behind a tree and galloped in front of the plane until it landed. Four days later the mane started to lose color.

Washington's First Battle

The engagement at Great Meadows, Pa., May 28, 1754, was George Washington's first fight. He was then twenty-two years old and in command of English troops which had gone forth to build a fort on the Monongahela. Ten of the French force were killed and the rest captured. Washington lost one killed and three wounded.

Pelicans Holding Own

While there are fewer white pelicans in the United States than there were 50 years ago, there is little evidence that there has been a marked diminution in numbers during recent years, according to the National Association of Audubon Societies.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 14.

The Golden Text is: "Now the just shall live by faith; but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him. But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition; but of them that believe to the saving of the soul" (Hebrews 10:38, 39).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick. . . . And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere" (Luke 9:1, 2, 6). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation" (p. 210).

The Raisin Isle

The Island of Crete, in the Mediterranean, is the Isle of citrons, olive oil and sultana raisins, but chiefly the latter. In the large cities and at the ports one may see in the rather dark factories the different processes the grapes undergo in order to become the golden sultanas which we know in America. To see the immense wharves at Sitia covered for vast areas with the golden fruit is a sight not quickly forgotten.

Oil lamps, girl's bicycle, house-hold furniture, clothing, and men's shoes, are much needed by the Welfare Bureau.

Old Orders Retained

Some of the standing orders still in force in the British house of commons are over two centuries old. And old Norman French is still in use in certain instances, notably the use of the phrase, "Le Roy le veult" (the king wishes it) in giving the royal assent to a bill.

"Closet Dramas"

To describe dramas which are written to be read and not acted the term closet drama is used. Much of Browning's dramatic writing is of this character.

REASSURING

A lady was seated with her little girl in a railway carriage when a frowzy-looking individual entered the compartment.

A few minutes before the train started the lady, perceiving that she would have to travel with an undesirable companion, thought of an excuse to rid herself of him. Leaning forward, she said: "I ought to tell you, my little girl is just getting over an attack of scarlet fever, and perhaps—"

"Oh, don't worry about me, madame," interrupted the man, "I'm committing suicide at the first tunnel."

Shy on Horses

Her car had broken down on the road opposite a field where a farmer was plowing with a four-horse team. The farmer came over and offered to pull the car to the nearest garage with his team.

"I appreciate your kind offer more than I can tell you," the lady in distress told the farmer, "but, unfortunately, you would need 12 more horses. You see, my car has a 16-horsepower motor." —Capper's Weekly.

Removed Bodily

He had gone into the manager's office to inquire if he could have the Saturday morning off for the purpose of digging up his garden.

"But my dear man," said the manager, "Smith told me only a day or two ago that you hadn't a garden."

"Well, then," was the reply, "someone must have taken it off the window sill." —Nebelspalter.

Adjustment

"Many believe we are due for a period of adjustment," said the solemn adviser.

"That is the way politics has always been," commented Senator Sorghum. "There has never been a time when one group of patriots wasn't trying to adjust another group out of office and themselves in." —Washington Star.

Overheard by J. W.

THE USUAL THING

"And how did you spend your month's vacation?"

"Well, I spent the first two weeks trying to look as if I were just going away and the last two weeks trying to look as if I had just gotten back."

Vanished Outlawry

"I frequently wish for good old comic opera."

"So do I," said Miss Cayenne. "I remember with the greatest pleasure the days when the public's idea of an outlaw was a man who sang baritone and carried a bow and arrow instead of a machine gun."

Agreeable to Either

MANY CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS

The list of candidates for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the 9th District keeps growing. The latest aspirant is William J. Donahoe of Brighton. Donahoe is a lawyer by profession and has represented the Brighton district in the Legislature. He is a veteran of the World War and is vice-president of the Fan-euil Improvement Association.

Walter J. Cusick of Brookline announced his candidacy several months ago. He was born in Brookline 50 years ago and has resided there all his life. He has been a practicing attorney since 1903 and has served as a Selectman of Brookline for many years.

Patrick J. Duane, Mayor of Waltham, another Congressional aspirant, has served several terms as chief executive of that city, has been a State Representative and Deputy United States Marshal. Edward Cauley of Brighton, another candidate, is a lawyer whose platform includes the construction of public buildings and highways—and the reduction of taxes. Also the immediate repeal of the 18th Amendment.

DUTCHLAND FARMS FINED

Trustees of the Fred S. Field Holstein Dutchland Farms, owners of the Dutchland Farms store at Washington street, Newtonville, were fined $50 in the Newton Court on Friday for selling butter which tested under 80% butter fat content prescribed by law. Henry Mosman, Inspector of the State Board of Health testified that two samples of butter he had tested averaged only 78.44%. Earl Upton, treasurer and general manager of the Dutchland Farms Company appeared from the fine, and then withdrew the appeal.

Book-Binding Phrase

The term forage painting, used in bookbinding, is a corruption of the word fore edge, used to describe the delicate painting or decoration applied to the extreme front edges of the book. When the book was closed only blotches or masses of colors showed, but when the leaves of the book were partially spread—delicate tracery, artistic designs, and sometimes elaborate pictures were revealed. Samuel Meane, bookbinder to King Charles II of England, is credited with originating this form of decoration.

Heavy Concrete Block

The block of concrete poured at the George Washington Masonic memorial is not the largest single block of concrete ever poured at one time. There is much work on dams, canal locks, etc., that exceed it, but for the limited area covered the statement can be safely made that this mat is one of the heaviest under any building. It contains 8,794 cubic yards of 1-2-4 concrete and 720 tons of 1½-inch square reinforcing bars.

Oldest Canadian Park

Banff National park, in the province of Alberta, is the oldest of Canada's playgrounds, the original reservation having been set aside in 1885. It comprises an area of 2,585 square miles of territory. Reserved for the enjoyment of all who visit it, it is also a wild life sanctuary, evidence of which is manifest in the large number of mountain sheep, deer and bear to be seen in the areas adjacent to the highways of the park.

Profitable Weeping

A number of married men were recently dining together at their club. The question was asked, "What trait in your wife do you consider the most expensive one?" The answers were as numerous as the men in the party. With one it was vanity, another religion, or charity, or love of dress. The last man to whom the question was put answered oracularly, "Her tears!"—Exchange.

Gibraltar's Conformation

The highest point of the Rock of Gibraltar is at the north end, toward Spain. The highest point of the rock is 1,396 feet above sea level. Its north face is almost perpendicular. It terminates at its southern extremity in Europa point, which runs down to the sea. The west side is less steep than the east, and between its base and the sea is a narrow level, on which the town is built.

Food for Emergencies

Laboratory tests have proved conclusively that it is possible to stay awake for greater lengths of time and with far less after-effect in nature of fatigue, when highly concentrated foods such as cakes, candy or sweetened drinks are consumed at intervals during the night.

No Escape From Blame

Professor Finds Tomb

of Egypt's First Queen

The great pyramid discovered at Gizeh, by Prof. Selim Hassan is believed to be the tomb of Queen Khentkawes, who was possibly the wife of King Nefererikara, the third king of the Fifth dynasty. This ancient monument lies near the Great Pyramid of Cheops, and is the tomb of the first Egyptian lady to bear the title of "Queen." It is built against the solid rock, which forms one side, and its base measures about 150 feet.

The superficial area of the pyramid is about 3,300 square yards, which shows that it is somewhat smaller than the third pyramid. It is also slightly different in formation.

The existence of a fourth pyramid has been suspected for a considerable time. The pyramid now discovered probably disappeared from view more than twenty centuries ago.

225 Unpaid Assistants Will Help Count Ballots At Polls In Newton

Regular Election Officials Will Be Aided by 225 Citizens, Including 100 School Teachers

There will be more persons counting votes at the coming elections in Newton than have voted at some primaries in this city in years past. If some of the ballots are as legible as some ballots have been in other years, and in view of the long list of aspirants for political offices, it may be feasible to use algebra in ascertaining the results. The list of official election officers and the public spirited volunteers who will serve gratis follows—

The appointment of 225 volunteers, including about 100 teachers, to count votes without compensation at the coming elections in Newton, was announced today by City Clerk Frank M. Grant.

Dr. Eddy to Speak At Union Service In Central Church

Subject to Be "International Co-operation Way Out"

Newtonville residents who are attending the Union Sunday Services at the Central Congregational Church are anticipating the meeting on next Sunday morning when Rev. D. Brewer Eddy, D.D., is to be the preacher. Dr. Eddy, a prominent member of the Church and recently its Moderator, always attracts large congregations whenever he preaches. His wide personal acquaintance with people of the world and his clear analysis of international questions give him an authority for which many today are waiting. His convincing manner of speaking coupled with a forceful, dynamic personality quickly captures his hearers.

REV. D. BREWER EDDY

Dr. Eddy since his student days at Yale has always been interested in world affairs from the Christian viewpoint. He has devoted his life to the cause of Foreign Missions as a Secretary of the American Board. Just now he is in close touch with conditions in many countries and sees the need of closer co-operation among them all if prosperity is to be discovered again. "Competition among the nations has wrecked the world" is his belief. He adds, "The way out of the present calamity lies in increasing economic and social relations with American leadership."

Dr. Eddy will use for his sermon, "International Co-operation—the Way Out." The service begins at 10:30. The congregation is also looking forward to the return of its popular baritone soloist, Franklin Field, who will sing on Sunday, Miss Lillian West will preside at the organ.

JAMES LOMAX CLARK

James Lomax Clark, formerly of Claremont street, Newton, died on August 12th at the summer home of the family in Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire. His father, James E. During the World War he served by engaging in experimental work in gas warfare and his health became affected by this service. He is survived by his widow, a young daughter, one sister, Mrs. Mildred Crook of Cambridge, and his stepmother. His funeral services, which were private, were held on August 14.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Expert dietitians at Lynn have decided that unemployed requiring aid can be properly fed on an allowance of $1.20 per week for each person. Are these expert dietitians spending only $1.20 weekly for their food? Expert dietitians, like other experts, frequently preach what they don't practice. We once were employed by a corporation which, during its prosperous years spent considerable of its profits in bettering the condition of its employees. Among other things this mill started a cafeteria where food was served each noon at reasonable prices. An expert dietitian was employed to arrange the menus at the cafeteria. One of the early menus arranged by this expert consisted of frankfurts, baked beans and pickles. We haven't had much faith in expert dietitians since.

Coming back to the $1.20 weekly food allowance. Such a scientific, economical diet may lessen expenditures, but it will increase tuberculosis, anemia, rickets and other diseases resulting from lack of proper nutrition, and cause plenty of expense for taxpayers in future years.

Last week we quoted from a letter received from a reader in which he told of observing a young woman smoking in the encyclopedia room at the Newton Public Library. Lest some of our readers may have concluded that smoking is permitted in the rooms at the library, it should be stated that we have been informed by a library employee that the young woman who was observed smoking by a patron of the library, was ordered to stop before she had half smoked the cigarette, and that she was the only person who attempted this liberty in the reference room.

The intersection of Jewett and Pearl streets, Newton, has been the scene of a number of serious automobile accidents. In an effort to prevent more accidents at this place a flashing traffic signal was installed at the southwest corner of the two streets a couple of years ago. For some time this signal has not flashed; it has been a fixed light. As such, it is of little value, might as well be discontinued, and the cost of the electricity it uses saved. This also applies to other traffic signals in this city which are supposed to flash, and don't. Incidentally, Pearl street continues to be used as a speedway by some motorists who drive by dangerous intersections such as Jewett and Thornton streets at high rates of speed.

The construction work on Washington street is completed well ahead of schedule time. Newton now has at least one modern highway. It needs many more. Rather than have outside contractors come into the city, hiring non-resident workers, would it not be sensible and practicable for the city to keep its Street Department employees employed, and possibly give employment to some men now receiving aid by rebuilding some of our highways sadly in need of repairs. Admitting that streets can be constructed by contractors at less cost, this difference would be quickly wiped out if the city had to pay relief allotments to a large number of men who might be engaged in such useful work as rebuilding streets.

Queen Marie Antoinette was alleged to have remarked, when told that the people of France were starving, and had no bread to eat, "Give them cake." With millions of persons in the United States begging for food, the big question of the present political campaign seems to be whether, or not, the people of this country will save beer, what good will legalized beer be if a large percentage of our folks won't have any money to buy it? The liquor question is a vital one and must be met. But a more important problem to many is "When do we eat?"

CARS CRASH AT WEST NEWTON

About 1 o'clock Tuesday morning a car crashed into a pole at River and Lexington streets, West Newton, and then hit a tree. The car overturned and plumed three of its occupants underneath. They were James Gauthier of 49 Chestnut street, Waltham, who had three ribs fractured; Mrs. Thelma Gauthier, his daughter-in-law, whose hands were badly cut; and Mrs. Rose Sprague, also of Chestnut street, Waltham, who received injuries to her face. They were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. The automobile was registered in the name of Edward Smith of Alder street, Waltham. Residents of the neighborhood told the police that two men who had been in the car when the accident occurred fled from the scene. Patrolmen Foley and McGrath questioned the injured occupants of the car and warrants have been issued for the arrest of Smith and he will be charged with reckless driving and with leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. He also received injuries in the crash.

WASHINGTON STREET SPEEDER FINED $20

William Burleigh of 420 Memorial Drive, Cambridge, was fined $20 in the Newton court yesterday when he was found guilty of going at express train speed on the new, smooth surface of Washington St. Motorcycle Officer Dowling testified that Burleigh had driven at a speed of 60 miles an hour between West Newton and Newtonville, and 52 miles ap hour between Newtonville and Newton Corner.

Many Candidates At Primaries on September 20th

Several Newton Men Seeking Important Offices

A brigade of aspirants for political offices will appear on the ballots in Massachusetts at the primary elections on September 20. The number qualifying for places on the ballots is 2300. Frank Goodwin is showing considerable strength in his quest for the Republican nomination and will give William Youngman a hard fight. Gaspar G. Bacon, President of the Senate is conducting a well organized campaign for Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor and should win over Chester I. Campbell.

Newton has a candidate for Governor in the person of William R. Ferry of Bellevue street, Newton, who will run as a candidate of the Prohibition Party. Mr. Ferry is in the real estate business and is an ardent advocate of prohibition. Another resident of this city, John F. Malley of Chestnut Hill, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor. Malley is a former Grand Exalted Ruler of Newton Lodge of the Elks. J. Edward Callanan of Newton, real estate man and former Exalted Ruler of Newton Lodge of the Elks, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State. He has eleven opponents.

In the fight for Congress in the newly formed 8th District, which includes Newton, Congressman Robert Luce is being opposed for the Republican nomination by Ralph W. Robart of Cambridge and Jacob Wasserman of Chestnut Hill. The latter has only been a resident of this city and the district for a short time and was not when he announced his candidacy. Robart has actively sought political office and was a candidate for Mayor of Cambridge against the late Edward Quinn. Congressman Luce, because of his long and outstanding service in Congress will probably win the nomination. The list of aspirants for the Democratic nomination in the 9th Congressional District includes the following: Patrick J. Duane of Waltham; Edward T. Cauley, Boston; Walter J. Cusick, Brookline; Edward F. Dalton, Newton; Frederick S. Deitrick, Cambridge; John L. Delaney, Cambridge; William Donahue, Boston; John H. Fahey, Watertown; John P. Higgins, Cambridge; George M. McCarthy, Newton; John L. Norton, Cambridge; Francis J. O'Gorman, Boston. The outstanding candidates in this platform are Duane of Waltham, who has been Mayor of that city for several terms; Cusick of Brookline, who has served as Selectman in that town for many years; Donahue of Brighton, who has served that district in the Legislature, and Delaney, who has a strong following in Cambridge. John H. Vahey of Watertown is waging a determined fight and may surprise the many contestants in this battle royal.

In the contests for State offices Senator Arthur W. Hollis of Newton is unopposed for the Republican nomination and should win. For nominations to the House of Representatives spirited battles will take place in both Newton districts for the Republican nominations. In the 4th Middlesex District comprising Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 William B. Baker of West Newton and Rupert C. Thompson of Newtonville again seek the office. The other candidate will be Warren K. Brimblecom of Newtonville, managing editor of the NEWTON GRAPHIC. In the 5th District which includes Wards 4, 5 and 6 Leverett Saltanestall and Clara Luitwiler, present Representatives seek re-election. They will be opposed by Alderman Henry W. Ball of Newton Highlands, former Alderman Harold Young of Abundantale and Mrs. Margaret Speare of Newton Centre. Mr. Saltanestall, who has achieved prestige as a Speaker of the House will probably receive one of the nominations and the fight will be for the other nomination. Candidates for the Democratic nominations are Daniel O'Connell of Nevada street, Newtonville and James Flynn also of Newtonville, in the 4th Middlesex District; and Edward O. Proctor of Glen avenue, Newton Centre in the 5th District.

CANDIDATES FOR SHERIFF

Edward J. Shelock of Watertown, who for several years has been assigned to Middlesex County as a State Detective, has announced that he will seek the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Middlesex County. Major Edward J. Connelly of Wakefield, veteran of the Spanish and World Wars, will seek the Democratic nomination for this office. He served in France as a Captain and Major of the 104th Infantry and was wounded in action there.

DR. HERRICK TO PREACH AT WEST NEWTON UNION SERVICES

Dr. Everett C. Herrick, president of Another Newton Theological School will preach the sermon at the union service to be held in the Lincoln Park Baptist Church in West Newton, at 10:45.

Aldermen Vote To Establish Department Of Billing and Stenography

Appropriate $5500 for Services of Alan Duff of Newtonville Who Will Assist in Organizing New Department

True to the precedent of former years, the Newton Board of Aldermen, which was supposed to have a vacation until September 12th, was summoned to attend a special meeting on Monday night. Of the 21 members of the Board, 13 sweltered at City Hall for a couple of hours. The missing eight could not be blamed if they refused to journey back to Newton from their summer homes. Because there was not a quorum of the Finance Committee present, no report could be made by this committee on the matter of appropriations coming before the Board for action, and so the rules were suspended to permit the appropriating of a more $58,253. Of this sum $92,000 was for the work to be done on the laying of the 16 inch water main along Boylston St. and the purchase of the pipes and fittings for this. The contract for laying the pipes was awarded to L. Frederick of Boston, the lowest bidder. His bid was $29,537.35.

The contract for furnishing the pipes was given to R. D. Wood Co. of Philadelphia, whose bid was $34,362.61. The city will supply the fittings. One of the matters acted upon at the meeting was the appropriating of $5500 to defray the cost of organizing a new department at City Hall to be known tentatively as a stenography and billing department. This work will be done by Alan Duff of 542 California street, Newtonville, who is associated with the Stone & Webster Corporation. In 1930 Duff was engaged to make a survey of the space required by the various departments at City Hall, and also the feasibility of organizing the proposed department. This survey cost the city $1500. The $5500 which was appropriated on Monday night at the request of Mayor Weeks was for a further study of the new department and work in organizing it. According to Duff and Mayor Weeks, the city will save between $8000 and $10,000 yearly by taking clerks and stenographers from the offices of the various departments at City Hall, consolidating them into one office where the billing and stenography work will be done, and have department heads assigned one of these stenographers whenever they need to give dictation or have typing done. According to Mayor Weeks the change will not reduce the number of stenographers or clerks now employed at City Hall, but it will render unnecessary the hiring of temporary clerks and stenographers from the offices of the various departments at City Hall, and it will promote efficiency and economy. The venture is a new experiment for cities. Mr. Duff, who has had experience in public utility activities has had none in municipal work in such a line.

The statutes of the Commonwealth specify the conduct of the various departments of municipal activities, and the laws will have to be considered in the proposed radical change. Certain powers and functions are assigned to different city officials and these cannot be ignored even in the pursuit of efficiency and economy.

Other appropriations made on Monday night were $451.71 as a pension for Oscar Colby of the Fire Department, who has reached the age limit; and a pension of John J. Hurley of the Street Department, veteran driver of the old waste paper wagon, and one of the most expert horsemen ever in the employ of the city.

Mayor Weeks had requested the appropriation of $12,000 to develop the proposed playground at Cold Spring Swamp, Newton Highlands, and thereby furnish work for the unemployed. Action on this was deferred until the next meeting.

HOUSE BURNS AT NEWTONVILLE

At 1:04 last Saturday morning Patrolman Marshall discovered the home of Dr. Henry Gooley at 8 Bacon road, afire. He pulled Box 25 and when the firemen arrived and broke into the house they found a serious fire which had spread through the first floor of the house and did damage estimated at about $1000. The Gooleys placed a ham on a stove in the basement of the house early in the evening and then departed on a visit. Heat from the stove ignited a nearby partition.

NEWTON MAN NEARLY KILLED IN TRENCH CAVE-IN

Rocco Compagnone of 83 Faxon St., Nonantum, was nearly suffocated on Wednesday afternoon when a trench on Commonwealth avenue, Abundantale, 12 feet deep, caved in and the earth buried him. The trench is that dug for the big Metropolitan water main. Fellow workmen, digging desperately uncovered Compagnone in about 3 minutes. The unconscious man was rushed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and revived.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Mothers' Day Brings Many to Ctr. Playground

Pet Show Proves To Be a Popular Feature

The annual Mothers' Day and Field Day was held Wednesday at the Newton Centre playground at 3 o'clock with a program of parade, shows, games and dances augmenting the usual exhibition of handwork which the children of the community have completed during the past two months.

Prizes were awarded to three boys and three girls who have received 100 points for the part they have taken in various activities. They were: Robert Maddocks, William De Stefano, Thomas Loughlin, Dorothy Maddocks, Rita Sullivan and Catherine Burke.

William De Stefano was the winner in the horribles parade and Joanne McCusky in the doll carriage parade. The pet show proved a popular feature among the children as well as the adults present, with "Buddy" Porter winning the prize for the most popular pet and Robert Penny that for the oldest pet. In the dancing competition the honors went to Dorothy Maddocks, Ann at Florida Gloria Florin, Katherine Sweeney, Kay Burke and Rita Sullivan. In the girls' handicraft exhibition the winners were Catherine Burke, Catherine Sweeney and Gloria Florin.

A Punch and Judy show was staged by Carl Penny, one of the playground directors.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

FIRST GAME IN SERIES RESULTS IN 7 TO 7 TIE

Newton and Watertown all-star Twilight League teams opened their series at Watertown last Monday night with a 7 to 7 tie game which had one of the greatest gatherings of baseball fans in the community's history as its audience. The five-inning affair, which was terminated by darkness, had the fans on edge throughout as first one team and then the other apparently had the game tucked away, only to have the opponents tie the score.

Newton took a one-run lead in the first and Watertown promptly took revenge with a three-run rally. Newton countered in the second frame with a three-run rally to put the Garden City outfit in front again with a one-run margin. The next frame saw each team pushing two counters across, with the Newton nine maintaining its edge. In the fourth frame a single run gave Coach Donahue's team a 7 to 5 margin. With two down in the fifth, a hit batsman and loose fielding of a single allowed Watertown to tie the score and escape defeat as Umpire Forster called the game at the conclusion of that inning, as darkness was rapidly falling. Jimmy Murphy of Our Lady High fame and Joe Dwyer of Watertown High School were the rival mounds-men at the opening of the contest. Each was found for several runs, although not hit hard, and both were finally relieved by George Hokanson of the Newton Y and Jimmy Ryan, Watertown's police nine pitcher.

The last half of the fifth inning, disastrous from the Newton viewpoint, offered Watertown the opportunity to avert the defeat which was staring them in the face. Two runs behind and a hit batsman sandwiched between two strikeouts made the cause even more gloomy for Watertown when Johnny Manteno, Watertown right fielder, came to bat. He laced a screaming single to centre which Outfielder O'Connell got set for, only to see the ball elude his glove and between his legs into uncovered territory. The error allowed both the base-runner and Manteno to score and tie the game at 7 all. When Pelkey fanned for the third out the umpires decided it was too dark to continue.

Murphy and Hokanson had somewhat of a battle in the Watertown pitchers as between them they allowed but six hits, all singles, while the Newton batters found Dwyer and Ryan for seven safeties, including a triple by Mullen and a double by Huston. The Watertown hits were scattered among six different players, while both Huston and Connell connected twice to lead the five Newton batters who hit safely. Mullen of Newton and Blake of Watertown were the leading scorers with three runs each.

The teams will battle again at six o'clock tonight at Cladin Field, Newtonville, in an effort to settle the supremacy of one outfit over the other, and another dark night is expected. The series hinges on this game as no others will be played.

SPORT NOTES

Girls Outsell Boys

The inter-camp sailing races last week Thursday at Buzzards Bay between the girls of Camp Quanset, East Orleans, and the boys of Camp Mashnee on the shore of Buzzards Bay, resulted in a 17 to 12 victory for the girls. Three races were held. The first race, with two boats on each team, was for beginners as skippers with two advanced sailors as crew. The latter helped only to manage the centre board and jib under the skipper's direction and were not allowed to make suggestions. Margaret Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger S. Hodges of Waban park, Newton, was the skipper of one of the boats. In the race in which advanced sailors were the skippers and two others were the crew, Lois Rockwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Rockwood of Lakewood road, Newton Highlands, was in charge of one of the Quanset boats and Margaret Hodges was the skipper of the other. In the third race, combined for beginners and advanced sailors, Margaret Hodges was also in charge of the beginners. The boats used in the races were Cape Cod knockabouts while at the races this week at Camp Quanset baybirds will be used. As there is considerable interest among the campers in these races it is expected that they will become an annual event.

Miss Rice Loses

Virginia Rice, former Newton Centre girl, was eliminated from the Women's national tennis tournament at Forest Hills on Tuesday by Helen Jacobs of California who is expected to accede to the title held by Mrs. Helen Wills Moody. Miss Jacobs' victory over Miss Rice was an impressive one in straight sets, 6-0, 6-1.

Martin Loses Semi-final

Don Martin of West Newton lost his semi-final match in the Oceanside tennis tournament at Manchester-by-the-Sea yesterday in the men's singles when Herbert Tuller of Salem captured a 6-4, 6-4 victory. Martin and his partner, L. Treuburn, were also eliminated from the doubles tournament in a semi-final round match with Rowbotham and Rodman, 6-2, 3-6, 3-6.

Newton Woman Eliminated

In the feature match of the day at the Squirrel Island tennis tournament Miss Marion Wing of Portland defeated Mrs. H. K. Nash of Newton in a three set affair in the women's singles tourney, 1-6, 7-5, 6-4. The victory advanced Miss Wing to the final round. In the men's doubles tournament Malcolm Hill of Waban and Alfred Turner of Woburn reached the semi-final round by defeating Snyder and Morse of Hartford.

TIE FOR PLAY-OFF POSITIONS IN CITY TWI-LEAGUE RACE

Play-off games to decide the teams which will meet for the championship series in the City of Newton Twilight League race are in order as the result of the games the past week. On Wednesday night the Silver Lake A. C. and the Newton Cubs wound up their regular season in a game at Victory Field which saw the Cubs coming through to win a 4 to 1 victory. The crowd, probably the largest in the history of the local amateur circuit, was at fever pitch throughout as the outcome of the game was in doubt up to the final out with the Silver Lake nine striving vainly to earn the victory. The win for the Cubs placed them in a tie for first place in the league with the Silver Lake team which has been on or near the first rung of the ladder all season. Each has a season record of 16 wins and 4 losses. In order to settle the race for first position, the winners of which will receive silver baseballs emblematic of the honors, a play-off game will be staged on Sunday at three o'clock on the Cabot park diamond. With the interest in the race far above that of previous years and due to the fact that a great game is in prospect an overflow crowd is expected. The losing team will then meet the third place holder in a best two out of three game series to determine which shall meet the winner of the Sunday game between the Silver Lake and Cubs in the championship series. This series will be the best three in five games.

Third place in the local race is also as yet undecided as the Newton Y and the Highlands A. A. will engage in a play-off game for this berth next Monday night at Cabot Park. The Y nine assured itself of a tie for third by turning back the Highlands team on Wednesday night by a 5 to 3 score. This game concluded the Y team's games in the league race with a mark of 15 wins and 5 losses. Highlands had one game to play and needed a victory to catch the "Y" team. Coming back strong last night at Abundant the Highlands team put over a 5 to 3 victory to bring about the deadlock for third place.

With the season's games concluded and the play off games on the card for Sunday and Monday the preliminary series between the second and third place teams will begin on Wednesday night at Cabot Park. Weather permitting the three games will be staged on successive nights so that by Friday night the series will be concluded. Should the "Y" team win from the Highlands in the play-off game on Monday the entire series will be staged at Cabot Park against either the Cubs or Silver Lake. Should the Highlands team get into the series the Thursday night game will be played at the Highlands playground.

The "little world" series will be held the following week with all of the games being played at Cabot Park unless the Highlands team is a contender. Starting Monday there will be a game every night until one of the teams wins three games.

Police News

Four youths were in the Newton court on Tuesday charged with swimming in the Charles River at Abundant in the nude. They were summoned into court by Serg. Chisholm of the Metropolitan Police after Abundant residents had complained. Judge Bacon placed the four on probation for 30 days. The hearing, the name "City of Newton" was stolen from a steam roller on Commonwealth avenue, West Newton last Friday night. Street Commissioner Stuart estimated it would cost $50 to replace the plate.

William Goodbar of 17 Chapin road, Newton Centre, was scheduled to appear in the Newton court last Friday to answer a charge of speeding. He did not show up, so a warrant was issued for his arrest and he was taken into custody by Patrolman Howley. In court on Saturday he was fined $5. He was also charged with not stopping at a traffic light set against him. This charge was placed on file.

Parker W. Pillsbury of 53 Bow street, Newton Centre, was arrested about 4 a. m. Sunday by patrolmen Hayden and Foley on Auburn street, Abundant, charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He was in the Newton court on Monday and his case was continued until August 24.

Joseph Stokes, 15, of 55 Green street, Nonantum, was captured by Special Officer Frank Feeley and Inspector Goode of the Newton police at Newtonville on Tuesday afternoon after he had burglarized the home of Russell Bonnyne at 34 Prospect street. Goode and Feeley saw the youth, carrying a bundle, which subsequently was found to contain two boxes of cigars, two bottles of liquor and a strong box. Feeley jumped from the car and chased the boy, catching him as he jumped into a brook back of the house. Questioned by the police, the boy confessed to having burglarized the homes of Ell, 21 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville, and Ellison Day, 90 Hull street, Newtonville. Young Stokes implicated Louis Colella, 15, of 61 Chapel street, Nonantum, as having been an accomplice of his in the burglaries. Both boys were arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and held for the juvenile session today in $1,000 bail each.

Police News

J. Lester Carter was arrested at West Newton when he blew the horn on his car too insistently. A couple of policemen were attempting to resuscitate a young woman in an automobile after she had gone out of the picture from too much booze. Carter drove up behind the parked car in which the soused young woman was lying and kept blowing the horn to have the other car move. When Pa-troman Lawrence O'Donnell went back to remonstrate with Carter for making so much noise in wee hours of the morning he arrested the Wal-than man for driving while drunk.
 Carter was represented in court by Benjamin Thornburg, a Waltham attorney. Thornburg argued that the odor of liquor which Patrolman O'Donnell testified he detected from Carter's breath, was really an alcoholic rebound off O'Donnell's clothing. According to Thornburg's ingenious argument, it was a sort of alcoholic double carom. The odor of the fire-water, according to the Waltham attorney, wafted from the intoxicated young lady's breath onto O'Donnell's uniform, thence into O'Donnell's nose.
 To illustrate this theory, Thornburg took the liberty to light a cigarette and blow the smoke towards Inspector King, who was prosecuting the case. Judge Brown failed to be impressed by Thornburg's argument and sentenced Carter to 30 days in jail, fined him $5 for drunkenness and license amounts for driving without a license and driving without a registration. Carter appealed.

SAVES FOUR FROM DROWNING

Waldo B. Hutchinson of Auburndale is being acclaimed by the Portland, Maine, papers for the saving of four lives from drowning at East Limington, Me., on Sunday last. A small child wandered beyond its depth, the mother followed to save the child, and being unable to swim, went under.
 The father and another man went to their rescue, but were pulled down.
 Mr. Hutchinson, about 100 yards away ran to their rescue and towed the mother and child into shallow water and then dived twice after the two men. Artificial respiration finally revived the four and Mr. Hutchinson expresses gratitude that what he was taught as a boy in several seasons at Camp Frank A. Day at East Brookfield served him so well in this time of need.

OLD LANDMARK BEING RAZED AT NEWTON CORNER

The old Bank Building at Newton Corner which stood on Richardson Park, now occupied by present Bank Building. The building in the picture was moved to its present location at the rear of the Gas Co. Head-quarters in 1897.

With the razing of the building which for years had been used as the offices of the Gas Company at 308 Washington street, Newton Corner, another of Newton's old landmarks will disappear. The oil at the rear of this building was the back wing of the old Newton Bank Building, erected about three-quarters of a century ago. The late Francis Murdock of Newton was formerly an executive in both the old Newton National Bank and the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company. When it was decided in 1896 to replace the small, old bank building by the larger, ornate structure now housing the Newton Savings Bank and Newton Trust Company, Mr. Murdock, probably because of the sentiment he had for his old office in the bank building, had the Gas Company purchase the structure, and it was removed from its site to the location at 308 Washington street, opposite Bacon street, and a front section added to it.

With so much agitation about prohibition and the liquor problem during late years, it is interesting to note that this question was one of the uppermost in the lives of the Americans over a century ago. The Massachusetts Society for the Suppression of Intemperance was formed at the State House in Boston on February 5, 1813.
 The object of the society was "to discourage and suppress the too free use of ardent spirit, and its kindred vices, profaneness and gaming, and to encourage and promote temperance and general morality." Many of the members of this society became discouraged, like some of our modern prohibition advocates, and after some years of failure in their efforts, gave up the fight.

PRESIDENT OF DAMON HALL TO BE ON AIR

"The Great Mistake of This Generation" will be the title of a radio talk to be given by Frank Hardy Damon, President of Damon Hall Junior College of Newton, in an address over Station WBZ on Sunday evening, at 8:30 P. M. Mr. Damon is one of New England's outstanding educators and historians. He is also the author of the Tenthousand History of Newton, Massachusetts, and Co-Editor of Col. Baldwin's Revolutionary Journal. As an economist he is well known. In conjunction with this broadcast will be instrumental numbers by Perley Archambault and Carlton Marble, the popular radio entertainers. Miss Marguerite Porter, Lyric Soprano, will sing a group of Victor Herbert's songs accompanied by Wilbur Burleigh.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Gwilt Andre, the dazzling Danish actress, makes her first screen appearance in "Roar of the Dragon," which will be shown at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, for four days starting Sunday.

The scene of this play, packed with thrills, is in Manchuria. A ruthless band of Mongols, brandishing swords and fingering ancient pistols, ride out of the night into a terror stricken town. The bandits seek as their prize a beautiful Russian emigre who has taken refuge with the other whites in the stockade. Miss Andre takes the part of the mysterious hunted Russian woman. Richard Dix carries the leading male part.

The American Temperance Society was founded at Boston on February 13, 1826. One of its 16 founders was Rev. William Jenks, D.D., a native of Newton. On the 15th of the following December a branch of the society was proposed in Newton, and on January 5, 1827, a meeting was held at the Centre Schoolhouse to organize.
 The constitution of this local temperance society was signed by Samuel Hyde, William Jackson, Joel Fuller and Seth Davis. The society was the butt of much ridicule and opposition, but new members flocked into it and in a short time its members included hundreds of residents of the town.
 For several winters weekly meetings were held in a building at West Newton used as a private academy. Debates were held on current topics, and a library of several hundreds of volumes was gathered. It was named the Adelphean Library. An "Institution for Savings" was also started.
 This action was taken on March 3, 1829. The original members of the Savings Institution were: John Kenrick, Asa Cook, Seth Davis, Stephen Goodhue, William Jackson, Amos Lyon, Joel Fuller, Henry Crafts, Nathaniel Fuller, Samuel Hyde, Ephraim Jackson, 2nd, Marshall S. Rice. On June 17, 1831, the Institution for Savings in the Town of Newton was incorporated. William Jackson was the first president and E. F. Woodward the first treasurer. For many years the meetings of the institution were held at the homes of its treasurers, but on January 9, 1863, the quarters of the institution were located in the bank building at Newton Corner.

This building was located on land formerly occupied by Bacon's Tavern.
 There was a small lawn surrounding the bank building called Richardson Park. In the '30s after the Newton

 Y. M. C. A. had been organized, religious meetings were held in the yard of the bank building on the Centre street side. A small, portable organ was used to accompany the singers at these meetings and cornet solos added to the programs. When it was planned to widen Washington street and it became evident that the bank building at Newton Corner was not to be removed, a group of Newton Corner business men staged a demonstration to visibly show the need of such removal. A parade of about two-score horse-drawn wagons proceeded about Newton Corner and circled the bank building via Washington, Hall and Centre streets to illustrate the necessity, from a traffic standpoint, of the bank building's removal, and the conversion of the space occupied by it into part of Nonantum square. The demonstration failed to accomplish its purpose. The old bank building was removed a couple of years later, only to be replaced by the much larger building now occupying the site, with the resultant traffic complications which came in later years with the advent of automobiles.

The Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company was organized in 1854 and operated until it was absorbed by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.
 The building now being torn down has been conveyed, according to record, to Gerard D'Amore and Grover Grady of Boston. It will be replaced by a larger two-story building which will be occupied, in part at least, by an office and showroom of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. The clerical department of the Gas Company, formerly housed at Newton, was transferred some months ago to Boston.

 marriage by her uncle, Herbert O.
 Brown of Lewiston.

She wore a gown of light blue geor-

 and carried a bouquet of pink roses, delphinium and gypsophila. Miss Phyllis

 Mildred Peck, sister of the bride, and Miss Jane Thompson of Portland, Me.
 Both were gowned in yellow chiffon with blue hats and slippers and carried old fashioned bouquets.

Frederick Robinson of Needham was the best man and the ushers were William and Louis Ebling, both of New York City.

A reception followed the ceremony.

HANSBURY-HESSION

Miss Katherine Hession, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hession of 14 Highland park, Newtonville, was married to Timothy Hansbury of 3 Warren avenue, West Newton, on Tuesday morning, August sixteenth, at ten o'clock at the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Rev. Robert Mantle performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and rose point lace with a veil of lace held with a cluster of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Louise Joyce Hession, who wore a gown of pink lace trimmed with ostrich feathers and carried a bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath. The groom was attended by his brother, Michael Hansbury as best man, and Francis and John Hession, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at which a large number of guests were present.
 Mr. and Mrs. Hansbury left on a wedding trip to New York, Atlantic City and Washington, and on their return will reside at 14 Highland park, Newtonville.

 labor and prices of building materials been so low.

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club held its weekly meeting at the Woodland Country Club on Monday, August 15.
 The meeting was addressed by Mr.
 Ralph B. Wilson, Vice President of the Babson Statistical Organization.
 His topic was general business and Financial Conditions.

Mr. Wilson said in part that "this period of depression is only one of thirteen in the United States in the past 115 years. A period of prosperity had followed every one of these de-pressions with the exception of this one and that a period of prosperity will follow this one just as surely as day follows night."

"Business over-expansion brings readjustments. Readjustments bring economic problems and unusual opportunities. The course of procedure in a depression is to solve the problems and to seize the opportunities." Mr.
 Wilson stated further "that the causes of the over-expansion which led to the present readjustment were: The World War; the greater application of machinery in manufacturing than ever before; the increased efficiency of labor; the development of agricultural science; uneconomic sales stimuli; immature management and volume mania."

"The readjustment from the over-expansion has brought up the problems of reparations, war debts, national budgets, tariffs, and armaments." He also showed that it would be an unwise policy to reduce the war debt unless foreign countries reduce their expenditures for war. The war debts could not be cancelled. "They can only be transferred to us and the expense of governing ourselves has increased 365% in the past nineteen years."

"In the period of present opportunities stocks could be bought for 10c on the dollar and bonds had recently sold lower than they have sold since 1875. Similar opportunities exist in the commodity markets—many commodities selling cheaper than ever before in the history of statistical information."

"Just as soon as big business begins to buy basic raw materials and just as soon as investors begin to buy the bargains in stocks and bonds, just so soon will we start on the road to recovery that leads to prosperity again. Evidence in buying is already appearing," and Mr. Wilson believes that the worst is past and that we are now on the road to recovery.

NEWTONVILLE MAN ARRESTED

 The latter suspected that her husclue furnished the police there resulted in his arrest. Special Officer Feeley went to Baltimore on Wednesday to bring Lewis back to Newton.

A WORD OF EXPLANATION

Recent issues of the daily papers carried articles to the effect that because we are a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative from the 4th Middlesex District Mayor Weeks had dropped our name, along with another political aspirant, from the roll of election officers. In order that, in our own case at least, the impression created by these news items may be corrected, we present the true facts. More than two months ago we requested City Clerk Frank Grant not to renew the appointment we have held as inspector at the polls in Ward 2 for the past several years as we intended to become a political candidate. We have also been informed by the City Clerk that our name was not upon the original list submitted by him to the Mayor for approval.

The incorrect news articles also stated that the removal as election officers was required by law because of our candidacy. This is not so. While the law requires that no election officer may serve at a polling place where his name appears upon the ballot, it is perfectly legal for any candidate to become an election officer as this appointment is for the entire year and covers all elections coming in that period. If appointed an election officer the political candidate would not, of course, serve at the election in which he was politically interested. There have been many times in the past when political candidates and also office holders have received appointments as election officers in Newton and doubtless the same may happen again.

ARE YOU REGISTERED?

Are you a registered voter? If not do not delay any longer to add your name to the voting lists. You may do so any day between 8.30 and 5 (8.30 to 12 M on Saturdays) at City Hall, through August 31st. The Board of Registrars will hold but one evening session in the present registration period which will be on the final day, August 31st, when the session will continue through the evening until 10 P.M. There will be no other opportunity to register for the primaries and if you desire to nominate the candidate of your choice register NOW.

PICKED UP—HERE AND THERE

For every idle man there are seven employed.

In the past few years savings deposits throughout the country have increased by more than $1,200,000,000 and the people now have in savings banks more than $29,000,000,000.

The number of owners of stocks dealt in on the exchange has increased 38 per cent since 1929. The people have been picking up bargains.

In spite of much hoarding, currency now in circulation totals $5,500,000,000 which is $750,000,000 more than three years ago.

The national income still exceeds $50,000,000,000 a year.

Governmental expenses have increased many fold and will continue to be a drawback unless a fair and just program of reduction in expense is adopted.

Recent Deaths

GEORGIA A. HUTCHINS

Georgia Crabtree Hutchins, wife of Maxwell C. Hutchins, former Chairman of the Newton School Committee, passed away at their summer home at College Pond, Plymouth, Mass., on Tuesday, Aug. 16.

She was born in Ellensburg, N. Y., April 26, 1873, the daughter of Nancy (Shelton) and John Crabtree.

On August 1, 1894, she became the wife of Maxwell C. Hutchins. They made their home in Ellensburg, N. Y., until about 20 years ago when they moved to Auburndale where they have since resided.

Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Harold Moore of Ellensburg Center, N. Y., two sons, Maurice and William of Auburndale, four grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Robert McCracken, Winthrop, N. Y.; Mrs. Smith Chilton of Ellensburg Depot, N. Y., and one brother Roy Crabtree, of Norwood, N. Y.

The funeral service was held from her late residence, 346 Auburndale avenue, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Mason Sharp, pastor of Centenary M. E. Church officiating. Music was furnished by Mrs. Franklin Leland. Burial was at Mount Feake cemetery, Waltham.

Mrs. Hutchins has been active in the work of Centenary M. E. Church of which she was a member, having served as President of the Ladies' Aid for several years. At the time of her death she was president of the Missionary Society, a member of the Dorcas Bible Class and of the official Board.

The passing of Mrs. Hutchins not only brings grief to the hearts of her many church friends but also to those to whom she has been a life long friend and neighbor. She was greatly beloved for her helpfulness to others.

"Dear Friend, we miss you.

Can more be said?

To us you are living.

You are not dead.

Your smile a happy memory,
Living with us yet,
Your words of cheer and comfort
We cannot forget.

May we be like thee,
An example of Christianity.
And as the day ends in the setting sun,
May our work, like thine, be 'Well done.'

May we, too smile and cheer
Others, as you did while with us here,
And may our tasks carry on,
Until we all meet in the Great Beyond."

This Week

by ARTHUR BRISBANE

A Lopsided League.
For Nursing Mothers.
Russia Is Building.
Many Utopias.

The important world news, yet to have official confirmation, announces the retirement of Germany, Italy and Japan from the League of Nations. That would leave in the league only two great nations of Europe, England and France.

This is not our affair, for we are pushed into the league.

But with the three nations out of the "Big Five," the league will feel like a contended minus seventy-two legs.

Europe will find itself preparing for war, as in 1914, with no central gathering place, even, for talking about peace.

Japan feels that the league interferes in exclusively Asiatic matters. Germany feels that she has been badly treated.

Italy resents too much advice, and being classed as a child, mentally, by the two big nations that really are the league. If Japan, Italy and Germany get out that will begin a new European chapter.

Sometimes a woman, anxious to nurse her baby that it may have every chance, finds that it is impossible, and many good mothers have been cruelly misjudged in consequence.

Very important is the announcement of the Carnegie Institute that scientists have discovered the hormone, or gland secretion, that causes milk production.

Admirable substitutes for mother's milk have been developed, but there is, as yet, no absolute substitute, especially for the first six months of the child's life. In those months, mother's milk protects the child from various infantile diseases. In the young infant, the leucocytes or white corpuscles that attack disease within the system lack power.

Lady Drummond Hay's article on Russia's airplane program, published recently, should be sent to everybody in our government, and to all financiers of importance. Some of them do not like to think about paying for the world's biggest fleet, forgetting that there is no cheaper defense. But they would pay, rather than admit that Russia rules the air.

Lady Hay, who has flown around the world, and knows airplanes, believes, after visiting Moscow, that Russia firmly intends to surpass the French air fleet, now greatest in the world.

The Russians announce themselves prepared already to dispose, by air bombardment, of Japan's floating war fleet, should Japan attack Vladivostok. Two thousand mechanics are manufacturing planes for Russia as rapidly as possible.

The statement that "Russia's aircraft industry is already greater than that of the United States" may be exaggerated, but it calls for attention.

One more man with "a plan" is a well-meaning Austrian Baron, Karl Ferdinand Tinty, of Austria. He plans to open his ancient castle, Schallaburg, on the wide, swift-flowing Danube, as a haven for the world's great minds. There "exchanging ideas over their pipes," far from the disturbing crowds, the great minds will solve all the world's problems and do away with its ills.

They will do nothing of the kind, of course. That will be done, gradually, by men that were little boys that grew up on solitary farms, or little boys that grew up in the slums and realize what human suffering means. It will be done by scientists working in their laboratories, increasing men's power, and by the dull, invincible power of the masses, occasionally throwing off injustice with one powerful gesture, as in the French Revolution, and more recently in the Russian Revolution.

Dreadful mistakes, and injustice sometimes follow such gestures. But improvement, in the end, comes.

Jean Jacques Rousseau had his idea, which was "a return to nature." He wanted us all to go back and live happily as the savages do, dancing around in our bare feet in the shady forests.

Not one of the "Utopia" makers would be willing to live except as boss, under his own plan. If Mussolini were not the boss of Fascism he would be busy scheming to overthrow Fascism, and would probably succeed.

Mussolini also says that we shall always have war, because "war breeds national courage," and therefore "world peace can never be established." That probably is what the wolves in the State of New Jersey used to think when they devoured the fat deer.

But, in New Jersey, there are plenty of deer, and not a wolf living. "Mutual aid," as Kropotkin proved, in his admirable book, is more potent than any "survival of the fittest" rule.

War will vanish as slavery and cannibalism have vanished, as the habits of killing and eating the old, and drowning girl babies have vanished.

You can't expect everything to happen at once. We are only twelve thousand years old, about two hundred and fifty long generations from the late stone age.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 21.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord hath been mindful of us: he will bless us" (Psalm 115:12).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever" (Romans 11:33,34,36).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind is the grand creator, and there can be no power except that which is derived from Mind. If Mind was first chronologically, is first potentially, and must be first eternally, then give to Mind the glory, honor, dominion, and power everlastingly due its holy name" (p. 143).

Humble Coney Referred to Twice in Scriptures

Psalm 104:18 tells us that—"The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats; and the rocks for the conies;" for the coney has no strong digging claws as has the rabbit, nor has it the powerful hindquarters of the hare. In fact it is classed amongst the most defenseless creatures of the wild, and as such it is referred to in the thirtieth chapter of the Book of Proverbs:

"There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wise. The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer. The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make their houses in the rocks. The locusts have no king yet go they forth all of them by bands. The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in king's palaces."

The wisdom of the coney is shown in the choice it makes of a place for its home, which is usually among a heap, or a lot of fixed and loose rocks among which it hides and about which it moves very elusively when disturbed, as travelers who try to catch one of them soon find out.—Montreal Herald.

Bark as a Delicacy

In early times the Indians of New England were known to eat the tender bark of various trees when their winter supplies had been exhausted. In the western states the Indians relished the sweet inner bark of poplar trees, while that of sugar pines and other pine trees was similarly popular among those living farther west. Along the Pacific coast it was a custom to eat dried hemlock bark soaked in salmon oil.

The use of hemlock, oak and birch bark in the tanning of leather is a common present-day practice. Perhaps the best known bark product is cork, which is the spongy bark of an oak tree growing on Mediterranean shores.

Wide Range of Diaries

Pepys and Amiel, two of the noted diarists of earlier days, were at opposite extremes in their subject matter. One told of his daily events, the other of his soul searchings. In Pepys we have a narrative, quaint and, to us moderns, often amusing; in Amiel we observe a kind of spiritual phlebotomy, a blood-letting of a moralistic vein not always pleasing. But the average diary is quite innocuous in every way, and in consequence not so interesting.

Ear Coloring an Index of Health in Children Experts in child welfare research advise parents to look at their children's ears for an indication of the general state of their health. The ears, it is revealed, indicate the condition of the child's blood about as well as any known scientific test.
Here's the secret, as stated in non-scientific terms by Nell B. Nichols of the Woman's Home Companion: "When the ears are pink, the child has a goodly amount of hemoglobin in his blood. If they are pale and colorless, action is in order. The doctor's opinion must be sought and meals planned with the child's health in mind. This means that the meals will contain an abundance of green leafy vegetables, egg yolk, red meats, the dark meat of poultry and liver. Milk has been considered low in iron, and unfairly so, for the comparatively small amount that it has in a pure form which is readily used by the body."

Opening Up Waste Places

Wherever there is ore, wherever there is oil, in any country or region, there will be found the American engineer. His is at home in Asia Minor and in Russia; he will soon enter Mosul, uncovering the treasure in the earth. In his wake rumble American motor trucks, traveling over roads that Caesar's legions trod, or corduroy trails hacked out of the jungle.
The fruits of such labors are new supplies of raw materials, mineral wealth, precious stones and property that means new trade for all the demands of civilization.

Old Roman Postal System

A postal system was in existence in the Roman empire. It was known as the Cursus Publicus and was established by Augustus for dispatches between the government and the provinces. Previously messages were carried by tabellarii or orderlies known as statores. At a later period carriages were employed for messengers and the cost was borne by the cities and the districts. There was an express post known as Cursus Velox.
Postal boats also plied between certain ports. The postal system was not employed by the general public.

Poisonous Mexican Toads

Among the weird Mexican amphibians described in a scientific monograph issued by the Smithsonian institution is a monster toad that may diffuse a deadly poisonous gas when frightened or in pain. This queer creature inhabits the hottest portion of Mexico, its range extending over the line into Arizona and California. Its scientific name is "Bufo alvarius," and it has a cousin in the "Bufo marinus," largest of all American toads, also said to be poisonous.

White Mahogany

The forest service says that white mahogany is a trade name for Primavera, which is found on the western coast of Mexico and southward to Guatemala. The wood is moderately heavy and hard, works well and is said to give little trouble by warping.
It is creamy white to yellowish brown in color. The grain is interlocked and the pores are of about the same size as in true mahogany, so that the figure produced, especially when finished with a mahogany stain, is similar to that of true mahogany.

Symbolic Character

The book "Moby Dick" is a South sea romance by Herman Melville.
Moby Dick is a ferocious white whale, who was known to whalers of the period as Mocha Dick. He is pursued in a fury of revenge by Captain Ahab, whose leg he had bitten off; and under Melville's handling the chase takes on a significance beyond mere externals. Moby Dick becomes a symbol of the terrific forces of the natural universe, and Captain Ahab is doomed to disaster even though Moby Dick is killed at last.

Old Copy of Rubaiyat

The oldest known manuscript of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam has been discovered in Lucknow, India. It has been lying unnoticed in the possessions of an old family there until it was seen by an art collector of the city. Having been copied in 1423 the manuscript is thirty-seven years older than the Ouseley manuscript in the Bodleian library, Oxford. In the manuscript are 206 quatrains, of which 45 cannot be traced in any of the old editions of the Rubaiyat. As it was copied by a scholar, there are no errors in the text.

Ancient Shipping "Record"

An ox bone, raised by a dredge on the Deser river, bore what experts believe is the oldest record of German shipping. Carved on it were several Saxon letters and the outline of a Fourth century freight vessel.

Old English Custom

The members of the house of commons, London, must remove their hats when coming in, going out, or making a speech. In short, whenever they are on their feet. But when seated, hats are worn.—Collier's Weekly.

Not Much Chance

Albert S. Osborn, handwriting expert, has figured out mathematically that the chance of two people writing exactly alike, without any distinguishing traits to tell their hands apart, is one in 68,000,000,000,000.

Plan Their Own Lives

"Parents," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "seek to make fortunes for their children in the hope they will its pleasures."—Washington Star.

Spiders Have Experience

I began to understand the world very well, and I believe that flies are devoured by spiders because they have

No "Growth" of Stones

Stones do not grow, in the biological

Police News

Joseph Kelly of Ricker terrace, Newton was fined $50 in the Waltham court by Judge Cuniff on Friday for driving while under the influence of liquor. A charge of going away after an accident without revealing his identity was placed on file. The accident which caused the charges occurred on the Metropolitan Parkway Reservation at Watertown.

Inspector King of the Newton police returned from Bloomfield, New Jersey on Sunday with John Gildund who was arrested for non-support of his wife and two children. Mrs.
Gildund was in Bloomfield recently and spotted her spouse driving a taxi.
She communicated with the police and the Bloomfield officials arrested Gildund for the Newton police. Gid-lund was sent to jail to await trial before the Superior Court next month.

Last Friday night when members of the family of Albert Parker, 1875 Beacon street, Waban returned to their home, they found that the house had been entered by a burglar and ransacked. The loot included some valuable papers. The pet dog of the family, a large bull-terrier, was in the house when the burglar entered, but apparently did not interfere with the thief.

Nunziato Visco of 358 Nevada street, Newtonville, was in the Newton court on Monday charged with malicious destruction of property and assault and battery. Some boys had been stealing fruit from Visco's yard.
He threw a brick at them and it crashed through the rear window of an automobile driven by Albert Marchione of 254 Nevada street, Newtonville, and also occupied by Mr.
and Mrs. Carmen Leone of 65 Bridge street, Nonantum. Visco's case was continued to August 18.

Eugene Marcell of Rutherford avenue, Boston, was fined $100 in the Newton court on Monday for driving while under the influence of liquor, $20 for driving without a license and $10 for drunkenness. Patrolman Lupien observed a car operated by Marcell hit a lantern on Boylston street, Upper Falls, near Ellis street and chased the car over to the Wellesley side of the river.

Ernest DeSimone of 244 Adams street, Newton, was arrested Tuesday morning when he reported to the Newton police that his automobile had been stolen the night before. He was turned over to the Watertown police charged with breaking and entering and larceny. Late Monday night Patrolman Parker of the Watertown police discovered a man at the plant of the Howard Division of the Metropolitan Ice Company on Rosedale road, Watertown, loading automobile tires into a car which was parked in the yard there. He placed the man under arrest and was carrying him to Watertown police headquarters in the police cruiser car when the prisoner jumped from the car and escaped. Early Tuesday morning DeSimone reported to the Newton police that his car had been stolen the preceding night. He denied that he was the man who escaped from Patrolman Parker's custody.

In the Waltham court on Wednesday DeSimone was bound over to the Grand Jury under $3000 bail. Besides the alleged theft at the ice company's plant he was also charged by the Watertown police with breaking into the garage of Fred Hiltz on Chapman street, Watertown, on the night of August 11 and stealing accessories from Hiltz's car and another automobile garaged there.

In the Newton court on Tuesday
Edward Ives of 19 Bernard street, Newton Highlands, was fined $20 for speeding and $10 for operating his car with three persons sitting in the front seat. On the same day Vincent Sullivan of 207 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls, was fined $10 for operating a car without proper lights.

William John of 7 Rockwell street, Cambridge, may have erred in drinking more alcoholic liquor than he could properly assimilate on Tuesday night, but he deserves a medal for being honest, and not whining as do most autoists who get caught when violating laws. John was arrested Tuesday night at Newton Corner after the car he was driving had bumped into a Boston Elevated car. Judge Brown of East Boston, who was presiding at the Newton court on Tuesday, fined John $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor. The Cambridge man told the judge that he had no money and asked that he be given a jail sentence instead of the fine. Judge Brown complied with the request and sentenced John to 15 days in the county jail.

In court the same day James Carter of Mount Auburn street, Watertown, was fined $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor, $10 for driving without a license and $5 for drunkenness. Albert L. Brookhouse of 1244 Beacon street, Brookline, was fined $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor. Two other autoists also were in court on Wednesday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. They were Victor Crouch of New Haven, Conn., and
J. Lester Carter of Everett street, Waltham.
As it was Crouch's second conviction for drunken driving, he was sentenced to serve 3 months in jail, fined $50 for driving after his license had been revoked and $50 for reckless driving.
He appealed and was held in $1500 bail. He was arrested at Newton Lower Falls after his car had collided with another car.

LET'S HAVE A GOOD TIME

"Making both ends meet"

If the mountains or the seashore are out of the question this summer, have a good time at home! Ask your friends to drop in, give them something cool to drink and something nice to eat, you can have some lovely times!
And to help make such occasions more entertaining, here are a few appliances...

SANDWICH TOASTER
—When the toast is crisp and the cheese is warm and "melty," does anything taste better than "toasted cheese sandwich!"... And a "club cheese sandwich!"... sandwich" is a favorite luncheon or supper dish. Use the toaster right on the table—that's part of the fun.
Can be used as a grill too—for bacon, chops, and so on.

THE DRIPOLATOR
—Not only does the Dripolator make coffee which connoisseurs say is unexcelled, but it's guaranteed to make conversation when ideas lag. A very smart appliance... decorative, too.

WAFFLE IRON
—Honey waffles, rice waffles, apricot waffles—offhand, we can think of fifteen different kinds of waffles you can make on this waffle iron...
And a better cook than ourselves, could probably name a dozen more. No home is complete without a waffle iron to gather round on occasions.

MIXER AND JUICE EXTRACTOR
—Electric mixers have all sorts of handy attachments: the juice extractor, for example. Squeezes oranges, lemons, limes, grapefruit like "no-body's business"—gives you refreshing drinks in a twinking.

$20,000 For Public Works In This City

Aldermen Appropriate At Special Meeting

Another special meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen was held on Monday night, the second during the vacation of the Board, which was to last until next month. The principal matters acted upon at this meeting were the appropriations made of $12,000 to drain Cold Spring swamp near the new playground at Newton Highlands; $8000 additional to continue the work of grading the reservation on Commonwealth avenue at Auburn; $1500 for preliminary work on another trunk line sewer.

The $12,000 appropriation will give work to about 30 unemployed men. A contractor will be engaged to supervise this job so that the Civil Service laws can be circumvented. The continuance of the work along Commonwealth avenue will give further employment to ex-service men who otherwise would have to receive soldier's relief.

The proposed new sewer is necessary to care for the growth of the city. The present trunk line sewer, built about 40 years ago is now inadequate to carry the sewage of this city. The new sewer will start at the Newton-Brighton line on Tremont St. and extend to Walnut and Washington streets at Newtonville. The State will build a connecting sewer to link this new Newton project with the Metropolitan sewer at the Charles River shore in Faneuil.

Kennebec Valley In Maine, Rich In History, Now Beautiful Somerset County Dairy Region

Country Where English Vanquished Indians and French Produces Cream and Milk for Somerset Farms Creamery

(By Edward H. Powers)
The other day we took a motor trip to Maine. We had travelled to Maine before, by boat, by train, by automobile; but until this last trip we never realized the interesting history of Maine's past. This realization was caused by the fact that on this trip we travelled as the guest of a native of Maine, who, like all men from the Pine Tree State, is intensely loyal to his former home and knows something of its history. Our host was Frank H. Turgeon, President and Treasurer of the Somerset Farms Creamery

Skirting the wonderful beach which lines the shore from York to Kennebec we continued over the excellent highway to Portland, thence along the road to Brunswick, with our companion revelling over the beauty of Casco Bay, as well he might. By Bowdoin College we journeyed, through Gardiner and into Augusta, the beautiful capital of Maine with its stately old mansions and streets shaded by majestic trees. From Augusta one motors northward in close proximity to the Kennebec. History was made along this stretch of the Kennebec. A men were Peter Heywood and Joseph Weston of Massachusetts who had obtained grants of lands from the Kennebec Proprietors. In the fall of that year the two men and one of the boys returned to Massachusetts, leaving two of the boys, one of whom was but 11 years old, to remain in the wilderness during the winter and care for the cattle, until Heywood and Weston returned the following Spring with their families to become the first settlers of this region and the founders of one of the best dairy sections in this country.

Company, and our destination Somerset County in the beautiful Kennebec Valley. It was an ideal day for a trip. The sun shone in a clear sky allowing unusual visibility to view the scenic charms.

Along the Newburyport turnpike we speeded, through the quaint old city at the mouth of the Merrimack and along the short coast line of New Hampshire. We passed through Portsmouth's narrow streets, over the Piscataquis River and to old York, the site of the first incorporated English city in what is now the United States. Settled in 1623 by Englishmen from Bristol, it was incorporated in 1641 as a city by Sir Fernando Gorges who had received a royal grant to the territory between the Piscataquis and the Kennebec Rivers. He and his followers started to develop Georgeana, as they called the new city, into a real aristocratic English centre. Members of the Church of England, they planned to make their new home an ecclesiastical centre and an episcopal see. Their plans appeared on the way to fulfillment until 11 years later, in 1652, the Puritans of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, intolerant of the Church of England and its aristocratic adherents in nearby territory, used their power to have the city charter taken away from Georgeana and had the settlement reorganized as the Town of York, where a Puritan church was organized 30 years later.

Trading post was established at the head of navigation on the Kennebec by the Plymouth Colony in 1624, and in 1753 Fort Western was built there by English colonists to protect the settlements which were creeping up the river. The settlement about a fort was incorporated as Hallowell in 1771 and in 1797 the name of the locality was changed to Augusta.

The English kept advancing their settlements further up the Kennebec, wresting the territory from the Indians and the French, and in 1754 built another stronghold, Fort Halifax, about 19 miles north on the river, where the town of Winslow is now located. The old blockhouse of this fort still stands; a grim reminder of the troubled years when France and England struggled for possession of this continent and when the native red men were being dispossessed of their lands and forests. A mile or so beyond the old fort is the successor of the early settlements; the prosperous city of Waterville.

The beautiful broad valley of the Kennebec spreads for miles on either side from Waterville towards Skowhegan, dotted with prosperous farms. The settlers who came to the lower Kennebec readily observed that this country would make an ideal dairy section, so in 1771 a party of pioneers, comprising two men and three boys, plodded up the shore of the river to the vicinity of Skowhegan, driving before them twenty head of cattle. The

From Skowhegan Mr. Turgeon drove to Norridgewock, five miles distant. This town is one of the most historic in all Maine. It was the site of a village of the Abenaki Indians and to it in 1646 came the Rev. Gabriel DuRoi, S.J., who remained there a year as a missionary. In 1650 he went on a diplomatic mission from the French in Quebec to Governor Bradford at Plymouth and Governor Dudley at Boston. He was chosen because of his work among the Abenakis and the confidence they reposed in him, and he negotiated between these Indians and the English colonists of Massachusetts, with whom the natives engaged in fur trade. Father DuRoi, on this journey was a guest of Rev. John Elliott, who had for several years been a missionary to the Nonantum tribe of Indians in their village in the valley between Nonantum and Waban Hills in the present city of Newton.

About 1689 Rev. Sebastian Rasle, S.J. came to Norridgewock as a missionary to the Abenakis and for 35 years ministered to them with such devotion that they regarded him as a father and leader. He was accused by some historians as a cold blooded inciter of the Indians against the English settlers, but later historians picture him as a devout man filled with loving zeal for the natives whom he served. He did persist in advising the Indians to remain in their ancestral homes.

Newton Schools Expend 3-8 of Tax Revenues

City Comptroller Shows How Taxes Are Spent

A report submitted this week to Mayor Weeks by City Comptroller Daniel A. White shows in an interesting way how the money raised by taxes in Newton is expended on the various activities of the city and what proportion is used by each department. The following explanation given by the Mayor's office gives this information in an explicit manner.

"Nearly 38 cents out of every dollar collected from the tax payers of Newton is expended for school purposes. This fact was disclosed today by a tabulation submitted by Daniel A. White, City Comptroller, to Mayor Sinclair Weeks showing how the Newton 'Tax Dollar' is spent."

"Next largest of the city's expenditures is the Street Department, which uses 22c of every dollar. Police protection costs six and one half cents, and fire protection five and one-half cents of every tax dollar. Little more than one cent is allocated to Public Health and Playgrounds take a cent and a half as its part of the dollar. General Administration spends nearly 11 cents of the dollar, but includes the activities of the City Clerk, the Assessors, the Accounting Dept., the Executive Dept., the City Sealer, the City Physician and all other administrative departments."

Congressman Luce States Position On Prohibition

Straightforward Statement on Liquor Question

Discussing prohibition in its bearing on the political situation, Congressman Robert Luce makes the following statement:

"When I gave it out that as a candidate for re-election to Congress I should stand on the Republican platform, including the plank relating to prohibition, I postponed more extended discussion of the subject until Mr. Hoover's speech of acceptance might further clarify the situation and further unify Republican thought. It was to be expected that as the leader of the party the President would speak words of counsel carrying great weight not only because of his own sound judgment but also because more than any other man he has opportunity to be informed of party sentiment throughout the whole land. It turns out that while the platform declared a revision the 18th Amendment ought to be promptly submitted to the States by Congress, and recommended by implication that such revision be adopted, the President is more explicit in giving it as his belief that change is necessary. The platform and the President's view having evidently received the approval of an overwhelming majority of the Republican party, and the same thing being true of the Democrats in the matter of their platform demand for outright repeal, it is now sure there will be change. The question becomes, what shall the change be?"

"The Republican policy would retain in the Federal Government the power to control traffic in liquor between the States in order that States wishing the exclusion of liquor may be protected. Federal legislation to this end had established this as a policy before the 18th Amendment was adopted and it would today arouse no important objection."

"The novel and vital proposal of the Republicans is that Congress be empowered to prevent the return of the saloon. To this the Democrats object. As far as liquor is concerned, this is the issue on which the battle between the two great parties will be fought."

"The Democratic platform would take us back to precisely the situation before the World War. To be sure, it expresses a hope that the States will prevent the return of the saloon, but that does not affect in the slightest the proposal to return to the pre-war constitutional status. The only change will have been what may result from a public opinion that at the moment seems to be solidly against the saloon. However, if the cities do not have the saloon, they will surely have speakeasies. These are to be found in every country with state-controlled liquor traffic. Wherever profit is to be made by violation of law, under one name or another such violation will always flourish. There is every reason to believe that the failure to prevent the drinking of liquor on the premises where it is sold will frequently tempt cities to return to what in essence will be the saloon. Under the Democratic program there is no ground for confidence that in many cities the bar-rooms now kept from the public eye will not at once open their doors."

"You may ask, why not trust the States to prevent the return of the saloon? Find the answer in Canada. We are told that already in Ontario a strong movement is on foot to replace the Government-controlled system that has been so much praised, with one under which the sale of liquor to be consumed on the premises will be again permitted. This means the saloon. What reason is there to think the same demand will not follow here if the Federal Government releases all control and gives the matter over completely to the States? Inevitably the distillers and the brewers will foster such a demand, in the same way and with the same huge resources now employed to create public opinion against the 18th Amendment."

"Putting the control of the saloon in the hands of Congress necessarily means the adoption of some nationwide system such as is found in Canada, Sweden and some other countries. Whether he welcomes the task or not, it will be the duty of every member of Congress to share in deciding what system of control promises to work best. Much as I dislike

Veteran Fireman Is Honored at Farewell Dinner

Lieut. Colby Retires After 41 Years' Service

Lt. Oscar A. Colby of Eng. No. 2, West Newton, appointed to the Newton fire department back in 1891 when there were but 20 regular men on the fire fighting force and only 81 calls in the year, retired on August 19th on a pension, ending 41 years of active service.

Lieutenant Colby, who received his appointment from the late Mayor Herman E. Hibbard on April 4, 1891, spent his first years of service driving a one horse hose reel for Hose 6 of Newton Lower Falls, serving under Chief Henry L. Bixby who was killed on his way to a fire in 1894.

Many of the Lieutenant's associates now retired, were numbered among 48 friends to hold a surprise farewell party for him at the West Newton station. A dinner was served and an attractive traveling bag presented Mr. Colby. A letter of regret from Mayor Sinclair Weeks, unable to be in attendance because of an out-of-town engagement, was read. In the Mayor's absence the presentation was handled by Arthur R. McCarthy, president of the Newton Firemen's Relief Association.

The retiring Lieutenant, 65, makes his home, 45 Adella avenue, in West Newton. In reminiscing on his day of retirement he makes interesting comparisons which show the development of the Newton fire fighting equipment. The 81 calls of his first year in service are compared with 1107 calls of the past year, and a force of 20 men as on service in 1891 appears as a mere handful beside the 101 now listed as regulars.

NEWTON FIREMEN ASSIST AT WALTHAM

Three pieces of apparatus from this city went to Waltham early last Monday morning to assist the firemen of that city in fighting the fire which destroyed the old First Parish Church. Engine 2 and Ladder 1 helped at the church fire and Engine 4, which was stationed at the Moody street fire house, extinguished a roof fire on a building which caught ablaze from an ember blown from the burning church.

the prospect of interference with other Congressional problems, of additions to the burdens of Congressional life, of vitiated politics as a factor in the election of Senators and Representatives, I see no escape from the attendant evils, but I agree with Mr. Hoover that there must be absolute guarantees in the Constitution against the return of the saloon and these can be enforced only if entrusted to Congress.

"The problem of the necessary legislation, however, will not confront any member of Congress for a long time yet. There must first be amendment of the Constitution and this is inevitably so slow a process that ratification by three quarters of the States before a Congress is elected two years from now is wholly improbable. This means that the Congress to be chosen in November is wholly unlikely to determine what system of Federal control of the saloon shall be adopted."

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON CUBS AND Y IN DECIDING GAME TOMORROW

The Newton Cubs and the Newton Y. M. C. A. baseball teams are in a deadlocked series for the right to meet Silver Lake A. C. in the local little world series for the championship of the city next week. The deciding game in this play-off series will be staged tomorrow afternoon at Cabot Park and will be called at 3 o'clock in order that the two nines can stage a full nine-inning contest.

Last Sunday at Cabot Park the Silver Lake A. C. took advantage of errors by the Cubs to put over a 3 to 2 verdict and give them the championship of the Twilight League. One of the largest crowds in many years, probably the largest since the new diamond at Cabot Park has been in use, witnessed the game. Bradford Dyer, former Newton High twirler, was on the mound for the Cubs and deserved a better fate in the game with D'Angelo of the Silver Lake outfit. Dyer limited the Silver Lake team to three hits, but three errors behind him were enough to give Silver Lake the edge. The Cubs were also limited to three hits by the Silver Lake twirler, but faultless fielding behind him kept the Cubs at bay. The victory, league championship, earned silver baseballs for all the members of the Silver Lake A. C. and sent the Cubs into the play-off series with the "Y," which turned back the Highlands A. A. on Monday night, 5-2, to eliminate the latter and keep the "Y" in the running.

George Hokanson twirled for the "Y" Monday night against Phil Giles, Newton High twirler last spring, and had the better of the duel. The hard-hitting "Y" players produced the needed punch to take home the bacon. The play-off series between the "Y" and the Cubs was opened Wednesday night at Cabot Park. The winner of two of three games will meet the Silver Lake team for the city championship. In Wednesday night's game the "Y" got off in the lead with a 4-3 victory, darkness halting the game at the end of the fifth inning. Wendell Gallagher twirled for the "Y" and Joe Kent for the Cubs.

Last night the two teams met again at Cabot Park, with the Cubs pounding out an 8-2 verdict to even the series. Bradford Dyer was again on the mound for the Cubs and twirled another great game. "Red" Joyce was on the mound and was hit rather freely by the Cubs. When Joyce is in form he is one of the hardest pitchers to beat in local circles, and if he turns to the mound tomorrow the Cubs may not find him so easy. The "Y" also has Hokanson or Gallagher to call to the firing line, while the Cubs will probably rely on Bradford Dyer again, with Joe Kent in reserve. Lawless and Bridger will be the umpires in tomorrow's game.

The date for the city series with the Silver Lake A. C. are contingent upon the winner of the present series as the "Y" team does not play Sunday baseball. All games will be played at Cabot Park. Should the Cubs win from the "Y" in tomorrow's game the championship series will open Sunday with the game being called at 3 o'clock. Should the "Y" team get into the series the first game will be called at 6 o'clock on Monday night. The second game will be played Saturday in order that the full nine innings may be assured, and if the Cubs are the opponents the third game will be staged Sunday, Sept. 4. If the "Y" team meets Silver Lake the date of the third game will be announced later, although it is expected that it will be played Labor Day.

central village against the orders of the English colonials and on August 23rd, 1724 he and many of his Abenaki converts were slaughtered by a large force of English who ascended he Kennebec in seventeen whale-boats and surrounded the village. This attack marked the beginning of the end of France's sovereignty in Maine. The first permanent settlement of Norridgewock by men of English ancestry was made in 1772. Two years later Benedict Arnold and his force of English colonists passed through the town on their way to help wrest Quebec from the French.

Recalling the past history of Maine and the strife between the French and English for its possession, it was of peculiar interest to note that our companion, Mr. Turgeon is descended both from the French pioneers who settled Quebec and Maine, and from the early English settlers. It is fitting that he should be an important factor in developing the dairy industry started generations ago along the Kennebec. He is vitally interested in several creameries in that section, including the Solon Creamery at Norridgewock, and the Skowhegan Creamery at Skowhegan.

In Norridgewock is the Solon Creamery, the receiving depot for Somerset Farms Cream. From about 500 farms in Somerset County trucks owned or leased by the company rapidly collect the rich, golden cream obtained from pure-bred Guernsey cows such as are shown in the illustration accompanying this article. Scattered among these herds are some Ayrshire cows, but the great majority are Jerseys. The creamery is the nucleus of this breed in Somerset County, and it was because of this part of the Kennebec Valley as a dairy country, that Mr. Turgeon selected this section a generation ago as the source of supply for rich, pure cream. Most dairy sections specialize in Holstein cattle which produce a large quantity of milk, but of far inferior quality to that which Guern-

Retires Trophy

At the horse show of the North Scituate Riding Club this week for the benefit of the Children's Sunlight Hospital local people figured prominently. H. Hollon Crowell scored a notable victory in the hunt teams' competition for the Wm. J. Davidson trophy. The Crowell team won from a high class field of nine teams and retired the trophy as the Waban man's teams had previously won in 1929 and 1930. Mr. Crowell's hunters were winners in two other events. Allan J. Wilson of Newton, a summer resident of Scituate, had a field day with his entries. Highland Dare, his excellent saddle horse, placed first in the four events he exhibited in. Other Wilson's firsts were scored by Top Sergeant, champion road hack; Montgomery Lady and Wild Patsy in the saddle pair and by the Wilson family in the family class. In this latter event Mr. Wilson accompanied by two sons, Allan Jr. and George, and three daughters, Mary, Priscilla and Natalie were a pleasing sight as they rode six abreast.

Wins Golf Tourney

Edwin Place, Jr., of Highland St. West Newton, won the golf tournament at the Mt. Crochet Country Club at Francistown, N. H., on Monday. During the match he made a hole in one, the first to be made on the Mt. Crochet course.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. Tennis Team played the West Springfield "Y" Team Saturday afternoon in the final match of the Y. M. C. A. Two-State (Massachusetts and Rhode Island) Tennis Championship. West Springfield won, two matches to one.

The outstanding match was the one between Gordon Kitchen of Newton "Y" and Monte Daniels of West Springfield. Kitchen lost the first two sets to Daniels—6-5, 7-7, and then three sets and the match 6-1, 6-3, 6-3.

In the other singles matches, Arthur Favreau of West Springfield defeated Kenneth Gerritson of the local Association 6-1, 6-1, 6-2. The doubles match was also won by West Springfield, with Ebbert Hughes and Leon Webster defeating Howard Fitts and L. Chase Kepner 6-1, 6-4, 6-3. In the match to come up to the final match Newton had previously defeated Brockton and Worcester "Y's."

While this match was being played, another Tennis Team composed of Roland Coombs, Elliot Sharpe, James Carr, George Carter, Raymond Clarke, and Andrew Kasper, Jr., of the Y. M. C. A., was playing at the Sudbury River Tennis Club. The "Y" group lost four of five singles matches and one of two doubles matches to the Club, winning only the double match in which George Carter and Roland Coombs defeated Ritz and Allen 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

COST ACCOUNTANTS AT WOODLAND GOLF CLUB

The second golf contest of the season of the Boston Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, was held at the Woodland Golf Course on Wednesday, August 17. F. H. Fletcher of Upland road, Waban, was one of those who carried off prizes for low scores. A dinner at the clubhouse followed the day's sports.

Every day all the pipes and valves at the Solon Creamery are disassembled, washed and sterilized. The big metal jugs which bring the cream from the farms are thoroughly washed, sterilized and dried on an ingenious machine. Do all these precautions in the production and handling of Somerset Farms Cream bring results? Here is the answer. The bacteria count legally permitted in commercial cream is 500,000 per cubic centimeter. An official test made of Somerset Farms Cream at the Solon Creamery a couple of days before our visit showed that it contained only 7000 bacteria to the cubic centimeter. Those who use this outstanding product of the farms of Somerset County obtain not only unusual nourishment, but the ultimate in purity, where purity is of vital importance.

The man responsible for providing such a food to the people of Greater Boston has achieved material success in life. He has also attained a greater success—the acquisition years ago of an optimistic philosophy; a belief that one should endeavor to produce the best in his chosen field; that people want the best, if they are able to obtain it. A belief that one should endeavor to accord his fellow men the best possible treatment. The farmers of Somerset County are loyal to him because he has been fair in his dealings with them. His employees have been with him for many years because he treats them squarely. A few years ago when he changed from horses to automobiles in the delivery of the cream, he acted in a characteristic manner. He did not sell the animals which had served his company faithfully. He pensioned them off, to end their days happily on a farm. Such an outlook on life is particularly laudable today when economic conditions have caused such a trend towards inferiority. Cheap products, low wages, elimination of labor, lower standards of living. If more men would emulate Frank H. Turgeon, who believes in producing golden cream and practicing the Golden Rule, there would be fewer depressions.

India's Poisonous Snakes
It is estimated that about 20,000 persons are killed annually in India by poisonous snakes. Most of these snakes are various species of cobra. About 50,000 or 60,000 snakes are killed annually in India.

Newton Man Gets Car Looters

Edward Leahy, Jr. of 67 Jewett street, Newton was the victim of a burglary a few weeks ago, when his house was entered and a sum of money stolen. Since then his neighborhood has been visited by thieves who stole articles from parked automobiles. So, Mr. Leahy decided that enough is enough and last Friday night he watched from a window at his home to see what he would see. Shortly after midnight he observed two youths open the door of his parked car and take a flashlight from it. He chased the pair and was joined in the pursuit by Francis Frazier of 115 Pearl street. They caught and captured the looters and took them to Nonantum Square where they were turned over to Patrolman Taffe. The pair identified themselves as Stanley Turquist, 17, of Waverley avenue, Belmont; and Felix Guido, 15, of Belmont street, Belmont. The patrolman was guided by the two to a parked car on Jackson road, Newton which was occupied by three other youths. In the car were two cans containing gasoline and a rubber hose for syphoning. In the Newton court on Saturday Turquist was given a suspended sentence of 30 days. Guido's case was continued until August 26.

Hooper Held For Grand Jury

Robert Hooper, 20, of 68 Walnut Hill road, Newton Highlands, was in the Newton court on Tuesday charged with breaking and entering, and larceny. Last Friday night the home of H. Stanley Hyde, 32 Sylvan avenue, West Newton, was entered, but nothing of value stolen. The garage of Mr. Hyde was also entered and his Buick car taken. On Saturday night this car was found on Halcyon road, Newton Centre.

In a flower bed, under the window which was forced at Hyde's home, Inspector Goode of the Newton police found a footprint of peculiar shape. It had been made by some one with a short, wide foot. The police learned that young Hooper had been seen driving the car stolen from Hyde's garage. They compared his shoe with the footprint found at the Hyde yard and found that it matched. They also produced in court a woman who testified that she had seen Hooper leave the Hyde automobile in front of her home, and later drive away in it.

Hooper's father, Fred H. Hooper, acted as attorney for his son and claimed the evidence did not warrant holding the defendant. The elder Hooper accused Inspector King of the Newton police, who prosecuted the case, of having struck his son when the latter was being questioned for a similar offense a couple of years ago. King denied having ever hit a prisoner and said he had nothing to do with questioning young Hooper when he was arrested for the previous offense. Judge Bacon held Hooper in $3000 bail for the Grand Jury.

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS MAKING PROGRESS

The Drum and Bugle Corps of Newton Post, American Legion, is making excellent progress under the competent leadership of Mr. Edward Cannon, the popular Drill Master. The organization is being financed by a donation from the Auxiliary and by a Penny Sale which is to be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Barry of 19 Fordham road, West Newton, by the girls of the post.

There are 16 members of the Corps all of whom are from the Auxiliary. Miss Sylvia Wilkerson is the attractive and efficient Drum Major.

Plaster of Paris Made Quite "Permanent" Wave

Just as there are in New York barber schools, where beginners practice on the hair and beard at reduced prices, so there are schools which graduate their pupils to beauty parlors. Here a "facial" or a "wave" may be obtained for the modest sum of 25 cents. One of these schools opened in a new building, from which all the building supplies had not been removed. A customer came in who wished a "white henna" treatment. This is a treatment used to burnish white or light colored hair. They say that a paste is applied to the hair and, after a certain time, removed.

The operator opened a closet, got some material from a bag and made a paste. After it had been applied, the discovery was made that the stuff happened to be some sort of plaster of paris left by the workmen. It hardened quickly and firmly. In fact, the customer had to be removed to a suite where an operation could be performed with a chisel.

The chipping was done as considerately as possible, but the hair was chipped off with the plaster. In the end the woman had to have her head shaved.—Exchange.

Sea Horse Ranks High Among Nature's Freaks

Of all the queer combinations in the animal kingdom, the sea horse (Hippocampus) easily takes the prize. points out Boys' Life, the monthly journal of the Boy Scouts of America. It has the head of a horse, from which it takes its name; the tail of a monkey; the fins of a fish; and the abdominal pouch of a kangaroo, in which the male carries the eggs from the time they are laid until they are hatched. With all these borrowed trappings, the sea horse is a real fish and does not live very long out of water.

The tail, which is somewhat longer than the head and body combined, is the only tail in the fish kingdom endowed with the power to grasp things, and with it the sea horse clings to underwater foliage when he desires to rest, continues Boys' Life. In their sportive moments these quaint little creatures wrap their tails around each other and engage in a regular tug-of-war—or a large one will seize a small one around the neck and drag him furiously around in circles in a marine version of "snap the whip."

Galapagos' Formation

Nearly everywhere on the Galapagos, one walks over fresh or weathered lava. It was natural that Darwin took for granted that the islands had been built up from the sea bottom by their volcanoes within comparatively recent times. Wallace and other followers of Darwin accepted this view that the islands "have been formed by submarine eruptions" and have never been joined to continental America. According to this oceanic theory, animals and plants reached them by various fortuitous means: by the wind, which could bring fern spores, seeds provided with pappus, spiders, insects, birds and bats, or seeds may be carried adhering to the plumage or the feet of birds, or even in their crops. Such stragglers are apparently still reaching the islands, and stand a chance of becoming resident if they find suitable conditions, mates, and so on.—From "To the South Seas," by Gifford Pinchot.

"Nicaragua Walker"

William Walker was a San Francisco newspaper man who, in 1855, took advantage of an insurrection in Nicaragua. He put Rivas, a native, in the presidency, retaining command of the army himself. Rivas absconded and Walker succeeded. Known as a Southern sympathizer, Walker was joined by adventurous southerners from the United States. He repeated all anti-slavery laws. A native insurrection overthrew him. He had expected support from the United States, but did not obtain it. He was captured and turned over to the American naval forces and returned to the United States. He continued his plotting and finally, while operating in Honduras, was shot. He is known to history as Nicaragua Walker.

"Magic Carpet" Fable

Brewer's "Handbook of Phrase and Fable" says: "The magic carpet, which, to all appearances, is worthless, but which, if any one sat thereon, would transport him instantaneously to the place he wished to go, is one of the stock properties of eastern wonderlands and romances. It is sometimes termed 'Prince Hausan's carpet,' because of the popularity of the story of Prince Ahmed in 'Arabian Nights' where it supplies one of the chief incidents; but the chief magic carpet is that of King Solomon, which, according to the Mohammedan legend related in the Koran, was of green silk."

Pioneers of Methodism

The History of Methodism says: "In the British Wesleyan Conference of 1770 'America' appears for the first time, as a single circuit, served by four preachers, Pilmoor, Boardman, King and Williams. America reported a total membership of 316 to the conference of 1771. With the report came the urgent appeals of the Americans for more helpers. Five preachers offered to go, and two were accepted. The two volunteers for America from the conference of 1771 were Francis Asbury and Richard Wright."

TESTING HIM

The young lovers were nestling together under the sea wall. Above, the moon shone down in full brilliance. Presently she turned her face to him. "George," she whispered breathlessly, "do you love me more than you ever loved anyone else?" "Darling," he returned in soothing tones, "of course."

She detached herself from him and her voice took on a harsh note. "But how do you know unless you've been loving a lot of other girls?" she asked.

NOT A REAL TEST

"Do you think a college education pays?" "I hardly know. True, my daughter got engaged after a four year's course, but she might have attained the same result in two weeks at a beach."

Yum-Yum

"And what," asked the chief of the Cannibal Islands, in his kindest tones, "was your business before you were captured by my men?" "It was a newspaper man," answered the captive.

"An editor?"

"No, merely a sub-editor."

"Cheer up, young man! Promotion awaits you. After dinner you shall be editor-in-chief."—Sarnia (Ont.) Observer.

Silent Communication

"Do you believe in telepathy?" "Well," replied Miss Cayenne, "I am convinced that thoughts are sometimes conveyed without words. For instance, when I step on a hotel piazza full of women who look startled and whose conversation suddenly ceases, I know exactly whom they have been talking about."—Washington Star.

The Compliment

"You remember Agnes Calich at college, don't you?"

"Why, no; I don't recall such a person."

"Well, she was the plainest girl in our class—but I forgot—that was after you left."—Pathfinder Magazine.

TELLING HER!

"A woman has written asking how to remove paint spots."

"Tell her to wash her face."

Hat Tricks

"Did you ever observe, George, dear, that famous designers take a woman's head to adorn many of our coats?"

"I can't say that I've noticed it, but I've observed that designers take many of my coins to adorn a woman's head."—London Humorist.

Good Boys

Mother (telephoning from party)—Johnny, I hope you and Bobby are being good boys while I am away.

Johnny—Yes, we are. And mamma, we're having more fun. We let the bath tub run over and we are playing Niagara falls on the stairway.

Looking in Right Places

"Hello, Benson! Have you seen Smith lately? I've been looking for him high and low for the last three months."

"Well, those are the places. He's been dead about that time."

Leniency

Mother—Have you anything to say before I whip you? This is going to hurt me more than you, Willie.

Willie—Well, as long as you haven't done anything wrong, ma, suppose you let yourself off.—Chelsea Record.

His Expertness?

Mrs. Noser—They say that Smith, the budget expert, is the best in the world.

Mrs. Teller—Yes? Well, he's always forgetting to pay his bills!

Wham!

"Doesn't your wife miss you when you stay out till three in the morning?"

"Occasionally, but usually her aim is perfect."—Everybody's Weekly.

Only Ankle Deep

"Is Mrs. Newrich in the social swim?"

"Well, hardly enough to get her bathing suit wet."

Newton Centre Doctor Describes Bit of Old Canada

Dr. DeWitt G. Wilcox of Homer St., Newton Centre, has given us the following interesting account of a part of a 2600 mile trip which he and Mrs. Wilcox took this summer through Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Maine and the White Mountains, Gaspé Peninsula in Nova Scotia is a most interesting country and apparently affords excellent fishing. The doctor's description follows:

The Gaspé Peninsula is that long tongue of land which runs far out into the Gulf of the St. Lawrence and acts as an escort in conducting the St. Lawrence river to its final destination into the Atlantic.

Had the first settlers in this Peninsula made as much of a dent in history as did the Pilgrim Fathers, no doubt all school children could tell just where and when Jacques Cartier took possession of this new world in the "name of God and the King of France," for he did this a full hundred years before Plymouth Rock was known to any one but the Cod fish.

Even today the auto tourists would know little more about it than does the average school boy, had not an enterprising public official, the Honorable J. L. Perron caused to be constructed a boulevard which skirts the shore of the St. Lawrence and the Baie-de-Chaleur for 525 miles and embraces all the coast line of the Peninsula. The road was completed in 1928. For scenic beauty, diversity of sea and landscape, primitive people, good roads and absorbing interest few towns in North America can equal the Gaspé Peninsula trip. It can be reached from a number of different points. From Lévis, opposite Quebec, along the South shore of the St. Lawrence to Rivière-du-Loup, thence to St. Flavia where the Peninsula road really begins or from Houlton, Maine, to Woodstock, New Brunswick, up the St. John River to St. Leonard, over a newly constructed road, through an almost heretofore unknown country, to Matapédia, thence through the beautiful valley of that name to St. Flavia and then around the Peninsula coming eventually back to Matapédia. This latter was the route we took in our tour this summer. There are a comparatively few choice watering places in North America which Mr. and Mrs. Salmon and all the young Salmonites (called grilles) regard as sufficiently fashionable and aristocratic for them to visit in any great numbers. To be highly regarded in the Salmo world is not to possess money, but pounds avoirdupois, hence the resorts frequented by the heaviest patrons become the most renowned (at least by fishermen.)

Such a one is found at the confluence of the three Salmon rivers emptying into the head of the Baie-de-Chaleur. The Matapédia, the Estuaries and the Upsalquitch. (It is well that the Salmon do not have to learn how to spell these names.) For certain reasons as you shall see, we chose the North West Branch of the Upsalquitch. To get above the leased waters of this river, one must travel some 30 odd miles, not an easy thing to do where there were no roads or trails, and the trip is a tiresome one by canoe, especially when one must carry all equipment for sleeping and eating. Our problem of transportation was solved immediately and most delightfully.

A well known guide in that region, Clarence Borden, had just completed a crude house boat, built on a 60 foot flat bottomed scow. We had heard of it before we left Newton and had arranged with the owner for a trip. We went aboard on the morning of our arrival, a cabin, with two comfortable cots, a dining room and kitchen. A crew of four men: "the cook, the Captain Bold, the mate of the "Pollyanna" and the "bo'son tight," although the latter was not the best of sailors, was always perfectly sober. His job was to ride one of the pair of splendid horses which were our motive power. No noisy "put-put," or bending at oars, no dusty town path, for the bed of the river was their road. It made no difference to our motive power whether the water was knee deep or over their broad backs, up the river we went without halting. Five days of unalloyed pleasure of the most novel kind. But did we get any Salmon? Indeed we did! Just wait until we show you pictures to prove it. Big fellows and little fellows, but fighters all. The grills (young salmon) weigh four to six pounds will put up as good a fight as his Dad weighing twelve or fifteen pounds. Mrs. Wilcox has three good sized ones to her credit, and played them until finally secured in the landing net.

This was only the first two weeks of our six weeks' vacation. The rest was equally interesting to us.

BURDETT COLLEGE, BOSTON

The fall term at Burdett College will officially open September 6 when students in the Executive Secretarial, Stenographic Secretarial and Business Courses will begin their work. The term for Business Administration and Higher Accounting students will open September 19. This is also the date for the opening of Evening School. This will be the 54th year for Burdett College as a school of business training, during which time it has been continuously under the direction of its co-founder, President Fred H. Burdett.

Three faculty changes are announced in the Business Administration Department for the coming year. First year English and Correspondence will be taught by Mr. A. G. Stedman, for twenty years head of the Correspondence Training Department of Dennison Manufacturing Company and a leading authority in the field of English as applied to business. Business Finance and Money and Banking will be given by Mr. Malcolm C. Davis, a university graduate, and for several years an executive of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Davis is also a member of the faculty of Northeastern University. Economic Geography, Business Forms, first year Business Mathematics and first year Accounting will be taught by Mr. Douglas A. Chandler, of the Business Administration Department, now doing graduate work at Northeastern University.

C. P. A. Preparation and higher accounting subjects will again be under the personal direction of Mr. Arthur H. Doyle, practicing Certified Public Accountant, and a graduate of Harvard University. To the course in higher Accounting has been added the subjects of Marketing and Management. Problems in order that accounting graduates may receive a somewhat broader training than is provided in the ordinary type of accounting course. Typewriting is also to be included in the Accounting Course as a graduate of accounting often finds it helpful to be able to use the typewriter with facility in the conduct of his professional work. These advantages are provided in addition to all the higher accounting subjects, thereby making the course unique. Instruction is intensive throughout and only men high school and college graduates are admitted.

Burdett College has further recognized that all young people cannot specialize in one direction, that there are five major fields of specialization and that each young person should be so trained that they can be fitted into the field for which they are best adapted. The five great divisions of business are: Administration, in which is included accounting; Production—Distribution, in which is included advertising and selling; Financial, in which is included all treasury operations and credits and collections; and Clerical, in which is included all clerical operations, secretarial and otherwise. The courses provided at Burdett College offer young people the best means of entering productive work in any one of these fields.

The fall enrollment is ahead of what is to be expected at this time. More college men and women are applying for entrance than was the case previously, there being in attendance last year young men and women from 88 different colleges and universities including such leading colleges as Cornell, Harvard, Bates, Amherst, Wellesley, Vassar, Smith, Radcliffe, Mt. Holyoke and others.

The school announces the publication of its most recent Evening School Catalogue containing detailed information upon the more than 30 regular and special courses and course combinations offered for the employed young person who wishes to better his or her opportunities for advancement.

Parents and students desiring further information regarding either day or evening sessions are invited to write for the catalogue or to visit the school.

WHERE YOUR DOLLAR GOES

The analysis of the tax payer's dollar which is printed elsewhere in this issue is of considerable interest to Newton citizens. It is natural that the largest part of the dollar for any one purpose is for school expenses. Of the 38 cents thus expended 29 cents is allocated for scholastic purposes only and the remaining 9 cents for the maintenance of school buildings, insurance, bonds, nurses, and care of the grounds. This is a healthy situation as it reveals the fact that the major school expense is going for purposes which will maintain the high standard of our schools. The second largest share of the "tax dollar", 22 cents, is allotted to the Street Department. Police protection costs six and one-half cents and fire protection five and one-half cents. When one realizes what one gets from the city for the tax dollar there is little ground for complaint. With a tax rate of $25.00 per thousand Newton ranks favorably as a good place in which to live from this viewpoint as well as from several others.

INSURANCE RATES

Announcement of the compulsory automobile insurance rates for 1933 is expected to take place next week. Indications point to a continuance of the present scale of rates with reductions in some places and a possibility of increases in others. Commissioner Brown states that he has not figured the new rates, and does not know whether they will be higher or lower. The system of compulsory insurance having been in force for several years it is hoped that the level has been reached, so that the present scale of rates is sufficient to carry the burden. This present rate is considerably lower than that of other states where automobile insurance is voluntary. We trust that safety campaigns, elimination of false claims and improved driving conditions, as well as extreme care on the part of drivers, will, in the future, make it possible to lower the compulsory insurance rates.

YOUR LAST CHANCE

Last week we commented on the fact that the time for the closing of registration of new voters for the State Primary election on September 20th was near at hand. We again remind those of our readers who are not registered that there are but a few days remaining. The Board of Registrars of Voters are holding daily sessions at City Hall from 8:30 A.M. to 5 P.M., closing at 12 noon on Saturday. Next week the regular daily sessions will be held on Monday and Tuesday with evening sessions from 7:30 to 9 P.M. On Wednesday, Aug. 31st, the final day of registration the session will be continuous from 8:30 A.M. until 10 P.M. In addition one session will be held on the South side of the city at the Mason School, Newton Centre, on Tuesday evening, Aug. 30, from 7:30 to 9 P.M. for the convenience of the residents of that section. This will be the last opportunity to register for the Primary. Registration sessions for the national election will be held following the primaries.

A NATURAL PHENOMENON

Next week, if weather permits, thousands and thousands of people throughout New England will witness one of the most phenomenal of nature's attractions in the total eclipse which will blanket most of the northeastern section of the country. Newton will get a 99% share of the eclipse, but will miss the most impressive and most spectacular sight of the corona, which can only be seen in the path of totality. As this path crosses New Hampshire and the most of the populated part of Maine, as well as the northeastern corner of Massachusetts, it will not mean much of a journey to take in the entire show and it would certainly be worth the trouble.

Kiwanis Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held as usual at the Charles River Country Club, Tuesday, August 23rd.

William "Hughie" Fogwill presented in his inimitable way as guest and speaker, Dr. Fred M. Lowe, the well known and much respected Newton physician.

Dr. Lowe took for his subject, "Well, now I am seventy."

A most interesting talk ensued combining wise logic with rich humor.

The Doctor's propensity for story telling was very well demonstrated to the extreme delight of his listeners. Prior to the closing of the meeting those assembled were pleased with an announcement by President "Charlie" Mahoney that on August 30th the speaker would be the well known Rev. Wynn C. Fairfield, D.D., and on the following Tuesday, Sept. 6th, the club would do honor to the President of the Massachusetts Senate, the Honorable Gaspar G. Bacon.

NORUMBEGA PARK ZOO ATTRACTS MANY VISITORS

The many daily visitors at Norumbega Park, Auburndale, are finding the Zoo of special interest. "Monkey Island" is inhabited by many various species of apes, including the Red Headed Mangabey, Bennett and African greens, all of which keep the constant throng of visitors highly entertained.

Particularly curious is the Red Headed Mangabey who loves to treat his observers with thrilling acrobatic stunts and then to watch with keen concern the reaction of his audience. Any show of enthusiasm on the part of his visitors is sure to be met by further "monkey shins", for he is the so called "show off" of all monkey land. Patsy, a bonnet monkey, one of two in captivity, is the pet of all animal lovers.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

Mayor Curley and the City Council of Boston deserve commendation for agreeing to pay owners of homes in West Roxbury which were damaged badly on June 30 when dynamite used on a contracting job on a street exploded. This dynamite, which was stored in a chest, exploded when employees of the contractor caused a fire which spread to the chest. The contractor was not financially able to pay for the damages. The city was not legally liable, but its Mayor and Councilmen properly decided that there was a moral obligation on the City of Boston to compensate the persons of very moderate means whose homes were badly damaged. In at least one case in the past, when there was a glaring moral obligation, the City of Newton refused to pay a claim because there was no legal obligation. Which calls to mind that the City of Newton has not followed the lead of other cities in this Commonwealth and accepted the Act which permits a municipality to carry public liability insurance on automobiles and trucks. As conditions exist now, any automobile owned by the City of Newton (except those used by the Water Department) could kill or maim a person, and no damages could be collected from the city. The only redress would be to sue the city employee who had been driving the car or truck. And a slim chance a victim would have to collect damages from a man drawing small wages. It is about time Newton accepted this Act for the protection of its citizens, as well as its employees.

The action taken by the City of Boston regarding the payment of damages to the West Roxbury home owners is certainly preferable to that lack of action displayed by the Metropolitan District Commission when it ignored the complaint of a Newton home owner whose house was considerably damaged by blasting in the laying of the big water main along Pearl street. The contractor responsible did nothing towards settling for this damage, and the Metropolitan District Commission allowed him to get away with it. For the protection of the public, contracts for public works should only be given to contractors who have proved themselves responsible.

The appropriation of $1500 on Monday night by the Aldermen for a preliminary survey of the new trunk line sewer calls attention to the rapid growth of this city. Not only would the natural growth of the city cause an increase in the amount of sewage to be disposed of, but there is much more water used per capita in the Newtons than was used 40 years ago, when the present sewer system was laid. Modern plumbing has caused people to bath more frequently, and in the old days. In the "good old days" it was some job to take the weekly bath in a wash tub. One had to be somewhat of a contortionist. And it was no easy task to heat the hot water in kettles on the kitchen stove. Besides, the present vogue of chin stockings, no stockings and hacket dresses would compel anyone so attired, or not attired, to bathe frequently. Anyhow, more sewers are necessary.

Talking on this delectable subject: In the pre-sewer days when less sanitary methods were used there were several men in Newton who engaged in the business of removing night soil. The late William H. Mague was the principal factor in this quite necessary activity and he owned proper equipment for such work. His competitors used primitive methods. One of them, a resident of Newton Corner, employed a man who lived in Nonantum. This individual frequently imbibed well, but not wisely; and who could blame him? When soiled he was apt to be pugnacious. One day at his arduous and odorous work he took too much "barbed-wire" liquor and on his way home that night he slumped beside the sidewalk on Waban Park and fell asleep. Later that night a newly appointed member of the Newton police, while walking along Waban Park in his patrol duty, came upon the inebriated man and started to place him under arrest. The spiffed individual, however, at once started to resist, and before the policeman got him under control the two had rolled over the street for some minutes.

It happened that during the day the drunken individual had become saturated externally as well as internally, but not with alcohol. He had fallen in, while at work. Unfortunately, this fact was not known to the policeman who placed him under arrest, before the battle started. This policeman was very neat about his appearance and his uniform was spic and span when he chanced upon the drunken man. But after he had subdued that person his uniform was a wreck. Its condition did not soothe either the optical or olfactory nerves. He telephoned for the old, horse-drawn patrol wagon and took his prisoner to the old police station in the basement of City Hall. Captain John Ryan was in charge of the station, and to say that he did not enthuse over the arrival of the patrolman and his prisoner is unnecessary. The policemen of today may have worries that the old-time police did not have. But the old-time police certainly had some difficulties to contend with that their successors don't have to encounter.

The reconstruction of Washington street was finished well ahead of schedule but where are the electric lights supposed to properly illuminate this main street? And why haven't the unsightly, abandoned poles of the Middlesex & Boston been removed?

Earth's Greatest News.
Poor Kangaroo Baby.
Sensation for Mussolini.
Honor for Japan.

Berlin sends the most important news of today, and of this century, if it means commercial release of energy that holds together the electrons and nucleus of the atom, with the added possibility of manufacturing elements at will, gold, platinum, etc., it will be the greatest news of all time.

Two German scientists, Lange and Brach, using an artificial "thunderbolt" of 2,500,000 volts, have split an atom of lead, releasing energy equivalent to fifteen million volts.

If you turned all the lead and iron in the world into gold that would mean nothing. To release atomic energy would mean everything, for it would provide power unlimited, like water and air.

The energy locked up in the atoms of oxygen and hydrogen in two teaspoonfuls of water would drive the steamship Leviathan twice across the ocean.

But do not sell your coal mines or good oil stocks. Things move slowly. A little steam engine was shown in Alexandria in the Serapion, long before the birth of Christ. But man waited long for the steamboat and locomotive.

How that atomic energy would end our depression. Man could do literally anything, level mountains, fill in oceans, drain, irrigate, develop everything, abolish deserts, that are the earth's cancers. It could not, however, abolish human greed, the desire to have too much. Only time and education can do that.

Baby kangaroos born here this spring are learning how some of our best stock speculators have felt since 1929.

At first, the little kangaroo lives in a pouch on its mother's front, just below the forelegs. As time passes, the baby gets bigger, the pouch does not, and finally the kangaroo baby finds that he can no longer climb into the pouch. His struggles are pathetic, something like a speculator trying to even up.

Finally he decides to be a kangaroo on his own account. The speculator must do the same.

Mussolini will vibrate and say queer things in Italian when he hears the details of that eight-oared race. Italy was ahead, America next, Canada came third, Great Britain fourth.

Three so-called Nordic races, all trailing one Latin boat. It was in the last few hundred meters that the powerful, deep-lunged Italians forged ahead, each man carrying on his chest the colors of Italy. It seemed certain that Italy would win in the country that an Italian discovered.

But in boat number two, eight young athletes, with the United States shield on their chests, had made different plans. A small man at the far end of the boat, a megaphone strapped to his mouth, called on every divinity from Moloch to to punish his men, if they did not put their backs into it. They put their backs into it, also the muscles of their long, powerful legs and arms.

And they beat the Italians by exactly two-fifths of a second, which is as good as half an hour and more exciting.

Where will Mussolini find words to express his emotions when he reads that? There are no words—the great Italian will have to rely on gestures and moans.

By the way, Italy finished second, of course; Canada third, Britain fourth. Time for 2,000 meters, 6 minutes 37.35 seconds.

Lieut. Baron Takeichi Nishi who won the Olympic Prix des Nations with his marvelous jumping horse Uranus, taking the nineteen difficult and dangerous jumps in perfect, unhesitating form, is pleased, as are his associates from Japan, with their experiences in Los Angeles.

They were sincerely applauded, none more heartily, on their numerous winnings. And when a Japanese finished doggedly the grinding race of five thousand meters, although hopelessly last, the applause was greater than for any winner. To keep on, in the face of sure defeat, is real greatness.

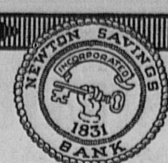

Those that think of Japanese horsemanship as something associated with tiny, long-maned ponies should have seen Uranus fly the high jumps. Others that think good horses and noble Nordics necessarily go together will be surprised to learn that Uranus was bred in Italy.

Baron Nishi, one of the richest men in Japan, bought him to win, trained him in Tokio, did win, and thanks California with a "Ban-banzai!"

One plain "banzai" means wishing you ten thousand years of happiness. A "ban-banzai" means one thousand banzais.

This Olympiad has proved to Japan, if proof were necessary, that this nation has only admiration for Japan's courage and ability, and friendship for the Japanese.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 28.

The Golden Text is: "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and for ever" (Hebrews 13:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "When Jesus came into the coasts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I the Son of man am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God" (Matthew 16:13, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "With his usual impetuosity, Simon replied for his brother, and his reply set forth a great fact: Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God! That is: The Messiah is what thou hast declared—Christ, the spirit of God, of Truth, Life, and Love, which heals mentally. This assertion elicited from Jesus the benediction, 'Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona; for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven; that is, Love hath shown thee the way of Life!' (p 137.)

Over 50 Years Old—AND HIS INCOME CUT IN HALF

It is not pleasant to find that your income is shrinking and to realize that future income must depend upon capricious conditions over which you personally have no control. Yet that is what thousands of people are facing at this period. If funds are reinvested, there is still the "business man's chance" that the new investments will not be satisfactory—so uncertain are these times.

Annuitants on the other hand are investments which GUARANTEE A LIFE INCOME. They are the answer for those thinking men and women who MUST maintain their standard of living and to whom a guaranteed income will mean continued happiness, self-esteem, and freedom from financial worry.

How the Annuity—and there are as many kinds as there are human needs—can be purchased as part of an investment program is not generally understood. From my 25 years of experience as Annuity Specialist, I have recently prepared and copyrighted two leaflets which, in simple words, explain the purpose of the Annuity and the various forms available. If you are interested in the Annuity as a SAFE, certain investment, I suggest you write or Telephone. There will be no obligation on your part. The booklets will be mailed to you.

UNION SERVICES

AUGUST 28

Methodist and Congregational Churches of Newtonville Central Congregational Church
Walnut St.
Preacher—Dr. Thomas Chalmers.
Soloist—Mrs. Nina Mae Forde, Soprano.
10:30 A.M.

Dr. Chalmers To Speak at Central Church

The last preacher in the special summer series of Union services being held in Central Church, Newtonville, will be Rev. Thomas Chalmers, D. D., a resident of the village and now the head of the Department of History of Boston University.

Dr. Chalmers has been active in the life of Central Church for a number of years and has occupied the pulpit on several occasions. He brings to his preaching a rich experience garnered through many years of professional work.

He graduated from Harvard University and studied further at the universities of Marburg, Germany and Saint Andrews, Scotland. He received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Dartmouth College.

Dr. Chalmers held the pastorate at Port Huron, Michigan, and for ten years was minister of the First Church of Manchester, New Hampshire. In that State he was also very active in civic and political affairs and served as a member of the State Senate. Since 1920 he has been professor of history at Boston University. He is an outstanding authority on the affairs of the day and his interpretation of them in the light of strong religious convictions makes his message one of decided practical value.

The music for the service which starts at 10:30 will include organ selection by Miss Lillian West and vocal solos by Mrs. Nina Forde, soprano. On the first Sunday in September, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, minister of Central Church, will preach and begin the second year of his ministry in Newtonville.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

"The flying housewives" landed after being in the air for 196 hours and breaking the endurance flight record by a big margin. One of these heroines collapsed after landing; the other was unable to talk or walk and had to be carried to a nearby house and given a sedative. Now, here is something for other housewives to emulate and endeavor to equal or better. Such industrious application will improve the housework. The dishes will be washed and the rooms dusted so efficiently while the housewives are up in the air.

With all the ballyhoo about the eclipse it will be just too bad if next Wednesday is a rainy day.

QUITE A SCARE

The doctor looked down at his patient and shook his head doubtfully. "You say you have the same nightmare every night," he said, "what is it?"

"I dream that I'm married, doctor," said the pale-faced man.

"To whom?" inquired the doctor.

Bread, From Prehistoric

Times to the Present

However it came about, it seems likely that some ages after the discovery of fire, prehistoric man in his hunt for food found that by picking and eating the heads of the grain, that grew in the fields, he could satisfy his hunger. To avoid eating the whole plant, he learned to grind the grain a bit between stones, and it is apparent from the worn off teeth of mummies that he also ate some of the ground stone along with his grain. However, there we had the first flour.

To make the cracker grain go down better, some one thought of adding water, and, ergo, the first dough. A few generations later one of the youngsters grew careless and dropped some of his grain and water mixture on a hot stone. Every one looked and tasted—and started dripping more dough on more hot stones. They had discovered that bread was good.

Then one day a careless cave lady forgot and left her dough sitting out over night. She didn't know it, but in that time it picked up some wild yeast floating in the air. In the morning when she started to make up the day's dry, flat pancakes, she discovered that the batter bubbled and rose on baking and the bread was delightfully tender and moist instead of hard and dry. Then dough was left out over night—and leavened bread was born.

City of Halifax Linked

With American History

Halifax claims to be one of the most strongly fortified cities in the world. Its citadel, or Fort George, standing on an eminence above the city, took nearly thirty years to build. Its splendid harbor is spacious enough to hold the whole British fleet. Point Pleasant park is reserved by the crown for purposes of defense, but is leased to the city for a pleasure ground for the sum of a shilling a year for 99 years. Its Martello tower was built under the direction of the duke of Kent in 1796.

The Northwest arm, famous for its scenery, and its facilities for all kinds of aquatic sports, also boasts a memorial tower, built at the time of the advent of representative government in 1758.

St. Paul's church, Halifax, is the oldest Protestant church in Canada, and contains memorial tablets to such historic figures as Sir John Wentworth, a governor of New Hampshire before the Revolution, and afterward governor of Nova Scotia; and Right Reverend Charles Inglis, D. D., first Protestant Bishop of British North America.

Vaccine's Beginning

It must have been at a date almost coincident with Jesty's and Jenner's experiments with vaccine that Lady Mary Wortley Montagu brought to England the Turkish method of inoculation for smallpox, writes a correspondent to a London paper. The inoculation was not with vaccine, but with the poison of smallpox itself, as stated on her epitaph in Lichfield cathedral, in which Henrietta Inge, daughter of Sir John Wortley, wishes to express her gratitude to Lady Mary for the benefit she herself received from this " alleviating art which softens the virulence of this malignant disease." Lady Mary like Jesty, first tried the experiment of inoculation on her own family. The epitaph is dated 1739. For a time, one supposes, the two methods of inoculation went on side by side, but the Turkish method, proving injurious in too many cases, was dropped.—Detroit News.

Happy to Oblige

Two Englishmen in India spent their leave shooting bear. Their first day they had no luck until sundown, when one got a chance of a shot and killed. It transpired, however, the victim was an old native woman, and no bear. As they were discussing the matter the headman of the village appeared. They pointed out how sorry they were such an accident had happened, and offered to make a reparation. The headman suggested the sum of 200 rupees—or just over $50. Three years later they went to the same district again shooting bear. They arrived at the bungalow at night, and once again the same headman appeared. He made a simple request. "If you salubus have another 200 rupees, I have another old woman for you to shoot."

"Pilgrim Fathers"

The term "Pilgrim" is used in reference to the earliest immigrants to Massachusetts, but more especially to the settlers at Plymouth in 1620. The term must be distinguished from Puritan, which was that given to a body of religious reformers who sought to reform the Church of England. The Pilgrims were separatists from the first, who had already left England and formed an independent congregation in Leyden, whence they came to New England.

English "Public Schools"

The term "public school" does not mean the same in England that it does in the United States. Eton, Harrow, Winchester and the like are the famous public schools, but tuition is charged. The schools in England which compare with our own public schools are called "free schools." Only the poorer classes attend for the most part. They are not considered as having as high standards as the thousands of private schools in England.

Rotary Club

Captain Joseph Seaver of the Newton Police Department was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. He was introduced by Dr. Fred Lowe who told of having watched the advance of the popular Newton captain from a patrolman to his present position. Dr. Lowe intimated that but for the fact two officers of the Newton force having served longer than Capt. Seaver the latter would now be Chief of the department.

Captain Seaver told many interesting facts about the department opening with the statement that police protection was one of the basic fundamentals of American life and government. Such twenty-four hour protection in Newton costs less than seven cents of each dollar of taxes. He characterized the Newton force as the most loyal and efficient in the state of Massachusetts. The area covered by the Newton department is larger than the combined area of Somerville, Brookline and Cambridge. The presence of large estates, many homes, and considerable personal property in the way of jewelry and "bric-a-brac" make Newton the most valuable city in the Commonwealth. Additional service is rendered by the Newton police in looking after school children. For three hours each day forty men are detailed to this work at principal crossings throughout the city.

The patrolmen are on duty in three hour shifts with the day shift beginning at 8 a. m. and continuing to 6 p. m. The so-called "first half" of the night shift is from 6 p. m. to 1 a. m. and the "morning watch" is from 1 a. m. to 8 a. m. Radio cars are on duty from 6 p. m. to 8 a. m. with one additional car being on duty during the day. The system, which was installed several months ago, has resulted in much quicker and more efficient service. Captain Seaver stated. The department has additional equipment of motorcycles, ambulance, and patrol wagon which have their special uses.

Flashing signals on many patrol boxes throughout the city are used to increase the speed of the service through the ability to call officers to their boxes on sight of the signal. The teletype, which ties Newton up with 26 towns in Greater Boston is one of the principal assets of the department. Each letter on these messages is printed, and carries the time, date, and officer sending the message. The teletype system is also hooked up with all of the State Police barracks and with New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. It is hoped that in a short time the hook-up will be extended to reach into the Middle West and South.

Patrolmen are required to pull calls from the signal boxes every half hour with the light flashes being used for emergency between such calls. In some sections of Newton claxon horns have been installed for use during the day and as soon as the funds are available it is anticipated that more of this type of signal will be used. Patrolmen are equipped with riot guns, the regular police gun and tear-gas bombs for use when necessary. The tear-gas bomb is one of the most effective means of getting at any one barricaded themselves from the police. Captain Seaver also answered several questions relative to the detailed work of the radio cars, houses closed for the summer, and such matters.
